3 Workmen Entrapped In Nevada Silver Mine

Rescuers Clawing At Debris

Miners and rescue equipment clawed at the debris barrier between them and the trio at the Mohawk Mine, 35 miles west of Goldfield. A helicopter, an ambulance and a doctor stood by.

The trio were James Roberson, of Mina; Samuel Sickle, of Tonopah, and an unidentified Indian worker, all employes of the U. S. Mining and Milling Corp. The supply of air left in the section became a critical factor.

The narrow tunnel could not accomodate the number of volunteer workers who turned out for the rescue.

REMOTE

The mine is in a remote area, miles from the nearest telephone at Silver Peak.

"We don't know if we will find them in one day, one week or one month," said Jim White, manager of U. S. Mining and Milling.

Forty men working in three men, two-hour shifts inched their way through the rubble in the tunnel.

"There's more than 100 feet of dirt and rock, we don't know how much more, blocking the tunnel and the men are working in close quarters with mucking machines, picks and shovels," White said.

"There's a good chance they were killed before they knew what hit them," he said. "But we're going to keep digging around the clock on the assumption they are alive."

He said the victims were digging for silver ore when the wall caved in on them.

The miners have no food or water, and White said he doubted they could get any fresh air.

De Gaulle Stalling On Conference

May Wait Until France Blasts Initial A-Bomb

LONDON (UPI) — French President Charles de Gaulle is stalling on an East - West summit conference, possibly until France explodes its first atomic bomb and becomes a nuclear force with the other three great powers, an authoritative British source said Friday.

The United States and Britain have agreed that they should propose a summit meeting with Russia early in December and probably in Geneva, according to the informant. But France is holding up a joint western reply to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's summit overtures, he said.

In the diplomatic exchanges now taking place among officials in Washington, London and Paris, the French were said to be taking the line that there was no great haste about arranging a summit meeting.

EXCHANGES

The latest of these exchanges occurred Wednesday when French Ambassador Jean Chauvel conferred for an hour with British Foreign Secretarial Selwyn Lloyd.

Throughout the East-West Foreign Ministers Conference at Geneva last spring, France showed little enthusiasm for a summit meeting. French coolness again was evident in Premier Michel Debre's speech to the National assembly in Paris Tuesday when he warned that a summit parley should not be held unless success was assured.

British sources said there were these possible reasons for DeGaulle's reluctance to hold an early heads of government conference:

—Until France explodes a nuclear weapon, De Gaulle would be the only man among the Big Four at the summit table without nuclear backing.

—De Gaulle in any event would be the junior of the four summit leaders, a role that would not appeal to him and his program of restoring the glory of France.

Pet Skunk Here Develops Rabies, Lab Tests Show

The first case this year of a rabid skunk was discovered in Ouachita parish yesterday, Dr. W. Carroll Summer, head of the parish health unit, announced. The small animal was the pet of a family living at 1008 South Third street.

Mrs. Lee T. Cauthon notified the health unit that the animal was sick and foaming at the mouth. A test on the skunk proved positive.

Mrs. Cauthon said they had picked up the baby skunk three or four weeks ago in a wooded area on the Millhaven Road east of Monroe. Several days later it escaped and was staying around the house.

Although reports from other areas of the country have indicated a number of cases of rabies in skunks, this is the first reported in Northeast Louisiana this year. Last weekend the director of the state health department in New Orleans warned persons about capturing baby skunks and not taking the proper precautions against rabies.

Gen. Marshall Taken By Death

Says People Entitled To Better Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The doctrine of peaceful coexistence advocated by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev as offering a way out of the cold war was sharply challenged Friday by a U.S. spokesman.

The peoples of the world "are entitled to something better," Asst. Secretary of State Andrew H. Berding said.

Berding said the United States cannot accept an arrangement with the Soviet Union that would rule out the peoples in Communist nations the prospects of obtaining "true freedom, genuine national independence, and whatever form of government and economic and social institutions they wish."

"Peoples live, they do not simply coexist," Berding said in a speech to a meeting of the National Assn. of Broadcasters. "In the same way, nations should live and cooperate for the increasing welfare of their peoples; they should not simply coexist, albeit in peace."

FUTURE

Berding, assistant secretary of state for public affairs, described a summit conference "in the reasonably near future" as a distinct possibility. He predicted numerous visits of presidents and premiers to Washington and other world capitals in the months ahead.

Furthermore, he said that since a single summit meeting cannot be expected to solve all outstanding problems "we may have to have a series of such meetings in the years to come."

The greatest threat to world peace at present, Berding declared, results from the "expansionist aim, backed by fanatical policies of the Chinese Communists. The Soviet Union, he added has a responsibility as the leading nation of the Communist bloc to moderate Chinese Communist behavior.

STEEL STRIKE

Top Executives To Study Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Steel-workers Union made a compromise peace offer to the strike-bound steel industry Friday in a bid to avoid a court order to go back to work.

The union reportedly cut its money demands by about one-third. President David J. McDonald declined to spell out details.

Top industry executives promised to study the proposal. They arranged to meet Saturday morning in New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel to make their decision. Their answer is to be made known to the union here late Saturday.

An industry counteroffer would surprise nobody, since the union proposal for ending the 94-day strike reportedly left unsatisfied the management demand for more freedom in changing work practices to achieve manpower economies.

INCREASE

Highly placed sources said the union proposal contemplated a 21-cent-an-hour increase for the workers over a two-year period. This would include no wage boost but substantial insurance, pension and supplemental unemployment benefits during the first year, plus a sizable pay hike of about 10 cents an hour in the second year.

This amounted to roughly 10 cents an hour extra a year in contrast to the earlier union demand for approximately 15 cents an hour additional each year. Before the strike began, steelworkers averaged $3.11 an hour.

From all sides—from the government, from steel customers

Ouachita Valley Fair Attendance Spiral Reported

A large turnout at the Ouachita Valley Parish Fair last night pushed attendance for the exposition this week upwards into the 25,000 to 30,000 bracket.

He called it "a very successful week," and said that the turnout compares favorably with crowds in the past editions of the event.

Most of the exhibits will be on display during the weekend, although some of the livestock will begin moving out today.

Today has been designated Children's Day, with all rides reduced in price until 6 p.m. The midway will be in operation until midnight.

Brooks Predicts Man In Space Soon

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Rep. Overton Brooks (D-La) said today the United States will have a man in space probably early in 1961.

But Brooks, chairman of the House Space Committee, said Russia may beat this country by some 12 months getting a man into space.

Brooks was here to address the national convention of the Pershing Rifles, military honor society.

He said in an interview that inability to control the second and third stages of American space missiles is keeping the United States behind the Russians in the space program.

"Whoever controls space, controls the world," Brooks said.

The United States, he said, is following a policy of developing space vehicles for peaceful purposes.

The Louisiana Democrat said recent hearings by his committee revealed the Russians are firing intercontinental ballistic missiles from near Moscow 6,000 to 8,000 miles into the Pacific Ocean west of Hawaii.

The Russians are far ahead of vealed:

The Rssians are far ahead of the United States in the missile program.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Steel-workers Union made a compromise peace offer to the strike-bound steel industry Friday in a bid to avoid a court order to go back to work.

The union reportedly cut its money demands by about one-third. President David J. McDonald declined to spell out details.

Top industry executives promised to study the proposal. They arranged to meet Saturday morning in New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel to make their decision. Their answer is to be made known to the union here late Saturday.

An industry counteroffer would surprise nobody, since the union proposal for ending the 94-day strike reportedly left unsatisfied the management demand for more freedom in changing work practices to achieve manpower economies.

INCREASE

Highly placed sources said the union proposal contemplated a 21-cent-an-hour increase for the workers over a two-year period. This would include no wage boost but substantial insurance, pension and supplemental unemployment benefits during the first year, plus a sizable pay hike of about 10 cents an hour in the second year.

This amounted to roughly 10 cents an hour extra a year in contrast to the earlier union demand for approximately 15 cents an hour additional each year. Before the strike began, steelworkers averaged $3.11 an hour.

Ouachita Valley Fair Attendance Spiral Reported

A large turnout at the Ouachita Valley Parish Fair last night pushed attendance for the exposition this week upwards into the 25,000 to 30,000 bracket.

Fair manager John Birdsong said, "If it had not been for the weather Tuesday (rain) we would very possibly beat all past attendance records."

He called it "a very successful week," and said that the turnout compares favorably with crowds in the past editions of the event.

ON DISPLAY

Most of the exhibits will be on display during the weekend, although some of the livestock will begin moving out today.

Today has been designated Children's Day, with all rides reduced in price until 6 p.m. The midway will be in operation until midnight.

One of the highlights of today's action will be the awarding of dairy cattle by the Rotary Club and the West Monroe Civitan Club to two 4-H members, according to Elliott Branch, assistant Ouachita Parish County agent.

Also on the docket yesterday were demonstrations by Louisiana

Brooks Predicts Man In Space Soon

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Rep. Overton Brooks (D-La) said today the United States will have a man in space probably early in 1961.

But Brooks, chairman of the House Space Committee, said Russia may beat this country by some 12 months getting a man into space.

Brooks was here to address the national convention of the Pershing Rifles, military honor society.

He said in an interview that inability to control the second and third stages of American space missiles is keeping the United States behind the Russians in the space program.

"Whoever controls space, controls the world," Brooks said.

The United States, he said, is following a policy of developing space vehicles for peaceful purposes.

The Louisiana Democrat said recent hearings by his committee revealed the Russians are firing intercontinental ballistic missiles from near Moscow 6,000 to 8,000 miles into the Pacific Ocean west of Hawaii.

The Russians are far ahead of vealed:

Rescuers Clawing At Debris

Miners and rescue equipment clawed at the debris barrier between them and the trio at the Mohawk Mine, 35 miles west of Goldfield. A helicopter, an ambulance and a doctor stood by.

The trio were James Robertson, of Mina; Samuel Sickle, of Tonopah, and an unidentified Indian worker, all employes of the U. S. Mining and Milling Corp. The supply of air left in the section became a critical factor.

The narrow tunnel could not accomodate the number of volunteer workers who turned out for the rescue.

REMOTE

The mine is in a remote area, 25 miles from the nearest telephone at Silver Peak.

"We don't know if we will find them in one day, one week or one month," said Jim White, manager of U. S. Mining and Milling.

Forty men working in three-men, two-hour shifts inched their way through the rubble in the tunnel.

"There's more than 100 feet of dirt and rock, we don't know how much more, blocking the tunnel, and the men are working in close quarters with mucking machines, picks and shovels," White said.

"There's a good chance they were killed before they knew what hit them," he said. "But we're going to keep digging around the clock on the assumption they are alive."

He said the victims were digging for silver ore when the wall caved in on them.

The miners have no food or water, and White said he doubted they could get any fresh air.

Gen. Marshall Taken By Death

grave danger, we are lastingly in his debt."

Marshall's death must be especially poignant to Eisenhower, because Marshall is generally credited with plucking Eisenhower from obscurity at the outset of World War II and starting him upward toward becoming supreme Allied commander in Europe.

A native of Uniontown, Pa., Marshall graduated from historic Virginia Military Institute and went on to become one of the few non-West Pointers to achieve top rank in the Army.

Eisenhower issued a proclamation ordering that the flag be flown at half-staff upon all public buildings and grounds, at military posts and naval stations, and on naval vessels until after his funeral.

The hospital announced that Marshall died at 6:08 p.m.

The Defense Department said funeral arrangements may not be announced until Saturday.

Illnesses had plagued Marshall in the twilight, pipe and slipper years. After suffering a mild stroke at his Pinehurst home, he was rushed to Womack Army Hospital at Ft. Bragg, N.C. Mrs. Marshall was beside him daily.

The general suffered a second, more serious stroke Feb. 17. But by March 11 he was able to fly to Washington and enter Walter Reed Hospital.

For Marshall, there were fame and world acclaim in his lifetime.

He knew and worked with great men of many nations. Former Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Britain and the late Premier Joseph Stalin of the Soviet Union both considered Marshall so talented that they favored his appointment as supreme commander of Allied forces in the west for the invasion of Europe.

They had met Marshall at Allied war councils, by the side of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Eisenhower, who achieved his greatest military role under Marsall's command, put Marshall "in the class I call great," typifying, he said, "all that we look for in an American patriot."

Former President Harry S. Truman once called Marshall "the greatest living American." Truman cited him publicly as heading the list of "the great commanders of history."

The general was by no means immune to criticism. But his critics were a decided minority. And toward them Marshall maintained a stony aloofness.

Former Sen. William Jenner (R-Ind) opposed Marshall's nomination to be secretary of defense in 1950. He called Marshall a living lie and a stooge for Truman's secretary of state, Dean Acheson. He said Marshall "is not only willing, he is eager to play the role of the front man for traitors."

The late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis), who leveled accusations of communism at numerous people in the government and outside, once told the Senate that in Allied councils Marshall was inclined to follow the Soviet rather than the British point of view. McCarthy said Marshall was "steeped in faleshood."

The general who had a vital role in those councils never replied publicly.

Marshall wasn't the combat hero type of soldier. He was more the planning type, strong on vital staff work.

Early in his career, superiors pointed to him as something of a coming genius. The American commander, Gen. John J. Pershing, singled him out for attention in World War I and once described him as the finest officer of that vast conflict.

On Sept. 1, 1939, the day Nazi hordes attacked Poland and struck the match to World War II, Marshall was elevated over 32 seniors to the post of Army chief of staff. All through the war, he was America's top ranking soldier, spotting and directing the way toward ultimate victory over Germany and Japan.

When victory finally came in 1945, Marshall doffed his uniform. He was nearly 65. He had put nearly 45 of his years into military service to his country. He looked longingly toward the serenity of his home at Leesburg, Va., and his winter place in North Carolina.

A stern, austere man with piercing blue eyes, Marshall expected subordinates to jump when he spoke. He could be angry and forbidding on occasion.

But at home he was soft and gentle. He liked to leaf through a good book or take a hoe in hand in the garden.

Before he could settle down to leisure and ease as a retired officer, a tap came quickly on the shoulder. President Truman wanted him. Marshall went off on a fruitless mission as Truman's personal ambassador to try to bring a satisfactory end to civil war in China.

While he was on the way home 13 months later, word came through from the White House that he had been named secretary of state. For two years Marshall held down a job he considered more challenging in some respects than his duties as Army chief of staff.

He had stepped into a new field, he explained. War was difficult, but he knew war—"That was my business, my profession. I had worked at it all my life."

To efforts to set the world on the path to peace, Marshall devoted more of the wearing toil and firmness he had applied to an illustrious military career.

This was a period in which America took a tough stance toward the spread of communism by any form of aggression, direct or indirect.

The "Truman Doctrine" of economic and military aid was laid down, to tell the Reds to stay out of Greece and Turkey. The Marshall Plan itself emerged in 1947. The North Atlantic Treaty Organization, still the main Western bulwark against the Communist world, began to take form.

Firm to the point that critics said he was undermining the chances of a cold war settlement, Marshall rejected "agreement for agreement's sake."

In words that sound much like the Eisenhower of today, Marshall told Congress in 1948:

"Diplomatic action, without the backing of military strength in the present world, can lead only to appeasement."

Marshall set something of a pattern, too, for the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, with frequent flights to international conferences in Moscow, Bogota, London ad Paris with appearances at United Nations sessions.

In Bogota, Marshall stayed on through the worst of a violent revolution. Out of the conference there of the diplomats of Western Hemisphere nations came the Inter-American Defense Pact branding aggression against one of its members aggression against all.

In three great wars and in two Cabinet posts, Marshal had served his country with distinction. He was a key craftsman of U.S. strategy and policy in World War II in the baffling cold war with the Soviet Union, and in the conflict in Korea against Asiatic Reds.

Deputy Loses Position Over Hunting Count

BASTROP (Special) — Deputy sheriff James Nealy has been relieved of his duties with the sheriff's department following his arrest on an illegal hunting charge.

Nealy confirmed last night that Sheriff E. L. (Red) Hinton had let him go. Game warden Walter Langston said he charged Nealy with illegal possession of five squirrels Wednesday. Nealy serves also as the town marshal of Mer Rouge.

Mrs. Eunice Kennedy, 48, of Mer Rouge, was charged with bribery in the case. Mrs. Kennedy said she was with Nealy at the time he was apprehended with the game.

Mrs. Kennedy reported she said to Langston, what will the fine be? If it's not over $100, I'll go ahead and pay it off."

ON BOND

Both Nealy and Mrs. Kennedy are free on bond.

Warden Langston refused to talk about the charge against Mrs. Kennedy, a divorcee. He said, "I don't know anything about that."

Nealy and Mrs. Kennedy were stopped by Langston as they were riding through a pasture in the Mer Rouge area in a jeep.

Sheriff's Department officials would not give out any information. Sheriff Hinton could not be reached by telephone.

Boy Scout Leader Believes In Job

ing scout camps in western Pennsylvania.

He has been a full-time scout executive ever since.

"I decided then that a man can do many things with his money, but he has to invest his life in something he believes in," Brunton said.

His talent and work persuaded the Greater New York Council of the Boy Scouts that he was the leader they needed, and in 1944 he went to New York as chief executive.

Brunton unified fund raising activities in the New York area and instituted a series of "dawn patrol breakfasts," the purpose of which were to gather contributions from local businessmen and to have famous Americans address them on the ideals of scouting.

"Thanks to the generous contributions of the members of local Boy Scout councils, we have been able to construct 60 million dollars worth of camps throughout the United States," Brunton said.

In 1952, Brunton joined the staff of the National Council and came here when the council opened its new national headquarters in New Brunswick in 1953.

He became assistant chief scout executive two years ago.

Brunton outlined the task that faces him as follows:

"We've got to teach the kids to be articulate and to understand what American's believe. They've got to stop taking things like religion and liberty for granted.

"The Boy Scouts of America will have to call on all the decent and constructive forces in America to work with our youths—to give them once again the feeling for America's mission in the world."

The Boy Scouts of America now have 3,700,000 members and 1,300,000 adult volunteers.

Spokesman Hits View Of Khrush

the Soviet Union is sincere in wanting to safeguard the peace, it has the leverage through the oft-claimed monolithic nature of the Communist camp, to insure a measure of responsibility on the part of the Chinese Communists.

"In pointing out this obvious fact we are not engaged in any mischief-making. The issues at stake are too serious for that. We simply believe that to remain silent in the face of the present anomoly presented by the Communist world would be to encourage duplicitous conduct affecting all the important issue of war and peace."

In effect Berding argued that the degree of sincerity behind Khrushchev's talk about ending the cold war must be judged ot only by the actions of the Soviet Union but also by the actions of Red China.

His criticism of Khrushchev's doctrine of peaceful coexistence was one of the strongest and most direct yet made by a ranking U.S. official and one of the few in the weeks since the Camp David conference between President Eisenhower and Khrushchev.

The phrase, Berding said, has a "seductive flavor." But he said it does not mean peace as Americans understand it but rather a prolonged armistice between East and West during which political, ideological and economic struggles continue.

Also, Berding said, the Soviet Union intends under peaceful coexistence to wage a relentless campaign for the ultimate triumph of communism over the world if in the meantime the Western powers were to become militarily weak and disunited, Berding said, peaceful coexistence "would probably become less peaceful."

"People are entitled to something better than peaceful coexistence," he said. "The world should not be divided into blocs, even though they do not shoot at each other. Nations should be independent and nations, rather than blocs, should beat peace with one another."

Berding said the United States has given the Soviet Union solemn assurance that it does not wish to turn other Communist nations against Moscow nor "impose the American way of life upon them."

"But we do desire for their peoples true freedom, genuine national independence and the ability to establish whatever form of government and economic and social institutions they wish. We cannot accept a status quo which makes this impossible."

Scalped Girl Dies Following Long Operation

Saints Hospital here for advice. He told them to put the scalp in a cool salt solution.

On her arrival, surgeons worked over her for six hours.

They attached her ears, eyebrows and eyelids to the abdomen, hoping they would grow and later could be transplanted to the face and head. They wanted this to succeed because "no one can make an ear like God."

Skin was taken from the abdomen and thigh to cover the neck, cheeks and jawbone.

A spokesman reported Thursday on Christene's progress saying he was pleased with the success of the operation. He said Christene's morale was good and her condition was good, considering the extent of the scalping. He added that she was mentally alert.

"This was the most extensive scalping I have seen where the patient has lived," he said.

The surgeon has told of plans to remove a layer of skull to bare blood vessels which would provide a field for skin grafting.

What caused her death? No one is quite certain.

A hospital spokesman said she probably died from heart failure due to shock. Another possibility, he said, was brain damage.

sile shot probably did land on the moon as the Soviets claim.

At least one billion dollars will be needed to finance the United States space program in 1960-61. Compared with 800 million this fiscal year.

Eventually all the missile and space projectile programs of branches off the armed services will have to be consolidated under the National Aviation and Space Administration, now the overall supervising agency.

Brooks said Baton Rouge in the next few years will have missile installations to protect industrial empire. He said Nike - Hercules missile stations will be located at Baton Rouge, New Orleans and Lake Charles.

Work will be completed about April 15, 1960, on two missile batteries at Bellevue and Stonewall near Shreveport. Each battery costs about 2½ million dollars, he said.

Brooks said plans call for first firing a man up to 100 miles then gradually increasing the height of ascent.

Brooks said the United States' use of satellite weather space stations is pushing ahead long-range forecasting of weather.

If weather can be predicted far ahead enough, he said, about two billion dollars can be saved annually in the Lower Mississippi Valley alone and four billion all over the nation.

He said such accurate weather forecasting woud permit planned crop planting, emptying of watersheds ahead of heavy upriver rains—and even scheduling of football games on non-rainy days.

Crowned queen was Eloise Granberry, who was escorted by Don Hardy and Bobby Cotson, cocaptains of the Bastrop Ram football team.

Other members of the court were Mary Beth Crowe, Margaret Babin, Laney Ware, and Margaret Freeland. During the afternoon there was a colorful parade including floats. Spectators were very enthusiastic.

Last night, the alumni was entertained at a banquet at the high school cafeteria.

Deputy Loses Position Over Hunting Count

BASTROP (Special) — Deputy sheriff James Nealy has been relieved of his duties with the sheriff's department following his arrest on an illegal hunting charge.

Nealy confirmed last night that Sheriff E. L. (Red) Hinton had let him go. Game warden Walter Langston said he charged Nealy with illegal possession of five squirrels Wednesday. Nealy serves also as the town marshal of Mer Rouge.

Mrs. Eunice Kennedy, 48, of Mer Rouge, was charged with bribery in the case. Mrs. Kennedy said she was with Nealy at the time he was apprehended with the game.

Mrs. Kennedy reported she said to Langston, what will the fine be? If it's not over $100, I'll go ahead and pay it off."

ON BOND

Both Nealy and Mrs. Kennedy are free on bond.

Warden Langston refused to talk about the charge against Mrs. Kennedy, a divorcee. He said, "I don't know anything about that."

Nealy and Mrs. Kennedy were stopped by Langston as they were riding through a pasture in the Mer Rouge area in a jeep.

ing scout camps in western Pennsylvania.

He has been a full-time scout executive ever since.

"I decided then that a man can do many things with his money, but he has to invest his life in something he believes in," Brunton said.

His talent and work persuaded the Greater New York Council of the Boy Scouts that he was the leader they needed, and in 1944 he went to New York as chief executive.

Brunton unified fund raising activities in the New York area and instituted a series of "dawn patrol breakfasts," the purpose of which were to gather contributions from local businessmen and to have famous Americans address them on the ideals of scouting.

"Thanks to the generous contributions of the members of local Boy Scout councils, we have been able to construct 60 million dollars worth of camps throughout the United States," Brunton said.

In 1952, Brunton joined the staff of the National Council and came here when the council opened its new national headquarters in New Brunswick in 1953.

He became assistant chief scout executive two years ago.

Brunton outlined the task that faces him as follows:

"We've got to teach the kids to be articulate and to understand what American's believe. They've got to stop taking things like religion and liberty for granted.

"The Boy Scouts of America will have to call on all the decent and constructive forces in America to work with our youths—to give them once again the feeling for America's mission in the world."

The Boy Scouts of America now have 3,700,000 members and 1,300,000 adult volunteers.

the Soviet Union is sincere in wanting to safeguard the peace, it has the leverage through the oft-claimed monolithic nature of the Communist camp, to insure a measure of responsibility on the part of the Chinese Communists.

"In pointing out this obvious fact we are not engaged in any mischief-making. The issues at stake are too serious for that. We simply believe that to remain silent in the face of the present anomoly presented by the Communist world would be to encourage duplicitous conduct affecting all the important issue of war and peace."

In effect Berding argued that the degree of sincerity behind Khrushchev's talk about ending the cold war must be judged ot only by the actions of the Soviet Union but also by the actions of Red China.

His criticism of Khrushchev's doctrine of peaceful coexistence was one of the strongest and most direct yet made by a ranking U.S. official and one of the few in the weeks since the Camp David conference between President Eisenhower and Khrushchev.

The phrase, Berding said, has a "seductive flavor." But he said it does not mean peace as Americans understand it but rather a prolonged armistice between East and West during which political, ideological and economic struggles continue.

Also, Berding said, the Soviet Union intends under peaceful coexistence to wage a relentless campaign for the ultimate triumph of communism over the world if in the meantime the Western powers were to become militarily weak and disunited, Berding said, peaceful coexistence "would probably become less peaceful."

"People are entitled to something better than peaceful coexistence," he said. "The world should not be divided into blocs, even though they do not shoot at each other. Nations should be independent and nations, rather than blocs, should beat peace with one another."

Berding said the United States has given the Soviet Union solemn assurance that it does not wish to turn other Communist nations against Moscow nor "impose the American way of life upon them."

"But we do desire for their peoples true freedom, genuine national independence and the ability to establish whatever form of government and economic and social institutions they wish. We cannot accept a status quo which makes this impossible."

Scalped Girl Dies Following Long Operation

Saints Hospital here for advice. He told them to put the scalp in a cool salt solution.

On her arrival, surgeons worked over her for six hours.

They attached her ears, eyebrows and eyelids to the abdomen, hoping they would grow and later could be transplanted to the face and head. They wanted this to succeed because "no one can make an ear like God."

Skin was taken from the abdomen and thigh to cover the neck, cheeks and jawbone.

A spokesman reported Thursday on Christene's progress saying he was pleased with the success of the operation. He said Christene's morale was good and her condition was good, considering the extent of the scalping. He added that she was mentally alert.

"This was the most extensive scalping I have seen where the patient has lived," he said.

The surgeon has told of plans to remove a layer of skull to bare blood vessels which would provide a field for skin grafting.

What caused her death? No one is quite certain.

A hospital spokesman said she probably died from heart failure due to shock. Another possibility, he said, was brain damage.

sile shot probably did land on the moon as the Soviets claim.

At least one billion dollars will be needed to finance the United States space program in 1960-61. Compared with 800 million this fiscal year.

Eventually all the missile and space projectile programs of branches off the armed services will have to be consolidated under the National Aviation and Space Administration, now the overall supervising agency.

Brooks said Baton Rouge in the next few years will have missile installations to protect industrial empire. He said Nike-Hercules missile stations will be located at Baton Rouge, New Orleans and Lake Charles.

Work will be completed about April 15, 1960, on two missile batteries at Bellevue and Stonewall near Shreveport. Each battery costs about 2½ million dollars, he said.

Brooks said plans call for first firing a man up to 100 miles then gradually increasing the height of ascent.

Brooks said the United States' use of satellite weather space stations is pushing ahead long-range forecasting of weather.

If weather can be predicted far ahead enough, he said, about two billion dollars can be saved annually in the Lower Mississippi Valley alone and four billion all over the nation.

He said such accurate weather forecasting woud permit planned crop planting, emptying of watersheds ahead of heavy upriver rains—and even scheduling of football games on non-rainy days.

Time For Vaccinations

Fortunately, thus far this fall, northeast Louisiana has been comparatively free of such autumn and winter ailments as influenza. This is probably due partly to the fact that the weather most of the time has been practically ideal, with only a few sudden changes.

Now that winter is approaching, however, the public health service is reminding Americans that it is again the time of year for anti-inflluenza vaccinations.

Surgeon General Burney of the health service says his department believes that the predominant type of flu this fall and winter will be the Asian strain, rather than "influenza B," last year's troublemaker. When Asian flu was first reported prevalent in this country it was feared it might be more serious than ordinary types of influenza and there was considerable uneasiness but this soon diminished as the epidemic was brought under control without any extremely serious consequences as far as most of the public was concerned.

While no major epidemics are anticipated, the public health service is urging persons in four groups to consider vaccination a "must." The groups include those more than 55 years of age with chronic ailments, persons with cardiovascular or pulmonary conditions, persons responsible for the care of the sick, and such public service workmen as policemen, firemen and transportation and communication employes.

The public health service, for a number of years, collaborating with the American Medical Association and other scientific groups, has rendered outstanding service to the nation by anticipating the incidence of certain diseases and spelling out such preventive measures as can be taken. Without detracting from the urgency of its warnings and advice, it has avoided sensational, scare-head forecasts.

Everyone knows that in the fall and winter, colds and influenza are the most common causes of illness and loss of working time. Some of those who are especially prone have several loss-of-time attacks in a single season. This not only cuts down on their efficiency as workers but the medical treatment that is required is far more expensive than the preventive vaccinations.

We have just passed through the polio season, where incidence was kept at a fairly low rate through vaccination, although there were indications that this year would have been a bad one for polio except for the Salk vaccine.

The old adage, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," which has been applied to practically every known phase of activity, originated in the health field. It certainly was never more true than now, when vaccines make our methods of prevention far more effective than ever before.

All of those persons in the categories mentioned should pay particular attention to the public health service warning and should avail themselves of the opportunity for protection. Anyone who wants to guard against the ever-present danger of flu attacks would do well to take the same steps.

Britian Revises Thinking

Unfortunately, the trend of thinking which brought socialized medicine to England is shared in some quarters of this country. This type of misguided thinking can only lead to heavy-handed controls from a distant and impersonal federal government.

According to figures gathered by the National Association of Manufacturers, polls taken recently of young people in the United States show a lean toward nationalization of railroads, utilities and other basic industries as well as medicine and health.

Actually, nothing would be more harmful to the business, industry and health of the American people.

While no poll of opinion is possible in Russia, Britons have voiced they want to "back out" of the movement which pushed for greater nationalization a decade ago.

Of nearly 2 million Britons interviewed, 63.5 per cent want no more nationalization of any sort. Of the remainder, 18.6 wanted additional "liberal" measures and 17.9 per cent had no opinion.

Oddly enough, 41.7 per cent of the Labour Party which instituted the socialized reforms in the first place, wanted no more of it. Only 36.2 per cent of the laborites wanted more socialization and 22.1 per cent expressed no opinion.

Industries which had made profits turned in losses when the government took over. Those which experienced small losses turned in larger ones. Strikes have been as frequent as before and what used to be headaches of management and stockholders, turned out to be national burdens.

In the field of medicine, the matter of illness—normally a highly personal matter—has become "everybody's business" in England. Most frequently objected to is the government health service's practice of assigning any doctor available when one is needed.

One of the precious elements in U. S. medical practice is the friendly, confidential relationship between physician and patient. True, not all cases represent this ideal but the patient's free choice in the matter has kept an attitude of good will high on every doctor's list of "musts." Conversely, a physician may also exercise his free choice in deciding whether or not he wants to take a case.

Recent figures show with all the disadvantages of the British naional health scheme, the system even costs more than the old private practice.

It is little wonder that Birtain is gradually retreating from socialism and all the more wonder that anyone in the United States would consider any steps which would bring this country closer to controls through the federal government.

Overheard: "A little niece of mine explains everything that mystifies her by saying it's magic." (Don't we all?)

Optimists are lazier than perssimists. They expect the best in order to excuse themselves from preparing for the worst.

"Railroads are considering discontinuing dining cars." — Trade note. It seems railroads have never been too happy about hauling and serving passengers.

A Hailey, Idaho, farmer missed a rat he shot at in his barn, but killed him anyway, as he hit a box of dynamite which exploded and destroyed the barn. It is understood that since then he has been spending considerable time either at target practice or kicking himself.

Temporarily Important

Politicians, Actors, Singers, Murderers, Gangsters And Others Often Become Suddenly Prominent

It does happen that some persons become temporarily important. Politicians, actors, singers, murderers, gangsters — all sorts of persons achieve the state of appearing to be important for a few years. Then, of course, they, like the rest of us, subside in the dust of oblivion which is, indeed, irksome.

The immediate problem is whether to have or not to have a modern, fancy self-operated elevator and the agitation becomes frenzied. Some important ones are fearful that an unattended elevator will be an invitation for criminals to bop them over their heads and steal their jewels. Of course, the criminals can do the same if the elevator is attended, because nowadays with full employment and nobody hungry, the ablest men go where the money flows more freely. Running an elevator in an apartment house is not the most inviting job, particularly if the tenants are slow to tip.

In fact, tipping is a big issue in such matters. It is a fundamental, sanctified custom from which one departs at his peril. In the old days, it used to be said that an untipped waiter put his thumb in the soup when the customer came again, but nowadays, we do not eat much soup, except out of cans at home to save the labor of a wife. But a clever waiter can always get even, like spilling a sauce on a customer's suit or giving him a table near the kitchen door, or refusing him a table altogether.

Everybody expects a tip and those who, even around Christmas time, forget the customs of civilization, will know it. So, competent, polite, attentive, energetic, valise-carrying elevator men prefer to go where the reputation is that the tips are generous and often. Those who complain loudest about the service they get are usually the least tippers, if at all.

Now I am not absolutely positive that an automatic elevator is best for children, certainly not for children reared by progressive parents who spare the child and ruin its manners. Such children will go up and down and play in an elevator as though it were a toy and there would be no one about to spank them. Unless a child is spanked, he never believes that what he is doing is wrong, children not knowing right from wrong until they are told and the right is enforced by drastic means. The wickedest of improperly reared children can be a menace in such an elevator, but a good, strong spanking can save such a child from delinquency.

However, as old-age pensions and other welfare provisions become increasingly devastating in our world, more and more jobs will become unfillable. It is like trained cooks who are disappearing altogether from the domestic market, or those who are willing to take such jobs stipulate conditions which make it easier for the housewife to provide her own indigestion. Therefore, we might as well take our automatic elevators in good grace as something about as inevitable as the electric light and the sewing machine.

Our standard of living rises, but it is not being sustained by what used to be called, "help." The "help" want their standards of life to rise, too, and they object to doing the menial jobs upon which a society of ease must rest. Besides, they have become very expensive. And so, willy-nilly, we shall have automatic, self-service elevators and the progressive brats will have to be spanked for their misuse or they will probably be killed. A spanking can save their lives. It has been known to be very good for the soul. If the children cannot be cured, perhaps the parents can be.

The temporarily important persons fear being mugged or robbed or kidnaped by those who are jealous of their temporary success in life. Only those who have no successful ancestors fear the consequences of good fortune. Those with ancestors know that nothing is permanent and least of all, wealth which rolls away and is lost in a few generations. Even the names of the Four Hundred are forgotten in this era of cafe society when headwaiters determine who is significant and rates a preferred table. The great names of yesteryear hardly carry a decibel. Today's notorious become tomorrow's ordinary and celebrities rarely outlive their press agents.

That some become temporary celebrities is what is so often called democracy, which it is not. What it amounts to is that among free men the quality of human beings is not measured by some advantage of style but by permanent contributions, as, for instance, the genius of Benjamin Franklin or the nobility of Abraham Lincoln, whose mother was surely not of the moneyed aristocracy. But the truly great require no privilege; they are chosen.

Steel Power War

Unions And Industry Locked In Battle Over Who Will Be Boss

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Labor strikes are regarded by objective observers (there are still a few) as indicating one of two sets of conditions in bad times, a revolt against intolerable situations imposed by Management; in good times, a power play on the part of the Labor leaders.

In the steel industry and on the shipping wharves, the first condition simply does not exist. Prosperity reigns in these two economic areas. The workers are well paid and well protected. The public fully understands that these strikes are a contest for power. The walk-outs were called by the union chiefs for the purpose of obtaining more control over men and money. This is not, as if often pictured, an insidious inequity on the part of Labor leaders. It is the classic reason for nearly all massive struggles, including national politics and international war. It if is sinful, it is also commonplace.

But there is a special point here, often reiterated, but hardly susceptible of over - emphasis. A third party is involved. An innocent bystander is catching undeserved punishment — the American public. What's more, this is a time in history when the American public has asserted its unwillingness to be the fall guy between Management and Labor. The 86th Congress, now in recess, passed an astonishingly severe law to curb the effronteries of Labor leaders. It is a bill that would never have passed in depression times when public sympathy goes blindly to those who live by wages. It is a law born amid general prosperity, urged by a President with Big Business associations, pushed through Congress by a conservative coalition of Western Republicans like Senator Goldwater (Ariz.) and Rep. Griffin (Mich.) in alliance with Southern Democrats like Senator McClellan (Ark.) and Rep. Landrum (Ga.) This coalition could not have succeeded except by the demand of an aroused public.

Well, it won't be very long before Congress returns with the same President, the same coalition, backed by the same American public. The latter's irritation may very well be heightened by the series of strikes which is affecting a greater number of bystanders each day.

A reasonable forecast might be that the second session of the 86th Congress will go even further in strengthening the Labor laws. Also, it is becoming predictable that the 1960 election is going to be one where Labor-Management - Government affairs stand high among the issues. Let's consider what this forecast could mean in specifics:

Two additional methods of curbing Labor leaders were discussed before Congress left town. Senator McClellan made it plain that he might ask for anti-trust laws against monopolistic unions. A number of Republicans have, less openly, discussed a plan for a National Right to Work Law or Constitutional Amendment. This plan would outlaw what is known by Labor as union shops and by Management as compulsory unionism.

In the weeks since Congress and Mr. K. departed, legislative analysts have had time to dissect the numerous bills and amendments which went to make up the Labor - Management Reporting and Disclosure Act of 1959. People who read these detailed dissections and reports (at least planning articles about them) will see who stood for what. It is incontestable that Senator Kennedy fought all the way for little legislative gimmicks which favored Labor leaders. Most of these were finally thrown out by the coalition.

On the other side, Senators McClellan and Goldwater, with Minority Leader Halleck and possibly Vice President Nixon in the background, seem to have done the most to give the new Labor law its present form.

Next year's session and next year's election will decide who was right and who was wrong in American public opinion.

BASCOM TIMMONS

Budget In 1961

Bureau Busily Engaged In Preparation Of Spending Proposals

The Budget Bureau is busily engaged in the preparation of a budget for the next fiscal year, which President Eisenhower will submit to congress in January. It will be called the budget for fiscal 1961.

There is unusual interest in it for it is the last budget in the participation of which the Eisenhower administration will figure. As the expenditures in fiscal 1961 will begin on July 1, 1960, the new budget will encompass approximately 6 months and 20 days of the Eisenhower administration and 5 months and 10 days of the next administration, whether it be Republican or Democratic.

Interest has especially been heightened by the reports that important administration figures have, and probably President Eisenhower himself has, a hardened attitude on foreign aid. There seems little question that the administration will make up its mind how much to ask congress for foreign aid only after all other phases of the budget are decided. And before it does make up its mind there are going to be some earnest discussions between the highest officials of this country and of our Allies.

Secretary of Treasury Robert B. Anderson, who increasingly has become to be looked upon as the strong man of the administration, gave a hint of what was in the wind in his address to the annual meeting of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund.

Specifically we want our Allies, who have grown prosperous, to take a big part in aid to undeveloped countries. We also want them to lower the barriers they have put up against our exports. These things will be talked over between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, fresh from a smashing British election victory, and with other western European countries.

There has long been insistence in congress for this policy, but a doubt that western Europe would agree to it. During the debate on the foreign aid program, Senator Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana, after asserting that since the end of World War II congress had appropriated $83 billion for foreign aid, said:

"If the nations of western Europe had accepted the original purpose of the Marshall plan, they would now be helping us in our endeavor to develop the backward nations of the world. But this is not happening. These countries of Western Europe are presently enjoying unparalleled economic prosperity, yet they still have their hands out and are looking for more aid. What is more, we are fast losing our gold reserves to the very people who are receiving our aid, our dollars."

Some sources have tabulated figures to show that in government aid, private aid and private investment the United States has exported $300 billion abroad to put the non - Communist world back on its feet.

President Eisenhower, even when he was urging economy and expenditure cutting elsewhere, has insisted on more foreign aid than congress was willing to appropriate, or reluctantly, appropriated. At the recent session of congress he threatened to call a special session if foreign aid was trimmed. But when congress cut a chunk out of it the president signed the bill and has no intention of calling a special session.

There is significance that the bill reached his desk at just about the time there began to be a feeling among some very important Eisenhower administration officials that the United States may have helped the world so much that we, the helper, are hurt.

Certainly there was this implication in Secretary Anderson's speech to the World Bank in which he stated that our deficit in international payments is in the neighborhood of $4.5 billion this year. We have been running this deficit since 1957 and the resulting loss in our gold reserves has been alarming. The dollar could soon become of dubious value.

Both the proponents and the opponents of foreign aid are now agreed that we must bring an end to these deficits in balances of payment and gold losses. When foreign countries obtain more dollars than they spend to buy American goods they can take the difference in gold or can keep it in dollars and invest them in the financial markets in this country. These invested dollars, of course, are potential claims against gold. A recent figure showed that these potential claims amounted to $15,561,000,000, which was uncomfortably close to the gold reserve which had dwindled to $19,524,000,000.

A recognition that a nation's reserves, chiefly gold, and its current payments position set the limits of its foreign aid is the reason this country is going to have some frank talks with western Europe and probably with Japan before this last budget of the Eisenhower administration goes to congress.

Pains In Chest

Suffering On Left Side Unlikely To Indicate Angina Pectoris

Many anxious people are fearful that they are suffering from angina because they have experienced occasional pain in the left side of the chest. So convinced are they that they have the "real thing" that they are too frightened to go to their doctor to learn the truth.

"Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Would you please tell me if occasional pain in the chest, usually on the left side and not severe, is a symptom of angina pectoris? I am in my late 60's, but have always been active and in splendid health. But I have two sisters with heart trouble, and my mother had it for many years. If these pains are an indication of angina, I would like to be as careful as is necessary.

"I never have occasion to see a doctor and I believe one would think me foolish if I told him what I am telling you." — W. A.

COMMENT: Except in a very few cases, left chest pain is not associated with any form of heart disease. This is especially so when angina comes under consideration. The classical form of anginal pain is a squeezing construction under the chest (sub sternal) or across the chest. The pain may radiate down one or both arms.

The fear and discomfort associated with angina usually come after a heavy meal, after exertion, or after heightened emotion. The pain disappears after the patient stops his exertion (walking, running, etc.,) It usually responds to nitroglycerine.

There are thousands of persons like you, W. A., who suffer unnecessarily from imaginary heart trouble. They make their own diagnos[illegible] and live "scared" for the rest of their lives.

A complete cardiological check up would alleviate their fears. No understanding doctor will consider you "foolish" for coming in for a check up.

THE WORK YOU LIKE TAKES LESS OUT OF YOU

Mr. I. M. of Miami, Florida, has had a heart condition for years. "I know how to handle it and get along real well," he writes. "One thing I have discovered is that I get tired doing the things I don't like to do (Take care of the lawn-; but I can play nine holes of golf without feeling at all tired. Is there anything in this?"

ANSWER: A child will play "hard" and not complain. Give him some chores to do that he dislikes and most parents know how he will react. The same is true in the cases of most adults.

Dr. Edward E. Gordon of the University of Illinois has recommended that we consider two factors: duration of work load and accompanying emotional stress.

He says: "Many cardiacs will be able to accomplish higher energy tasks that would appear compatible with their condition, providing activity is interrupted frequently." He also stated: "Moreover, it is probably commonplace to find a patient developing cardiac symptoms when thrown into a light but undesirable task, yet able to carry on manifestly greater exertion without difficulty under other, pleasant circumstances."

Daily Devotional

We took sweet counsel together and walked into the house of God in company. — Psalm 55:14.

If a person wants his children or friends to go to church and Sunday school, the best method is to do it together. It would be a great thing for our churches if families would attend as groups—and at the same time invite and transport at least one other person. Amazed preachers would soon find themselves with standing room only and would have to provide not one, but two or three services, each Sunday. Such increased interest would go a long way toward solving many church financial problems.

Gracious Father, lead us to be more loyal members of the church and to develop the grace of evangelism. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

Only those who have no successful ancestors fear the consequences of good fortune. Those with ancestors know that nothing is permanent and least of all, wealth which rolls away and is lost in a few generations. Even the names of the Four Hundred are forgotten in this era of cafe society when headwaiters determine who is significant and rates a preferred table. The great names of yesteryear hardly carry a decibel. Today's notorious become tomorrow's ordinary and celebrities rarely outlive their press agents.

That some become temporary celebrities is what is so often called democracy, which it is not. What it amounts to is that among free men the quality of human beings is not measured by some advantage of style but by permanent contributions, as, for instance, the genius of Benjamin Franklin or the nobility of Abraham Lincoln, whose mother was surely not of the moneyed aristocracy. But the truly great require no privilege; they are chosen.

Steel Power War

Unions And Industry Locked In Battle Over Who Will Be Boss

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Labor strikes are regarded by objective observers (there are still a few) as indicating one of two sets of conditions in bad times, a revolt against intolerable situations imposed by Management; in good times, a power play on the part of the Labor leaders.

In the steel industry and on the shipping wharves, the first condition simply does not exist. Prosperity reigns in these two economic areas. The workers are well paid and well protected. The public fully understands that these strikes are a contest for power. The walk-outs were called by the union chiefs for the purpose of obtaining more control over men and money. This is not, as if often pictured, an insidious inequity on the part of Labor leaders. It is the classic reason for nearly all massive struggles, including national politics and international war. It if is sinful, it is also commonplace.

But there is a special point here, often reiterated, but hardly susceptible of over - emphasis. A third party is involved. An innocent bystander is catching undeserved punishment — the American public. What's more, this is a time in history when the American public has asserted its unwillingness to be the fall guy between Management and Labor. The 86th Congress, now in recess, passed an astonishingly severe law to curb the effronteries of Labor leaders. It is a bill that would never have passed in depression times when public sympathy goes blindly to those who live by wages. It is a law born amid general prosperity, urged by a President with Big Business associations, pushed through Congress by a conservative coalition of Western Republicans like Senator Goldwater (Ariz.) and Rep. Griffin (Mich.) in alliance with Southern Democrats like Senator McClellan (Ark.) and Rep. Landrum (Ga.) This coalition could not have succeeded except by the demand of an aroused public.

Well, it won't be very long before Congress returns with the same President, the same coalition, backed by the same American public. The latter's irritation may very well be heightened by the series of strikes which is affecting a greater number of bystanders each day.

A reasonable forecast might be that the second session of the 86th Congress will go even further in strengthening the Labor laws. Also, it is becoming predictable that the 1960 election is going to be one where Labor-Management - Government affairs stand high among the issues. Let's consider what this forecast could mean in specifics:

Two additional methods of curbing Labor leaders were discussed before Congress left town. Senator McClellan made it plain that he might ask for anti-trust laws against monopolistic unions. A number of Republicans have, less openly, discussed a plan for a National Right to Work Law or Constitutional Amendment. This plan would outlaw what is known by Labor as union shops and by Management as compulsory unionism.

In the weeks since Congress and Mr. K. departed, legislative analysts have had time to dissect the numerous bills and amendments which went to make up the Labor - Management Reporting and Disclosure Act of 1959. People who read these detailed dissections and reports (at least planning articles about them) will see who stood for what. It is incontestable that Senator Kennedy fought all the way for little legislative gimmicks which favored Labor leaders. Most of these were finally thrown out by the coalition.

On the other side, Senators McClellan and Goldwater, with Minority Leader Halleck and possibly Vice President Nixon in the background, seem to have done the most to give the new Labor law its present form.

Next year's session and next year's election will decide who was right and who was wrong in American public opinion.

BASCOM TIMMONS

Budget In 1961

Bureau Busily Engaged In Preparation Of Spending Proposals

The Budget Bureau is busily engaged in the preparation of a budget for the next fiscal year, which President Eisenhower will submit to congress in January. It will be called the budget for fiscal 1961.

There is unusual interest in it for it is the last budget in the participation of which the Eisenhower administration will figure. As the expenditures in fiscal 1961 will begin on July 1, 1960, the new budget will encompass approximately 6 months and 20 days of the Eisenhower administration and 5 months and 10 days of the next administration, whether it be Republican or Democratic.

Interest has especially been heightened by the reports that important administration figures have, and probably President Eisenhower himself has, a hardened attitude on foreign aid. There seems little question that the administration will make up its mind how much to ask congress for foreign aid only after all other phases of the budget are decided. And before it does make up its mind there are going to be some earnest discussions between the highest officials of this country and of our Allies.

Secretary of Treasury Robert B. Anderson, who increasingly has become to be looked upon as the strong man of the administration, gave a hint of what was in the wind in his address to the annual meeting of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund.

Specifically we want our Allies, who have grown prosperous, to take a big part in aid to undeveloped countries. We also want them to lower the barriers they have put up against our exports. These things will be talked over between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, fresh from a smashing British election victory, and with other western European countries.

There has long been insistence in congress for this policy, but a doubt that western Europe would agree to it. During the debate on the foreign aid program, Senator Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana, after asserting that since the end of World War II congress had appropriated $83 billion for foreign aid, said:

"If the nations of western Europe had accepted the original purpose of the Marshall plan, they would now be helping us in our endeavor to develop the backward nations of the world. But this is not happening. These countries of Western Europe are presently enjoying unparalleled economic prosperity, yet they still have their hands out and are looking for more aid. What is more, we are fast losing our gold reserves to the very people who are receiving our aid, our dollars."

Some sources have tabulated figures to show that in government aid, private aid and private investment the United States has exported $300 billion abroad to put the non - Communist world back on its feet.

President Eisenhower, even when he was urging economy and expenditure cutting elsewhere, has insisted on more foreign aid than congress was willing to appropriate, or reluctantly, appropriated. At the recent session of congress he threatened to call a special session if foreign aid was trimmed. But when congress cut a chunk out of it the president signed the bill and has no intention of calling a special session.

There is significance that the bill reached his desk at just about the time there began to be a feeling among some very important Eisenhower administration officials that the United States may have helped the world so much that we, the helper, are hurt.

Certainly there was this implication in Secretary Anderson's speech to the World Bank in which he stated that our deficit in international payments is in the neighborhood of $4.5 billion this year. We have been running this deficit since 1957 and the resulting loss in our gold reserves has been alarming. The dollar could soon become of dubious value.

Both the proponents and the opponents of foreign aid are now agreed that we must bring an end to these deficits in balances of payment and gold losses. When foreign countries obtain more dollars than they spend to buy American goods they can take the difference in gold or can keep it in dollars and invest them in the financial markets in this country. These invested dollars, of course, are potential claims against gold. A recent figure showed that these potential claims amounted to $15,561,000,000, which was uncomfortably close to the gold reserve which had dwindled to $19,524,000,000.

A recognition that a nation's reserves, chiefly gold, and its current payments position set the limits of its foreign aid is the reason this country is going to have some frank talks with western Europe and probably with Japan before this last budget of the Eisenhower administration goes to congress.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Suffering On Left Side Unlikely To Indicate Angina Pectoris

Many anxious people are fearful that they are suffering from angina because they have experienced occasional pain in the left side of the chest. So convinced are they that they have the "real thing" that they are too frightened to go to their doctor to learn the truth.

"Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Would you please tell me if occasional pain in the chest, usually on the left side and not severe, is a symptom of angina pectoris? I am in my late 60's, but have always been active and in splendid health. But I have two sisters with heart trouble, and my mother had it for many years. If these pains are an indication of angina, I would like to be as careful as is necessary.

"I never have occasion to see a doctor and I believe one would think me foolish if I told him what I am telling you." — W. A.

COMMENT: Except in a very few cases, left chest pain is not associated with any form of heart disease. This is especially so when angina comes under consideration. The classical form of anginal pain is a squeezing construction under the chest (sub sternal) or across the chest. The pain may radiate down one or both arms.

The fear and discomfort associated with angina usually come after a heavy meal, after exertion, or after heightened emotion. The pain disappears after the patient stops his exertion (walking, running, etc.,) It usually responds to nitroglycerine.

There are thousands of persons like you, W. A., who suffer unnecessarily from imaginary heart trouble. They make their own diagnos[illegible] and live "scared" for the rest of their lives.

A complete cardiological check up would alleviate their fears. No understanding doctor will consider you "foolish" for coming in for a check up.

THE WORK YOU LIKE TAKES LESS OUT OF YOU

Mr. I. M. of Miami, Florida, has had a heart condition for years. "I know how to handle it and get along real well," he writes. "One thing I have discovered is that I get tired doing the things I don't like to do (Take care of the lawn-; but I can play nine holes of golf without feeling at all tired. Is there anything in this?"

ANSWER: A child will play "hard" and not complain. Give him some chores to do that he dislikes and most parents know how he will react. The same is true in the cases of most adults.

Dr. Edward E. Gordon of the University of Illinois has recommended that we consider two factors: duration of work load and accompanying emotional stress.

He says: "Many cardiacs will be able to accomplish higher energy tasks that would appear compatible with their condition, providing activity is interrupted frequently." He also stated: "Moreover, it is probably commonplace to find a patient developing cardiac symptoms when thrown into a light but undesirable task, yet able to carry on manifestly greater exertion without difficulty under other, pleasant circumstances."

Daily Devotional

We took sweet counsel together and walked into the house of God in company. — Psalm 55:14.

If a person wants his children or friends to go to church and Sunday school, the best method is to do it together. It would be a great thing for our churches if families would attend as groups—and at the same time invite and transport at least one other person. Amazed preachers would soon find themselves with standing room only and would have to provide not one, but two or three services, each Sunday. Such increased interest would go a long way toward solving many church financial problems.

Gracious Father, lead us to be more loyal members of the church and to develop the grace of evangelism. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

and, likely, from the purse-strained 500,000 strikers—pressure was being applied to the industry and union to quit haggling and hammer out a new contract.

Chairman George W. Taylor of President Eisenhower's steel inquiry board told the antagonists Thursday the nation yearned for a settlement. He said the important thing now is to end the strike, not so much how that is accomplished.

The government slapped defense priorities Friday on available steel supplies. The Commerce Department issued orders channeling production by the 15 per cent of the industry still operating into items destined for use in missiles, launching sites and nuclear submarines.

The order also requires that the priorities continue for new steel produced by the rest of the industry when the strike ends.

The growing pinch on the economy was illustrated by word from Detroit that General Motors Corp. may have to stop producing autos by Nov. 1 due to lack of steel. Already 60,000 GM employes have been laid off. Altogether, more than 725,000 workers in and out of steel have been idled by the strike.

The union settlement proposal, said to have been broached first to Kaiser Steel Co., later was handed formally to the other members of the "Big Twelve" steel companies, including U.S. Steel, Republic, Bethlehem and other major producers.

Union sources said they have been trying all along to break the "Big Twelve" solid front.

Kaiser was reported in several quarters on the verge of taking the union offer. Edgar F. Kaiser, board chairman of the firm, issued a statement, however, saying his company had no written or verbal agreement or commitment with the union on a new contract.

Agreement with Kaiser would not be binding on the other steel companies. But it would be a powerful influence and create a pattern that, once made, would be hard for the others to break away from.

Freak Accident Injures Three At Winnfield

WINNFIELD (Special) — A Winnfield mother and her two children were hospitalized with burns following a freak home accident about 4 p.m. here yesterday.

Under treatment at the Winnfield General Hospital last night were Mrs. Sherman Price, her son, age 3, and daughter, 16 months.

Fire Chief Byron Tullos said the fire broke out in Mrs. Price's house after she placed clothes into a washing machine after she had dipped them in gasoline.

Tullos said fumes from the gas apparently were ignited by the pilot light on the nearby kitchen stove.

Hospital authorities reported that none of the victims were considered critical and the burns were mostly first degree.

Mrs. Thomas Steward, a neighbor, was also burned slightly on her feet, but did not require hospitalization.

Mrs. Stewart was helping Mrs. Price, Tullos said. The fire chief said there was no resulting house fire from the flash explosion.

Rehearing Bid Request Slated In Local Court

The Sho-Bar, destroyed by a fire on January 13, 1958, crops up again in Fourth District Court Monday.

John Russell, owner of the Louisville Avenue nightspot, will appear before Judge David I. Garrett to request a rehearing or new trial on his insurance lawsuit.

Russell sued Niagara Fire Insurance Co., which insured the contents of the establishement, for $21,000 valuation.

The insurance company counter-charged that Russell had the fire set.

Trial, which took place on Nov. 10, 12, 13 and Dec. 8 and 9, 1958 resulted in a judgement against Russell on April 16, 1959.

On that date, Garrett ruled that Russell pay the insurance company $2,296.72 with eight per cent interest from June 17, 1958, plus $1570 on amount of principal and interest as attorney fee with recognition of special chattel mortage of 1956.

Two days later, on April 18, Russell's lawyer asked for a new hearing. On July 6, Judge Garrett set the hearing for Monday, Oct. 19.

Freak Accident Injures Three At Winnfield

WINNFIELD (Special) — A Winnfield mother and her two children were hospitalized with burns following a freak home accident about 4 p.m. here yesterday.

Under treatment at the Winnfield General Hospital last night were Mrs. Sherman Price, her son, age 3, and daughter, 16 months.

Fire Chief Byron Tullos said the fire broke out in Mrs. Price's house after she placed clothes into a washing machine after she had dipped them in gasoline.

Tullos said fumes from the gas apparently were ignited by the pilot light on the nearby kitchen stove.

Hospital authorities reported that none of the victims were considered critical and the burns were mostly first degree.

Mrs. Thomas Steward, a neighbor, was also burned slightly on her feet, but did not require hospitalization.

Mrs. Stewart was helping Mrs. Price, Tullos said. The fire chief said there was no resulting house fire from the flash explosion.

Rehearing Bid Request Slated In Local Court

The Sho-Bar, destroyed by a fire on January 13, 1958, crops up again in Fourth District Court Monday.

John Russell, owner of the Louisville Avenue nightspot, will appear before Judge David I. Garrett to request a rehearing or new trial on his insurance lawsuit.

Russell sued Niagara Fire Insurance Co., which insured the contents of the establishement, for $21,000 valuation.

The insurance company counter-charged that Russell had the fire set.

Trial, which took place on Nov. 10, 12, 13 and Dec. 8 and 9, 1958 resulted in a judgement against Russell on April 16, 1959.

On that date, Garrett ruled that Russell pay the insurance company $2,296.72 with eight per cent interest from June 17, 1958, plus $1570 on amount of principal and interest as attorney fee with recognition of special chattel mortage of 1956.

Two days later, on April 18, Russell's lawyer asked for a new hearing. On July 6, Judge Garrett set the hearing for Monday, Oct. 19.

1 Month Left To Mail Yule Gifts Abroad

Monroe Postmaster Woodrow W. Hathorn warned yesterday that only a month remains in which to mail Christmas packages to overseas areas.

November 1 through 20 is designated for mailing of Yuletide parcels to personnel of the U.S. Armed Forces, members of their families and U.S. civilian employees who receive their mail through an APO.

Articles sent airmail may be postmarked as late as December 10.

Greeting cards for overseas should be mailed within the same periods as parcels, if they are to arrive before Christmas.

MAXIMUM

Seventy pounds is the maximum weight allowed. Some exceptions exist — you may not send more than 50 pounds to certain oversea destinations addressed through New York, N. Y.

Size limitations are: 100 inches in length and girth combined.

To start your package off with a chance of arriving in one piece:

1. Pack articles in boxes of wood, solid fiberboard, metal or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard.

2. Wrap all fiberboard boxes securely in heavy paper. This strengthens the package.

3. Tie each box with a strong cord.

4. Avoid having your package crushed by tightly filling it and completely packing it.

5. Use sufficient cushioning material to prevent any rattling or loosening of articles within the package.

6. Enclose a slip showing the list of contents and addressee in the package.

7. Address the package legibly and completely, either with pen and ink, or typewriter.

Miss Sallie Robison, retired guidance counselor at Tech, also is a member of the committee.

Only the annual interest from a fund contributed for this scholarship will be used and awarded annually.

Mr. W. B. Goza
Circulation Manager
News-Star—World Publishing Corporation
North 4th and Olive Streets
Monroe, Louisiana

Dear Mr. Goza:

I have been informed that you and your City Circulation Manager, Mr. W. D. Godfrey, are planning to participate locally in the celebration of "National Newspaper Boy Day." I wish to take this means to congratulate you for taking the time and effort to recognize the great importance of the newspaper boy's contribution to the American newspaper industry, and more important, to recognize the training that the carrier boy receives which will be so valuable to him in later life.

During my boyhood, I worked as a newspaper carrier for the News-Star—World Publishing Corporation for about three and one-half (3½) years. I feel that the training I received in learning to accept the responsibility of providing service to the subscribers and collecting for that service has been invaluable to me. I know that the experience of meeting the public which I received while employed as a newspaper carrier boy has been of great help to me in performing the duties of the office that I now hold, as well as an aid to me in my private practice of law.

Your carrier boys, who arise before daylight each morning in all kinds of weather and deliver the paper to their customers and perform the same service in the afternoon, are certainly learning well, the absolute necessity of doing a job that they have undertaken, even though, many times, the task is very difficult. They are learning well how to get along with people in every walk of life by virtue of their contact with them, both in rendering service and in collecting for their papers.

I feel that your carrier boys, who are now receiving invaluable training for life after they reach adulthood, certainly deserve the recognition that you and Mr. Godfrey are giving them in the form of participation in the celebration of "National Newspaper Boy Day."

Yours very truly,
JASPER E. JONES, Judge

Caldwell Library Art Show Today

COLUMBIA (Special) — The Caldwell Art Festival, under the sponsorship of the Caldwell Parish library, will be held here today at the community center.

The Columbia High School band will open the day's activities with a medley of festival airs. The morning session will include a two-hour demonstration by Arthur C. Morgan of Shreveport. The famed sculptor will sketch in clay a figure or portrait head from a live model.

The afternoon program will include a performance by the Monroe Youth Symphony under the direction of Eloy Fominaya, assistant professor of music at Northeast State College. On the schedule also is Warren C. Ogden, editor of the Dixie Roto magazine of the Sunday New Orleans Times Picayune.

Mrs. Norman Coon of Monroe will give an illustrated talk on Louisiana folk music. A style show featuring fashions of some of the town's dress shops in the slate, too.

THEME

The theme of the festival this year is "Steamboats on the Ouachita." In conjunction with the show theme, several interesting features are planned. Some festival visitors will come down the Ouachita by boat.

Winners in the "Best Tales of the Ouachita" will be announced at the show. A special category in the writing contest is "Scenes of the Ouachita" for art entries.

An outdoor art show will include exhibits of paintings, ceramics and handicraft. Orville J. Hanchey, head of the art department at Northwestern State College and Robert Welchans, art instructor at Northwestern will be judges for these displays. Blue, red and white ribbons will be awarded.

Festival officials have announced that in case of rain, the festival will be held in the Columbia High School.

1 Month Left To Mail Yule Gifts Abroad

Monroe Postmaster Woodrow W. Hathorn warned yesterday that only a month remains in which to mail Christmas packages to overseas areas.

November 1 through 20 is designated for mailing of Yuletide parcels to personnel of the U.S. Armed Forces, members of their families and U.S. civilian employees who receive their mail through an APO.

Articles sent airmail may be postmarked as late as December 10.

Greeting cards for overseas should be mailed within the same periods as parcels, if they are to arrive before Christmas.

MAXIMUM

Seventy pounds is the maximum weight allowed. Some exceptions exist — you may not send more than 50 pounds to certain oversea destinations addressed through New York, N. Y.

Size limitations are: 100 inches in length and girth combined.

To start your package off with a chance of arriving in one piece:

1. Pack articles in boxes of wood, solid fiberboard, metal or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard.
2. Wrap all fiberboard boxes securely in heavy paper. This strengthens the package.
3. Tie each box with a strong cord.
4. Avoid having your package crushed by tightly filling it and completely packing it.
5. Use sufficient cushioning material to prevent any rattling or loosening of articles within the package.
6. Enclose a slip showing the list of contents and addressee in the package.
7. Address the package legibly and completely, either with pen and ink, or typewriter.

Applications For Grants Being Taken

RUSTON (Special) — First applications for the newly established Ruby B. Pearce Memorial Scholarship, amounting to $300 a year or $150 a semester, may now be filed, it was announced here this week.

The late Mrs. Pearce was registrar at Tech for many years. The scholarship was provided in her memory by her husband, W. Floyd Pearce, Ruston insurance man.

Application forms and instructions pertaining to the award may be obtained in the office of Miss Martha Condra, dean of women at Tech. The applications must be submitted by November 2.

PURPOSE TOLD

The purpose of the Pearce scholarship is to assist some worthy girl (or girls if the committee in charge deems it wise to divide the amount) who has completed half the number of semester hours required for graduation in her curriculum. The recipient must have maintained an over-all average of C plus, must possess a pleasing personality, good character, ambitious purpose and qualities of leadership. When there is more than one applicant, the question of need will be a determining factor in selection.

The committee for handling the scholarship and selecting the recipients will be composed of the president of the college, the auditor, the registrar, the dean of women, the guidance director and the director of student employment. Miss Sallie Robison, retired guidance counselor at Tech, also is a member of the committee.

Only the annual interest from a fund contributed for this scholarship will be used and awarded annually.

Mr. W. B. Goza
Circulation Manager
News-Star—World Publishing Corporation
North 4th and Olive Streets
Monroe, Louisiana

Dear Mr. Goza:

I have been informed that you and your City Circulation Manager, Mr. W. D. Godfrey, are planning to participate locally in the celebration of "National Newspaper Boy Day." I wish to take this means to congratulate you for taking the time and effort to recognize the great importance of the newspaper boy's contribution to the American newspaper industry, and more important, to recognize the training that the carrier boy receives which will be so valuable to him in later life.

During my boyhood, I worked as a newspaper carrier for the News-Star—World Publishing Corporation for about three and one-half (3½) years. I feel that the training I received in learning to accept the responsibility of providing service to the subscribers and collecting for that service has been invaluable to me. I know that the experience of meeting the public which I received while employed as a newspaper carrier boy has been of great help to me in performing the duties of the office that I now hold, as well as an aid to me in my private practice of law.

Your carrier boys, who arise before daylight each morning in all kinds of weather and deliver the paper to their customers and perform the same service in the afternoon, are certainly learning well, the absolute necessity of doing a job that they have undertaken, even though, many times, the task is very difficult. They are learning well how to get along with people in every walk of life by virtue of their contact with them, both in rendering service and in collecting for their papers.

I feel that your carrier boys, who are now receiving invaluable training for life after they reach adulthood, certainly deserve the recognition that you and Mr. Godfrey are giving them in the form of participation in the celebration of "National Newspaper Boy Day."

Yours very truly,
JASPER E. JONES, Judge

2 Contractors Target Of Suit In Court Here

Two Monroe contractors are being sued for $45,497.64 by a Berwick resident.

Sam Carline filed suit with the Ouachita Parish Clerk of Court yesterday against R. C. Cudd and Charles P. Burpo.

The suit says that Carline made a subcontract with them, to construct pipeline and haul and install concrete-coated pipe for a total price of $110,447.50.

In March 1959, when the work was approximately 90 per cent complete, according to the suit, the two Monroe men defaulted.

Carline says that he finished the work, paid them $71,871, and then paid their bills amounting to $84,074.14, which they had not paid during the construction.

He says that the total he paid them, including their bills, was $155,945.14. Since the total price for the complete job was to be $110,447.50, he charges that they owe him $45,497.64.

Authorities reported last night that two escapees from Louisiana Training Institute were apprehended by the Ouachita Parish Sheriff's Department.

They were identified as 15 and 16 year-old boys. No other information was released by regular information channels of the department, however, so a report that the boys may have been armed was neither confirmed nor denied.

Chief criminal deputy Frank Kirby said, "We don't release information on that," referring to the LTI escapees.

Also unlearned was the time of escape or place of capture. Kirby said that LTI would have to be contacted for any information on the case.

A resident of South 8th Street near LTI called the newspaper requesting information on the case, because, according to the party, several residents were apprehensive. Phone calls were made to LTI last night, but no answer was received.

Seven In Custody After Indictments

Seven persons indicted on a total of 20 charges by the Ouachita Parish Grand Jury are in custody of the law, according to Sheriff Bailey Grant.

Names of the seven and the charges against them were released yesterday afternoon by the sheriff's office.

Twenty-seven indictments still are pending against an undisclosed number of persons.

Indicted on murder charges are: Guthrie Henderson Diffey, former night marshal of Farmerville. He is charged with the August 17 shooting of Bill Pearson, outside a Monroe nightclub.

Pearson died in a Monroe hospital on Aug. 29.

CHARGED

Bond is not set on persons charged with murder.

Indicted on manslaughter charges are:

Lee Bertha Washington, Negress, charged with stabbing David Upton, Negro, on June 13. Her bond is set at $1,000.

Clyde Mitchell, Negro, charged with the Memorial Day slaying of Curtis Jones, Negro. Bond is set at $3,000.

All four — Diffey, Dixon, Washington and Mitchell — were in the parish jail yesterday afternoon.

Five indictments charging forgery were returned against Darrell A. Connell, now held in the Ft. Smith, Ark. jail. Bond on each indictment is $1,500. A detainer has been placed on him by the Ouachita Sheriff's department.

Three indictments were returned against Jimmie G. Thomas, now at the prison farm near Lake Providence. The Ouachita Sheriff's Department has placed a detainer on him.

He is charged with: 1. Theft of a .25 caliber pistol worth $30 from Haddad's Hardware store last May. Bond is set at $750.

2. Theft by check of $36 from George A. Evans of West Monroe. Bond is set at $750.

OTHERS

3. Theft by check of $20 from Leon Miletello, West Monroe.

George Ray Baldwin, alias James C. Simmons, faces eight indictments charging him with forgery. He is now in the Little Rock, Ark. jail with a Ouachita detainer placed against him.

Bond on each of four indictments is $1,000 and bond is set at $750 on each of the other four indictments.

Forty - seven indictments were returned by the Grand Jury at 5 p.m. Thursday, following a fast-paced three-day session in which 54 cases were considered.

With 20 indictments now released, 27 remain. None of those charged under the 27 additional indictments are in custody yet.

Warrants for their arrest were being prepared yesterday. Names will be released when they are taken in custody.

Previous Grand Juries frequently have filed more than one indictment against one person. There is a good possibility that fewer than 27 persons still need to be taken in custody on current indictments.

They feel that because of his important family connections and elevated profession he will be hurt more seriously — and more permanently — than any of the other contestants who won large sums of money on the discredited TV programs . . . City desks might check Martha Raye on her divorce plans. Local rumblings indicate the romantically unpredictable comedienne may have had second thoughts about her most recent ex - husband, Robert O'Shea, and a reconciliation is possible . . . A flying squad of television writers and executives who planed to California to confer with Jerry Lewis about an upcoming show might as well have tried out their jokes on Albert Schweitzer in Lambarene as far as the initial meetings were concerned. On the first day, they couldn't see Jerry because he was too busy with the baseball game: at the second appointed time they had to wait quite a while to be ushered into his presence because he'd been visited by an inspiration and couldn't be disturbed while he was at the piano . . . Among those who were rocked by the sudden death of Mario Lanza was Young Caesar, the promising Italian heavyweight. Lanza was sponsoring his career, hoping to make him a champion.

Irene Castle, who's been admirably slim and supple since World War I, has a formula for maintaining that neat silhouette: she's never learned to cook, and her dinner every night consists of an avocado followed by a dollop of raspberry ice . . . At the state department, the boys don't expect the appointment of Chip Bohlen as President Eisenhower's special assistant for Soviet affairs to last out Ike's term — or anywhere near that long. Too many clashes of temperament and differences of opinion over the Bohlen methods.

Dino de Laurentiis went to great lengths to persuade Harry Guardino to remain abroad to co-star with Van Heflin and Charles Laughton in "Under Ten Flags." Harry wanted to return home as soon as "Jovanka" was completed, because he hasn't seen his baby daughter for four months, but De Laurentiis coaxed him into "just one more" by arranging to send for Mrs. Guardino and little Michele and pay for their accommodations in Italy. He'll even write Michele into the script if that will make Harry happier . . . The William O. Harbachs (he produces the Steve Allen show) expect their second child to arrive at Doctors Hospital . . . Horror film fans will love "4 D Man," a science fiction flicker full of superb camera tricks . . . Although Queen Elizabeth will skip the formal opening of parliament this year, because of her pregnancy, she plans to make her usual video appearance to wish her subjects joy during the Christmas season. There will be nothing taxing about the small chore, and the cameras will stay on Her Majesty's head and shoulders.

Armina Langner, speaking for the Theatre Guild, denies the report that Eartha Kitt is not completely happy with her role in "Jolly's Progress," and this department is delighted to herald Mrs. Langner's assurance that all is well with Miss Kitt and the play. Admirers of the Theatre Guild and its fine tradition will join us in hoping that Mrs. Langner's rabbit's foot is in better working condition than the good luck charms possessed by the management of Blimstrub's in Boston and the owners of the Town House in Pittsburgh, not to mention Franchot Tone, the staff of Ebony magazine and some of Miss Kitt's own musicians. Tune in tomorrow for more details.

Plant Closes Because Of Steel Lack

DETROIT (UPI)—General Motors closed down its first plant engaged in production of new model cars Friday and reported it has been forced to layoff almost one-fifth of its workers because of steel shortages.

The giant automotive firm closed down a plant at Framingham, Mass., which had been turning out 1960 Chevrolets as layoffs climbed to 60,000.

And there was no relief in sight.

The company already has plans to close down at least nine of Chevrolet's remaining 13 final assembly lines within the next week and other makers' lines were expected to follow suit soon afterward if the steel walkout is not settled in time.

The shutdowns threatened to nip near-record auto sales in the bud.

The industry reported sales of its new models during the first 10 days of October were better than during any other introductory period since 1955, a year which the industry still looks back upon with awe because of the records it shattered.

Although GM has refused any specific statement on when the assembly lines of any of its divisions except Chevrolet will be forced to close down because of the steel shortages, most of them were expected to come to the end of their rope by the beginning of next month.

It appeared impossible to avoid these shutdowns because even an immediate settlement of the steel walkout would mean another four-week wait before new steel supplies would be available to the final assembly lines.

Chrysler and Ford were not far behind GM in the order in which steel shortages would effect final production of new cars.

Chrysler said it could continue production with present supplies into November while Ford said its current supplies should last until about Nov. 15.

Flynn Widow Wins Spat Over Burial

VANCOUVER, B.C. (UPI) — Errol Flynn's widow won a spat with his teen-age "protege," Beverly Aadland Friday over whether the swashbuckling actor should be buried in Hollywood or on his plantation in Jamaica.

Undertaker Earl Atchison said he had been instructed to send the body to Forest Lawn in Los Angeles by train Friday night.

Flynn's widow, dancer Patrice Wymore, from whom he had been estranged, said the dashing actor was "such a part of Hollywood that he should be buried there."

Atchison, head of the funeral parlor where the body was taken Thursday, said he had received instructions from Miss Wymore's lawyer to carry out her wishes. He said he had received no legal opposition from "other parties," presumably Miss Aadland.

Miss Aadland, 17, last of the 50-year-old Flynn's many loves, had vowed to fight to the death to have him buried at "his beloved Caribbean home away from home."

One of Flynn's ex-wives, Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes, also had her say about the burial place. Mrs. Haymes said she believed the funeral should be held in Hollywood, "but I hope he is buried at his Jamaica plantation."

Flynn, whose real-life adventures often eclipsed the romantic roles he portrayed on the screen, died Wednesday night of a heart attack while in Vancouver to sell his yacht to replenish the bankroll depleted by his international escapades.

George Caldough, Flynn's host in Vancouver and the prospective buyer of his $100,000 yacht Zaca, said a Hollywood burial "was just what we are working hard to avoid."

"Errol hated Hollywood," Caldough said, "He didn't want to go back there. He told me just last week he hated it and said he would like to be buried in Jamaica."

Beverly said the burial would take place in Hollywood "Over My Dead Body." Her mother, Mrs. Florence Aadland, supported her.

"Beverly wants Errol's body to go to Jamica," Mrs. Aadland said in Inglewood, Calif. "She (Miss Wymore) is not going to get the body."

At St. Albans, England, Flynn's father, Prof. Theodore T. Flynn, 74, indicated he and his wife probably would not fly to the United States for the funeral.

"He was courteous to every woman regardless of who she was," the elder Flynn said of his son. "It bacame a rod for his own back. In this world you cannot be nice to women without being accused of all sorts of low motives. That was Errol's trouble."

Young Woman Threatened With Blindness

DETROIT (UPI)—The blonde young wife of a Detroit millionaire, suing her husband for divorce and $4,000 a month temporary alimony, is threatened with total blindness.

Dr. Frank Perkin, associate professor of clinical medicine at Wayne State University, told an alimony hearing Thursday that an infection already has cost attractive Mrs. Susan Avis, 31, the sight of her right eye.

The infection could spread and cause total blindness, he said.

Mrs. Avis, who has accused her husband, Warren, 44, of "openly and notoriously" consorting with other women, said she needs the $4,000 a month to maintain the couple's lavish 40-room home with 11 bathrooms in suburban Grosse Pointe Farms.

added the third Lion marker in the second period.

The win was the fourth of the year for Coach Bob Ellen's Ouachita eleven against one loss. Haynesville dropped its fifth game against only one victory.

After a scoreless first period, Ouachita began rolling. A Haynesville drive fizzled on the Lion five and Ouachita took over on downs. Fullback Woody Mahoney reeled off a 14-yard run to open the drive and Hendrix followed with a 10-yard pass to Bates.

A pass interference play gave Ouachita a first down on the Haynesville 41. Hendrix tried two passes, one of which Bates dropped in the clear, then on the third try Bates grabbed in the aerial for a 41-yard touchdown.

The same combination of Hendrix to Bates accounted for the first extra point.

The Lions moved 81 yards in the third period to move ahead 13-0. With Mahoney again eating up much of the yardage Ouachita advanced to the two where Shipp plunged over.

Hendrix and Bates again hooked up for a 46-yard scoring pass in the fourth period to conclude the rout.

Haynesville threatened twice, driving to the Lion 5 in the second period and moving to the 19 in the third. The hard-nosed Ouachita defense stopped both threats on downs.

Philip Youngblood and Don Ellen were outstanding in the Lion forward wall.

By BOB ANDERSON
World Sports Editor

RUSTON, La.—Powerful Neville whipped previously unbeaten Ruston 14-0 before five thousand fans in James stadium here last night to wrap up its second consecutive district AA title and paved the way for another crack at the big championship.

A great first half display by Joe Cage staked Neville to a 7-0 lead at intermission and a magnificent defense led by giant tackle Mickey Cox that shackled Ruston's celebrated Pat Shows.

Neville scored again in the third period, thanks to some great running by quarterback Joe Turner and stopped Ruston's most serious threat on the Neville 19 in the third quarter.

The defeat was the first in six games for Coach L. J. Garrett's Bearcats and the first shut-out for Shows, who had scored 90 points in five previous games.

Neville won its sixth straight and third District 2-AA game. The Tigers had previously defeated district rivals Haynesville, 39-0, and Jonesboro - Hodge, 27-0.

Cox, a mountain of strength all night, led Neville's rugged defense along with guard Robert Turner and fullback Devone Payne.

Neville's winged and conventional T attack moved well most of the night, aided by Turner's great ballhandling. Coach Bill Ruples charges got most of their mileage around the Ruston's ends with Cage, Bill Becton and Turner doing most of the damage on the wide stuff.

Ruston's Notre Dame box offense never really got moving until the second half and Neville's line and a timely pass interception by Joe Turner on the two kept the Bearcats out of the end zone.

Hitting on only one pass in the initial half, Ruston mounted a heavy air attack in the second half with Shows hitting Jerry Hood three straight times in the last quarter. To give you an idea of Neville's defense, however, that drive ended up gaining a scant yard as the Tiger defenders broke through to throw Ruston backs for losses totaling 16 yards.

Cage gained 104 yards in the first half and scored the first touchdown on a five - yard smash off tackle early in the second period to climax an 85-yard drive. He kicked the extra point to make it 7-0 and put Ruston behind for the first time this season.

Cage set up his touchdown with a 20-yard run and gained 42 yards in the march.

Fullback Devone Payne went the final one yard off tackle to make it 13-0. Cage kicked the extra point.

Ruston won the toss to start the game and received, taking over after Mickey Cox's out of bounds kickoff on their 40. They moved, with the aid of the first of two personal foul penalties, to the Tiger 31 before Shows overshot Johnny Perritt on a fourth down pass.

The two teams pushed back and fourth across mid field until late in the first period when Shows boomed a punt dead on the Neville 15.

Bill Becton and Cage picked up 9 yards before Cage, going off tackle and cutting wide, rambled 20 yards to the Ruston 44.

Cage went wide again on the first play of the second period 7 yards and Neal Gunn picked up a first on the Ruston 49.

Two plays later, with Cage at quarterback, Turner dashed 11 yards around end for another first down at the 26. Gunn went 5 and Payne, barrelling through a big hole off guard, went 13 yards to the 8.

Cage and Payne ground off tackle for three yards before, with third down on the five, Cage brushed off left tackle and over. He kicked one up the middle for the extra point and Neville led 7 to 0 with seven minutes, 40 seconds left to go in the half.

The Tigers kept Shows and company under control for the rest of the half, and, just before intermission, drove 53 yards to the Ruston 20 as the half ended.

Cage almost went all the way on the second play of the drive, going around right end and reversing his field for 40 yards before being pushed out of bounds on the Ruston 36.

A pass interference penalty against Shows moved the ball to the 20 and Turner threw one off Cage's finger tips on the five as the half ended.

Shows gained only 42 yards in the initial half, a 3.2 average, while Cage picked up 104 yards on ten rushes.

Neville had seven first downs in the half to only three for Ruston and outgained the Bearcats on the ground 156 yards to 45.

In the third period Shows got off his best run of the night, going up the middle for 33 yards before being pulled down by Payne on the Neville 38.

Shows picked up eight more yards but was held to a five-yard gain on fourth and sixth at the 24. Then Neville took over.

Devone Payne ran nine yards on Neville's first play in their drive before Turner reeled off his 38-yard run, almost going all the way. Payne, Cage and Turner alternated on rushes to move the ball to the one where Payne burst over for the touchdown. Cage again converted.

His previous low was 199 yards against Minden in the season opener.

Cage led Neville with 115 yards for a 7.7 average and Turner picked up 56 yards in five trips.

Hendrix, Bates Pace Lion Win

HAYNESVILLE, La. (Special) — Quarterback Bobby Hendrix and end Ervin Bates teamed up for two touchdown passes here Friday night as Ouachita's soaring Lions upended the Haynesville Golden Tornado, 19-0, for their fourth win for the year.

Hendrix threw paydirt passes to Bates in the second and fourth period and halfback Bobby Shipp added the third Lion marker in the second period.

	Ouachita	Haynesville
First downs	14	10
Passes	13-6	9-3
Yards passing	129	51
Yards rushing	188	135
Passes Int. by	1	0
Punts	2-41	3-32
Penalties	4-37	1-15
Fumbles lost	1	1

The win was the fourth of the year for Coach Bob Ellen's Ouachita eleven against one loss. Haynesville dropped its fifth game against only one victory.

After a scoreless first period, Ouachita began rolling. A Haynesville drive fizzled on the Lion five and Ouachita took over on downs. Fullback Woody Mahoney reeled off a 14-yard run to open the drive and Hendrix followed with a 10-yard pass to Bates.

A pass interference play gave Ouachita a first down on the Haynesville 41. Hendrix tried two passes, one of which Bates dropped in the clear, then on the third try Bates grabbed in the aerial for a 41-yard touchdown.

The same combination of Hendrix to Bates accounted for the first extra point.

The Lions moved 81 yards in the third period to move ahead 13-0. With Mahoney again eating up much of the yardage Ouachita advanced to the two where Shipp plunged over.

Hendrix and Bates again hooked up for a 46-yard scoring pass in the fourth period to conclude the rout.

Haynesville threatened twice, driving to the Lion 5 in the second period and moving to the 19 in the third. The hard-nosed Ouachita defense stopped both threats on downs.

Neville Crushes Ruston, 14-0, To Win 2-AA Title

By BOB ANDERSON
World Sports Editor

RUSTON, La.—Powerful Neville whipped previously unbeaten Rnston 14-0 before five thousand fans in James stadium here last night to wrap up its second consecutive district AA title and paved the way for another crack at the big championship.

A great first half display by Joe Cage staked Neville to a 7-0 lead at intermission and a magnificent defense led by giant tackle Mickey Cox that shackled Ruston's celebrated Pat Shows.

Neville scored again in the third period, thanks to some great running by quarterback Joe Turner and stopped Ruston's most serious threat on the Neville 19 in the third quarter.

STATISTICS

	Nev.	Rus.
First downs	11	12
Yards rushing	258	158
Yards passing	0	50
Passes	5-0	17-7
Passes intercepted	1	0
Penalties	4-60	4-38
Punting	6-40.8	4-44

The defeat was the first in six games for Coach L. J. Garrett's Bearcats and the first shut-out for Shows, who had scored 90 points in five previous games.

Neville won its sixth straight and third District 2-AA game. The Tigers had previously defeated district rivals Haynesville, 39-0, and Jonesboro - Hodge, 27-0.

Cox, a mountain of strength all night, led Neville's rugged defense along with guard Robert Turner and fullback Devone Payne.

Neville's winged and conventional T attack moved well most of the night, aided by Turner's great ballhandling. Coach Bill Ruples charges got most of their mileage around the Ruston's ends with Cage, Bill Becton and Turner doing most of the damage on the wide stuff.

Ruston's Notre Dame box offense never really got moving until the second half and Neville's line and a timely pass interception by Joe Turner on the two kept the Bearcats out of the end zone.

Hitting on only one pass in the initial half, Ruston mounted a heavy air attack in the second half with Shows hitting Jerry Hood three straight times in the last quarter. To give you an idea of Neville's defense, however, that drive ended up gaining a scant yard as the Tiger defenders broke through to throw Ruston backs for losses totaling 16 yards.

Cage gained 104 yards in the first half and scored the first touchdown on a five - yard smash off tackle early in the second period to climax an 85-yard drive. He kicked the extra point to make it 7-0 and put Ruston behind for the first time this season.

Cage set up his touchdown with a 20-yard run and gained 42 yards in the march.

Fullback Devone Payne went the final one yard off tackle to make it 13-0. Cage kicked the extra point.

Ruston won the toss to start the game and received, taking over after Mickey Cox's out of bounds kickoff on their 40. They moved, with the aid of the first of two personal foul penalties, to the Tiger 31 before Shows overshot Johnny Perritt on a fourth down pass.

The two teams pushed back and fourth across mid field until late in the first period when Shows boomed a punt dead on the Neville 15.

Bill Becton and Cage picked up 9 yards before Cage, going off tackle and cutting wide, rambled 20 yards to the Ruston 44.

Cage went wide again on the first play of the second period 7 yards and Neal Gunn picked up a first on the Ruston 49.

Two plays later, with Cage at quarterback, Turner dashed 11 yards around end for another first down at the 26. Gunn went 5 and Payne, barrelling through a big hole off guard, went 13 yards to the 8.

Cage and Payne ground off tackle for three yards before, with third down on the five, Cage brushed off left tackle and over. He kicked one up the middle for the extra point and Neville led 7 to 0 with seven minutes, 40 seconds left to go in the half.

The Tigers kept Shows and company under control for the rest of the half, and, just before intermission, drove 53 yards to the Ruston 20 as the half ended.

Cage almost went all the way on the second play of the drive, going around right end and reversing his field for 40 yards before being pushed out of bounds on the Ruston 36.

A pass interference penalty against Shows moved the ball to the 20 and Turner threw one off Cage's finger tips on the five as the half ended.

Shows gained only 42 yards in the initial half, a 3.2 average, while Cage picked up 104 yards on ten rushes.

Neville had seven first downs in the half to only three for Ruston and outgained the Bearcats on the ground 156 yards to 45.

In the third period Shows got off his best run of the night, going up the middle for 33 yards before being pulled down by Payne on the Neville 38.

Shows picked up eight more yards but was held to a five-yard gain on fourth and sixth at the 24. Then Neville took over.

Devone Payne ran nine yards on Neville's first play in their drive before Turner reeled off his 38-yard run, almost going all the way. Payne, Cage and Turner alternated on rushes to move the ball to the one where Payne burst over for the touchdown. Cage again converted.

His previous low was 199 yards against Minden in the season opener.

Cage led Neville with 115 yards for a 7.7 average and Turner picked up 56 yards in five trips.

Tribe Plays McNeese In GSC Opener Here

'Pokes Try For First Loop Win

Northeast, reasonably hale and hearty for a change, ventures into Gulf States Conference activity for the first time tonight against McNeese, a club still looking for its first GSC win after two tries.

This ninth version of Louisiana's Cowboys-Indians war gets under way at 8 o'clock at Brown Stadium.

After four games with at least one, and usually more, regulars sidelined by injuries, Jack Rowan's Northeast Indians have only halfback Terry Reeves on the doubtful list. The Monroe speedster is nursing a bruised elbow. Farmerville's Levy Redden will probably start in Reeves' spot.

McNeese, on the other hand, has two linemen on the doubtful list, end Johnny Steed (shoulder injury) and guard Jimmy Stubbs (illness).

However, Les DeVall's Cowboys should have three previously injured players to be back in action, Lake Providence fullback Harold Thomas, center Lenny Kahn and end Lenny Jones. Kahn was the only one of the three to see action in McNeese's win over Tampa last weekend.

Successful in two starts against non-league opposition, McNeese has stumbled twice in GSC play, losing to Northwestern, 19-6, in the season opener, and to Luuisiana Tech, 28-0, two weeks ago.

Outside the Gulf States circuit, the Cowboys have beaten Stephen F. Austin, 20-7, and Tampa, 27-14.

Northeast, after losing its first three games this year to extend a 1958-59 losing streak to six game edged Arlington, 26-21, last Saturday.

The Indians opened the year with a 15-0 loss to Arkansas State, fell to Delta State, 14-13, and East Texas, 20-0, before topping Arlington.

Last year Northeast took its only victory in eight games with McNeese, a 29-14 triumph.

With quarterback Bob Randel back in form, Northeast pins its hopes for a successful GSC debut on a good passing attack and the running of workhouse fullback Smokey Stover.

Randel threw 10 times in the viltory over Arlington and connected on six for 94 yards and one touchdown. Stover ran 12 times last week and picked up 51 yards and was never thrown for a loss.

Up front, Northeast is led by end Jerry Head, the GSC's "Lineman of the Week" for his performance against Arlington.

Head's companion at end, Pete Covington leads the club in tackles with 16 and assists with 13. Co-captain Alfred Feeney, a Woodside, New York, senior, is credited with 11 key blocks to lead the team. Tackle Delmas Thorne is second in individual tackles with 13 and has five assists.

Sophomore quarterbacks Don Breaux of Lake Charles and Nolan Viator of Sulphur and halfbacks Olen Clark, a senior from West Lake, and Ted Brevelle, Oakdale sophomore, have been McNeese's outstanding offensive performers.

Breaux leads the Cowboys in passing an total offense. He has completed seven of 16 throws for 127 yards and has netted another 93 yards in 24 rushing attempts.

Viator has completed four of 13 passes for 61 yards and has accounted for 85 yards on 25 rushes.

Clark leads the Cowpokes in five offensive departments. He has gained 184 yards in 32 rushes for a 5.75-yard average. Clark has hauled in five passes for 91 yards and has punted 15 times for a 37.4-yard average. He also paces the 'Pokes in scoring with 18 points and kickoff returns with 110 yards in six tries.

Although Brevelle has been used infrequently as a ball carrier, he has managed to net 100 yards. He has carried only 14 times. Brevelle is also a fine pass receiver and defensive back.

Steed, tackle Curt Leggett and Stubbs have been McNeese's most consistent linemen, along with Kahn.

A cross country run matching the 1958 GSC co-champions, Northeast and McNeese, and third-place Louisiana Tech will be staged at halftime.

Fullscale competition begins Saturday, Oct. 24, with Detroit at Cincinnati in a day-TV game, and Philadelphia at New York, Boston at Syracuse and Minneapolis at St. Louis in night games.

There are many new faces in the league this year, headed by the famous Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, the two-time Kansas All-America who was obtained by the Philadelphia Warriors from the Harlem Globetrotters.

Other top former collegians making their NBA debuts will be Bailey Howell of Mississippi State with Detroit, Dick Barnett of Tennessee A&I with Syracuse, and Johnny Green of Michigan State with New York.

Saturday's opener begins at 4 p.m., EST.

A new rule, tested during the exhibition season, has been approved by the NBA Board of Governors and will be in effect starting with Saturday's opener, League President Maurice Podoloff announced in New York.

The rule is: After the offensive team has advanced the ball to the front court area, the defensive player is not permitted to place himself in the key for longer than three seconds with no apparent attempt to play his opponent.

The penalty for violation is a technical foul shot by the offensive team, which also retains possession of the ball out of bounds in a line where play was stopped.

The rule will limit a defensive player from clogging up the middle and will make him play his defensive man. It also will enable the offensive team to drive across the keyhole toward the basket without running into a stationary defensive plazer.

Dallas May Field 2 Pro Grid Teams

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Dallas Times Herald said Friday Dallas might have two pro football teams next season.

The newspaper quoted Bedford Wynne as saying he and Clint Murchison Jr., both men of wealth, have spoken to George Halas of the National Football League about placing a team in Dallas in 1960.

"We've talked to Halas but we don't know anything concrete as yet," Wynne said.

Lamar Hunt, founder of the new American League, said the possible expansion is the result of his new league's strength.

"It's the same old story," said Hunt an oil man. "There's not much doubt the National League wouldn't be talking about expansion if it weren't for the second league."

MEET TECH OCT. 24

Demons All Even At Halfway Mark

NATCHITOCHES, La. (Special) — After an open date this weekend, the Northwestern State College Demons will head into the second half of their 1959-60 schedule all even in the won-lost columns.

Next action for the Demons is on Oct. 24 against Louisiana Tech in a tilt which officially opens the 1959 Louisiana State Fair in Shreveport.

Of the first five Demon foes, only one was a Gulf States Conference opponent. That one was McNeese State and the Demons snared a 19-6 victory over the Cowboys.

The final half of the NSC slate finds four more GSC teams and one non-conference unit, Colorado School of Mines. Thus, Coach Jack Clayton and his staff know that it's play for keeps if they are to retain the championship status they've held the past two campaigns.

Team statistics at the halfway point of the season show the Demons with a slight total offense edge over their five opponents, 1,226 yards to 1,113 yards. NSC is down, 783 to 724, in rushing figures but has a 502 to 330 edge in passing yardage.

Quarterback Dale Hoffpauir is making a strong bid for his third straight GSC passing crown. The three-year veteran is hurling 45 per cent with 26 completions out of 57 attempts for 376 net yards. Close behind is sophomore quarterback Larry Crowe with a 42 per cent on seven completions of 17 attempts for 126 yards.

A pair of halfbacks, Troy Burch and Ralph Conrad, are staging a spirited drive for rushing honors. Burch currently leads with 183 yards on 29 carries for a 36.6 per game average. Conrad is close behind with 169 yards on 37 carries for a 33.8 per game average.

Conrad holds the edge in pass receiving with five catches for 157 yards and one touchdown. All-GSC end Billy Jack Booth has more catches, eight, but trails with 128 yardage. He also has hauled in one payoff aerial.

Hoffpauir holds the team total offense lead with 395 yards, only 19 of which has come rushing. His per game average is 79.0.

Ranking among the nation's leading punters in small colleges is freshman halfback Jim Griffin, who has booted four times for an average of 42.5 yards per boot. Jerry Lott, senior halback, has a 37.3 average for three kicks and holds down second place.

Top Women Netters Set For Pro Career

NEW YORK (AP)—Althea Gibson, the pride of Harlem, and Karol Fageros, Miami's gold panties girl, will chuck their amateur standing early next week to make a professional tennis tour of the world.

They will launch their head-to-head series Dec. 28 as a preliminary to the Harlem Globetrotters basketball show at Madison Square Garden, it was learned Friday.

Miss Gibson was not available for comment. Her attorney, Earl Zaidins, declined to deny or confirm the report. He said, "I'm sorry, I can't say anything at this time. I can only say that plans for Althea will make her very happy."

It's been an open secret for months that Miss Gibson,two time Wimbledon champion, planned to enter pro ranks. It was the format of her tour which hung in the balance.

During the U. S. National championships at Forest Hills in September, efforts were made to get a group of the world's leading women players under contract. These plans collapsed when some of the players—Darlene Hard, for one—proved a disappointment and others declined to make the move.

The newest venture calls for 12-week tour of leading American cities, plus a sweep through Europe.

Later, depending on how the show is received, the two girls may go into South America and even Australia, where tennis enjoys a touchdown boom.

Former LSU Back Nears Rushing Mark

DECORAH, Iowa (AP)—A knee injury as a Louisiana State freshman kept Brad Hustad from playing on a national championship team—but the towheaded fullback has no regrets.

He left LSU after the injury but later decided to give football another try—and Saturday the Luther College mainstay is almost a cinch to break the American college rushing record.

"Oh, I watch LSU on television and wonder what might have been when I see some of my old teammates who were laying out a year when I was there on the Chinese Bandit unit," Hustad said.

"But it's been swell here at Luther and I have no regrets about not playing with Louisiana State's team which won the national title last year."

Hustad has gained 3,421 yards rushing in 23 games and needs only 99 against Simpson in an Iowa Conference scrap to hit the 2-mile mark of 3,520 yards.

The record for three-year competitors is 3,519 yards, set in 1951-53 by Leo Lewis of Lincoln (Mo.) University.

The 190-pounder's best individual performance was against Upper Iowa in 1957 when he picked up 263 yards rushing.

He rolled up 1,401 yards that year to become the first sophomore ever to win the small college rushing championship.

He slipped a bit as a junior and missed the national title by four yards with 1,354, but was named on the Little All-America team.

This year he has gained 666 yards in five games and leads small college rushers.

Luther has lost only four games since Hustad joined the team. The school won the conference title in Hustad's sophomore year, was second with a 7-1-1 record last year, and is 3-2 this season.

Enemy defenses have been keyed to Hustad's plunges since his dazzling sophomore season but he has been held to less than 100 yards rushing in only four games.

17 UNBEATEN TEAMS

College Football's Elite Slated For Drastic Cut

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Major ocllege football's elite-17 teams which are undefeated-is due for a drastic cut today with 10 of them facing each other in key battles across the nation.

The biggest pits two unbeaten Southwest Conference teams — third - ranked Texas and 12th rated Arkansas at Little Rock tonight. Other games featuring unbeatens finds Yale at Cornell, Holy Cross at Syracuse, Southern California at Washington and Air Force playing Oregon at Portland.

But Darrell Royal's Texas Longhorns, fresh from their 19-12 whipping of Oklahoma, are set to test their high-velocity offense against an Arkansas defense that has given only two touchdowns in matching Texas' 4-0 record.

However, Arkansas also must face a Texas defense that was unscored upon until Oklahoma tallied twice in the first period last week. A tremendous duel looms between Arkansas' Jim Mooty and Texas' Rene Ramirez, a pair of flashing halfbacks. Arkansas is also laying an eight game winning string on the line.

Southern Cal, ranked No. 7 in the current Associated Press survey will have its defensive giants in good shape for Washington, 4-0 and ranked 18th. The Trojans (3-0) had last weekend off helping tackle Dan Ficca and Mike McKeeyer recover from injuries. Washington must try and stop a USC offense that leads the Far West Five in total and rushing offense, then must try to move against a defense that is tops in all phases.

Syracuse (No. 8), the nation's top defensive team, will be out to revenge its only 1958 regular season loss when the Crusaders eked out a 14-13 win. The Orange also will face a pretty stout defense. But Holy Cross lost first string quarterback Dick O'Brien last week and must rely on reserves.

Louisiana State, top-ranked and getting stronger each week, travels to Kentucky to begin defense of its Southeastern Conference crowns. Coach Paul Dietzel's men have not allowed four opponents a touchdown, giving only two field goals in rolling up a 4-0 mark.

Georgia Tech (No. 4) has another toughie in Auburn, also a key SEC game. Tech edged Tennessee 14-7 last week while Auburn, after an opening season 3-0 loss to Tennessee, has rolled by its last two opponents.

Fifth-ranked Mississippi, with a 4 - 0 mark and unscored upon, plays SEC foe Tulane. Tulane has won its last two for a 2-2 mark.

Second-ranked Northwestern (3-0) goes to Michigan, a team it used as a springboard to fame last year with a stunning 55-24 upset. The Wildcats may be in trouble if newly - found quarterback Bob Eichoff isn't over a stiff right shoulder and halfback Ron Burton can't shake a weak ankle.

Unbeaten, but once-tied Purdue (No. 6) plays Ohio State, a shutout victim in its last two games. The Boilermakers (2-0-1) don't figure to let up with their staunch defense that has given only one touchdown. Iowa and Wisconisn, both 2-1, go at it in another Big Ten affair with ninth-ranked Iowa pitting its passing attack that leads the conference against a so-so Wisconsin pass defense.

Penn State (No. 10), with a 4-0 record including last week's 17-11 victory over favored Army, plays Boston University, which upset West Virginia 7-0 for its only victory.

The television game of the day is from East Lansing, Mich., where Notre Dame faces Michigan State. It is set for 1:30 p.m. EST over NBC-TV.

The Air Force (3-0) gets its first serious test against Oregon (4-0) with quarterback Rich Mayo's passing matched against the running of Willie West.

Other top games:

SOUTH: Tennessee vs. Alabama at Birmingham; Richmond at The Citadel; Army at Duke; George Washington at Furman; Mississippi State vs. Georgia at Atlanta; North Carolina at Maryland; Florida State at Memphis State; Florida at Vanderbilt; North Carolina St. at Wake Forest; Virginia at Virginia Tech; Pitt at West Virginia; VMI at William & Mary.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Banks Selected 'Player Of Year'

By FRED DOWN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ernie Banks, the Chicago Cubs' hard-hitting and slick-fielding shortstop, was named the National League's player of the year Friday by the United Press International.

It was the second straight year the 28-year-old slugger from Dallas, Tex., achieved the honor in the voting of a 24-man committee representing every city in the circuit.

The deceptively-powerful Banks received 12 votes compared to eight for Hank Aaron, the Milwaukee Braves' solid-socker who won his second national batting championship. Ed Mathews of the Braves received two votes and Wally Moon of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Willie McCovery of the San Francisco Giants got one each.

Banks, who joined the cubs in 1953, batted .304, hit 45 homers and led the majors with 143 runs batted in this year. He has hit 40 or more homers in four of the last five years and his seven-year total of 228 is surpassed in major league history by only one shortstop—Vern Stephens, who played a total of 15 years.

One of the most durable players of the modern era, Banks played in all 155 of the Cubs' games this year. He has missed only 18 games since the Cubs acquired him from the Kansas City Monarchs for $35,000 in 1953.

Right-handed all the way, the six-foot, 175-pounder set a major league record in 1958 by hitting five grand slam homers and also led the league in slugging percentage and homers. His 47 homers in 1958 are a major league mark for a shortstop.

Aaron, 25, enjoyed the best all-around season of his career in a vain effort to power the Braves to their third straight pennant. He connected for 39 homers, drove in 123 runs and won the batting title with a .355 mark. Aaron won his first batting titie with a .328 figure in 1956.

Mathews, bouncing back from a poor 1958 campaign, hit .306, drove in 114 runs and won his second home run title when he hit No. 46 in the second playoff game with the Dodgers to snap a tie with Banks.

Moon, also rebounding from a disappointing 1958 season, batted .302, hit 19 homers and drove in 74 runs to be a key figure in the Dodgers' sensational rise from seventh to first place while McCovey, a gangling rookie first-baseman, hit .356 in 52 games and gave the San Francisco Giants a phenomenal lift when he joined them late in the season.

BOGALUSA, La. (AP)—Honald Millet and Freddie Haas, both New Orleans pros, tied for the lead with four-under-par 66s after the first round of play Friday in the 54-hole Louisiana Open golf tournament.

Buddy Crovetto of New Orleans was alone at 67. Defending champion Jerry Stohland of Maplewood and Ralph Sicks of Lake Charles were tied at 69.

Millet, who set the course record of 60 on Thursday, teamed with James Stevenson and Robert Brock of Bogalusa and Ray Tremont to win the pro-am event with a low ball of 56. STILL UNBEATEN

Packers Winning, Nobody Notices

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Green Bay Packers are the only unbeaten team in the National Football League, and still nobody is taking them seriously.

The Packers, with a 3-0 mark, play the Los Angeles Rams (1-2) Sunday in Milwaukee and the oddsmakers have made the Rams a 2-point favorite in the Western Division headliner.

Meanwhile, the New York Giants are expected to settle a score with the Philadelphia Eagles in the Giants' opener in New York and take a more commanding position in the Eastern race.

Here is the Sunday schedule:

Los Angeles vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee. Philadelphia at New York. Baltimore at Chicago Bears. Chicago Cards at Cleveland. Pittsburgh at Washington. San Francisco at Detroit.

The Packers, who suffered a series of minor injuries in beating San Francisco last week, probably will need to be at their best against a Los Angeles team which has begun rolling behind the hard-running Ollie Matson.

The Baltimore Colts, tied with Sa Francisco at 2-1 for second place in the West, have most of their ace receivers back for Johnny Unitas in the game against the Bears (1-2). Baltimore is favored by a point although the Bears won their first meeting 26-21.

The Detroit Lions, led by Tobin Rote and Howard Cassady, are a 2½ point pick over the 49ers, whose scoring punch is centered in the passing of quarterback Y. A. Tittle and the kicking of Tommy Davis. The Lions looked good last week despite a 311-24 loss to the Colts.

The Giants, whose pride was ruffled by Philadelphia's 49-21 victory two weeks ago, will be out for revenge before a home audience. With Jim Patton, their defensive backfield star, back in action, the New Yorkers are 6½ point favorites. The Giants are tied with Philadelphia and Washington for the Eastern lead with 2-1 records.

The Cleveland Browns (1-2) are a 5½ point pick over the Chicago Cardinals (1-2). The Pittsburgh Steelers (1-2) and Washington Redskins are figured a toss-up.

Wilt Scores 41 In Warrior Win

ABINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Giant Wilt Chamberlain dumped in 41 points Friday night to lead the Philadelphia Warriors to a 113-105 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers in a National Basketball Assn. exhibition game.

Minneapolis led throughout the first two periods and held a 54-51 halftime advantage. Chamberlain scored 25 of his total in the second half. He was high in rebounds with 23.

Miami Rips Middies For 23-8 Triumph

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two long, slashing touchdown drives by Miami in the last quarter broke down a spirited Navy team Friday night as the Hurricanes beat the Middies 23-8 to spoil their first visit to Florida.

Little Fran Curci threw a 16-yard touchdown pass to Jack Herman and Bob Rosbaugh raced 17 yards for another score to break up a stirring duel before 51,694 fans.

It marked the first time since 1951 that Navy has lost three games in a row.

The Hurricanes, gaining easily against Navy, smashed to a 10-0 lead in the first half. But Navy hurried 70 yards to score in 10 plays after the start of the second half to make it a tight 10-8 game until Miami's last quarter outbreak.

With two minutes gone in the final period, the Hurricanes drove 69 yards and Curci, the slick 152-pound quarterback, nailed Herman with a pass in the end zone. Another drive for 74 yards sent Rosbaugh over for the final score.

Joe Bellino plunged a yard for Navy's only touchdown and Jim Maxfield passed to George Bezek for two extra points.

Miami's first period points were made on a two-yard touchdown plunge by Frank Bouffard and a 30-yard field goal by Al Dangel.

Tigers Emplane For Lexington

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Louisiana State's top-ranked tigers left by plane Friday for Lexington, Ky., to open their Southeastern Conference campaign against Kentucky.

Jefferson Falls To St. Aloysius, 14-7

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Unbeaten St. Aloysius preserved its record Friday by rallying to beat East Jefferson 14-7.

East Jefferson took an early lead when Claude Foreman went over from the 1 in the first period and Ronnie Redler converted.

St. Aloysius tied the score in the third period when Roy Weber picked up a fumble at the East Jefferson 38 and ran it over. Bill Krummel kicked the conversion.

Tribe Plays McNeese In GSC Opener Here

'Pokes Try For First Loop Win

Northeast, reasonably hale and hearty for a change, ventures into Gulf States Conference activity for the first time tonight against McNeese, a club still looking for its first GSC win after two tries.

This ninth version of Louisiana's Cowboys-Indians war gets under way at 8 o'clock at Brown Stadium.

After four games with at least one, and usually more, regulars sidelined by injuries, Jack Rowan's Northeast Indians have only halfback Terry Reeves on the doubtful list. The Monroe speedster is nursing a bruised elbow. Farmerville's Levy Redden will probably start in Reeves' spot.

McNeese, on the other hand, has two linemen on the doubtful list, end Johnny Steed (shoulder injury) and guard Jimmy Stubbs (illness).

However, Les DeVall's Cowboys should have three previously injured players to be back in action, Lake Providence fullback Harold Thomas, center Lenny Kahn and end Lenny Jones. Kahn was the only one of the three to see action in McNeese's win over Tampa last weekend.

Successful in two starts against non-league opposition, McNeese has stumbled twice in GSC play, losing to Northwestern, 19-6, in the season opener, and to Luuisiana Tech, 28-0, two weeks ago.

Outside the Gulf States circuit, the Cowboys have beaten Stephen F. Austin, 20-7, and Tampa, 27-14.

Northeast, after losing its first three games this year to extend a 1958-59 losing streak to six game edged Arlington, 26-21, last Saturday.

The Indians opened the year with a 15-0 loss to Arkansas State, fell to Delta State, 14-13, and East Texas, 20-0, before topping Arlington.

Last year Northeast took its only victory in eight games with McNeese, a 29-14 triumph.

With quarterback Bob Randel back in form, Northeast pins its hopes for a successful GSC debut on a good passing attack and the running of workhouse fullback Smokey Stover.

Randel threw 10 times in the viltory over Arlington and connected on six for 94 yards and one touchdown. Stover ran 12 times last week and picked up 51 yards and was never thrown for a loss.

Up front, Northeast is led by end Jerry Head, the GSC's "Lineman of the Week" for his performance against Arlington.

Head's companion at end, Pete Covington leads the club in tackles with 16 and assists with 13. Co-captain Alfred Feeney, a Woodside, New York, senior, is credited with 11 key blocks to lead the team. Tackle Delmas Thorne is second in individual tackles with 13 and has five assists.

Sophomore quarterbacks Don Breaux of Lake Charles and Nolan Viator of Sulphur and halfbacks Olen Clark, a senior from West Lake, and Ted Brevelle, Oakdale sophomore, have been McNeese's outstanding offensive performers.

Breaux leads the Cowboys in passing an total offense. He has completed seven of 16 throws for 127 yards and has netted another 93 yards in 24 rushing attempts.

Viator has completed four of 13 passes for 61 yards and has accounted for 85 yards on 25 rushes.

Clark leads the Cowpokes in five offensive departments. He has gained 184 yards in 32 rushes for a 5.75-yard average. Clark has hauled in five passes for 91 yards and has punted 15 times for a 37.4-yard average. He also paces the 'Pokes in scoring with 18 points and kickoff returns with 110 yards in six tries.

Although Brevelle has been used infrequently as a ball carrier, he has managed to net 100 yards. He has carried only 14 times. Brevelle is also a fine pass receiver and defensive back.

Steed, tackle Curt Leggett and Stubbs have been McNeese's most consistent linemen, along with Kahn.

A cross country run matching the 1958 GSC co-champions, Northeast and McNeese, and third-place Louisiana Tech will be staged at halftime.

Celts, Royals Meet In NBA Opener Today

BOSTON (AP) — The National Basketball Assn. opens its 14th season Saturday afternoon with a nationally televised (NBC) game between the Cincinnati Royals and the champion Boston Celtics.

There are many new faces in the league this year, headed by the famous Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, the two-time Kansas All-America who was obtained by the Philadelphia Warriors from the Harlem Globetrotters.

Other top former collegians making their NBA debuts will be Bailey Howell of Mississippi State with Detroit, Dick Barnett of Tennessee A&I with Syracuse, and Johnny Green of Michigan State with New York.

Saturday's opener begins at 4 p.m., EST.

A new rule, tested during the exhibition season, has been approved by the NBA Board of Governors and will be in effect starting with Saturday's opener, League President Maurice Podoloff announced in New York.

The rule is: After the offensive team has advanced the ball to the front court area, the defensive player is not permitted to place himself in the key for longer than three seconds with no apparent attempt to play his opponent.

The penalty for violation is a technical foul shot by the offensive team, which also retains possession of the ball out of bounds in a line where play was stopped.

The rule will limit a defensive player from clogging up the middle and will make him play his defensive man. It also will enable the offensive team to drive across the keyhole toward the basket without running into a stationary defensive plazer.

Dallas May Field 2 Pro Grid Teams

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Dallas Times Herald said Friday Dallas might have two pro football teams next season.

The newspaper quoted Bedford Wynne as saying he and Clint Murchison Jr., both men of wealth, have spoken to George Halas of the National Football League about placing a team in Dallas in 1960.

"We've talked to Halas but we don't know anything concrete as yet," Wynne said.

Lamar Hunt, founder of the new American League, said the possible expansion is the result of his new league's strength.

"It's the same old story," said Hunt an oil man. "There's not much doubt the National League wouldn't be talking about expansion if it weren't for the second league."

MEET TECH OCT. 24

Demons All Even At Halfway Mark

NATCHITOCHES, La. (Special) — After an open date this weekend, the Northwestern State College Demons will head into the second half of their 1959-60 schedule all even in the won-lost columns.

Next action for the Demons is on Oct. 24 against Louisiana Tech in a tilt which officially opens the 1959 Louisiana State Fair in Shreveport.

Of the first five Demon foes, only one was a Gulf States Conference opponent. That one was McNeese State and the Demons snared a 19-6 victory over the Cowboys.

The final half of the NSC slate finds four more GSC teams and one non-conference unit, Colorado School of Mines. Thus, Coach Jack Clayton and his staff know that it's play for keeps if they are to retain the championship status they've held the past two campaigns.

Team statistics at the halfway point of the season show the Demons with a slight total offense edge over their five opponents, 1,226 yards to 1,113 yards. NSC is down, 783 to 724, in rushing figures but has a 502 to 330 edge in passing yardage.

Quarterback Dale Hoffpauir is making a strong bid for his third straight GSC passing crown. The three-year veteran is hurling 45 per cent with 26 completions out of 57 attempts for 376 net yards. Close behind is sophomore quarterback Larry Crowe with a 42 per cent on seven completions of 17 attempts for 126 yards.

A pair of halfbacks, Troy Burch and Ralph Conrad, are staging a spirited drive for rushing honors. Burch currently leads with 183 yards on 29 carries for a 36.6 per game average. Conrad is close behind with 169 yards on 37 carries for a 33.8 per game average.

Conrad holds the edge in pass receiving with five catches for 157 yards and one touchdown. All-GSC end Billy Jack Booth has more catches, eight, but trails with 128 yardage. He also has hauled in one payoff aerial.

Hoffpauir holds the team total offense lead with 395 yards, only 19 of which has come rushing. His per game average is 79.0.

Ranking among the nation's leading punters in small colleges is freshman halfback Jim Griffin, who has booted four times for an average of 42.5 yards per boot. Jerry Lott, senior halback, has a 37.3 average for three kicks and holds down second place.

Top Women Netters Set For Pro Career

NEW YORK (AP)—Althea Gibson, the pride of Harlem, and Karol Fageros, Miami's gold panties girl, will chuck their amateur standing early next week to make a professional tennis tour of the world.

They will launch their head-to-head series Dec. 28 as a preliminary to the Harlem Globetrotters basketball show at Madison Square Garden, it was learned Friday.

Miss Gibson was not available for comment. Her attorney, Earl Zaidins, declined to deny or confirm the report. He said, "I'm sorry, I can't say anything at this time. I can only say that plans for Althea will make her very happy."

It's been an open secret for months that Miss Gibson,two time Wimbledon champion, planned to enter pro ranks. It was the format of her tour which hung in the balance.

During the U. S. National championships at Forest Hills in September, efforts were made to get a group of the world's leading women players under contract. These plans collapsed when some of the players—Darlene Hard, for one—proved a disappointment and others declined to make the move.

The newest venture calls for 12-week tour of leading American cities, plus a sweep through Europe.

Later, depending on how the show is received, the two girls may go into South America and even Australia, where tennis enjoys a touchdown boom.

Former LSU Back Nears Rushing Mark

DECORAH, Iowa (AP)—A knee injury as a Louisiana State freshman kept Brad Hustad from playing on a national championship team—but the towheaded fullback has no regrets.

He left LSU after the injury but later decided to give football another try—and Saturday the Luther College mainstay is almost a cinch to break the American college rushing record.

"Oh, I watch LSU on television and wonder what might have been when I see some of my old teammates who were laying out a year when I was there on the Chinese Bandit unit," Hustad said.

"But it's been swell here at Luther and I have no regrets about not playing with Louisiana State's team which won the national title last year."

Hustad has gained 3,421 yards rushing in 23 games and needs only 99 against Simpson in an Iowa Conference scrap to hit the 2-mile mark of 3,520 yards.

The record for three-year competitors is 3,519 yards, set in 1951-53 by Leo Lewis of Lincoln (Mo.) University.

The 190-pounder's best individual performance was against Upper Iowa in 1957 when he picked up 263 yards rushing.

He rolled up 1,401 yards that year to become the first sophomore ever to win the small college rushing championship.

He slipped a bit as a junior and missed the national title by four yards with 1,354, but was named on the Little All-America team.

This year he has gained 666 yards in five games and leads small college rushers.

Luther has lost only four games since Hustad joined the team. The school won the conference title in Hustad's sophomore year, was second with a 7-1-1 record last year, and is 3-2 this season.

Enemy defenses have been keyed to Hustad's plunges since his dazzling sophomore season but he has been held to less than 100 yards rushing in only four games.

Tom Nieporte Leads Orange Open By One

COSTA MESA, Calif. (AP) — Tom Nieporte of Bronxville, N. Y., shot a 4-under-par 67 Friday to take the 36-hole lead in the $15,000 Orange County Open Golf Tournament with a 135 total.

Trailing the 29-year-old leader by one stroke was Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., who bogied the last hole as he scored his second 68.

Nieporte, a third-year man on the PGA circuit, started by two-putting for a birdie on the first hole. His other birds came on the fourth, where he dropped a 7-footer; the eighth, where he got a 6-footer, and the 13th, where he sank a 20-footer.

Tied for third place, two strokes off the pace, were Jimmy Clark and Jack Fleck, of Los Angeles, who had 67s.

17 UNBEATEN TEAMS

College Football's Elite Slated For Drastic Cut

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Major ocllege football's elite-17 teams which are undefeated-is due for a drastic cut today with 10 of them facing each other in key battles across the nation.

The biggest pits two unbeaten Southwest Conference teams — third-ranked Texas and 12th rated Arkansas at Little Rock tonight. Other games featuring unbeatens finds Yale at Cornell, Holy Cross at Syracuse, Southern California at Washington and Air Force playing Oregon at Portland.

But Darrell Royal's Texas Longhorns, fresh from their 19-12 whipping of Oklahoma, are set to test their high-velocity offense against an Arkansas defense that has given only two touchdowns in matching Texas' 4-0 record.

However, Arkansas also must face a Texas defense that was unscored upon until Oklahoma tallied twice in the first period last week. A tremendous duel looms between Arkansas' Jim Mooty and Texas' Rene Ramirez, a pair of flashing halfbacks. Arkansas is also laying an eight game winning string on the line.

Southern Cal, ranked No. 7 in the current Associated Press survey will have its defensive giants in good shape for Washington, 4-0 and ranked 18th. The Trojans (3-0) had last weekend off helping tackle Dan Ficca and Mike McKeeyer recover from injuries. Washington must try and stop a USC offense that leads the Far West Five in total and rushing offense, then must try to move against a defense that is tops in all phases.

Syracuse (No. 8), the nation's top defensive team, will be out to revenge its only 1958 regular season loss when the Crusaders eked out a 14-13 win. The Orange also will face a pretty stout defense. But Holy Cross lost first string quarterback Dick O'Brien last week and must rely on reserves.

Louisiana State, top-ranked and getting stronger each week, travels to Kentucky to begin defense of its Southeastern Conference crowns. Coach Paul Dietzel's men have not allowed four opponents a touchdown, giving only two field goals in rolling up a 4-0 mark.

Georgia Tech (No. 4) has another toughie in Auburn, also a key SEC game. Tech edged Tennessee 14-7 last week while Auburn, after an opening season 3-0 loss to Tennessee, has rolled by its last two opponents.

Fifth-ranked Mississippi, with a 4-0 mark and unscored upon, plays SEC foe Tulane. Tulane has won its last two for a 2-2 mark.

Second-ranked Northwestern (3-0) goes to Michigan, a team it used as a springboard to fame last year with a stunning 55-24 upset. The Wildcats may be in trouble if newly-found quarterback Bob Eichoff isn't over a stiff right shoulder and halfback Ron Burton can't shake a weak ankle.

Unbeaten, but once-tied Purdue (No. 6) plays Ohio State, a shutout victim in its last two games. The Boilermakers (2-0-1) don't figure to let up with their staunch defense that has given only one touchdown. Iowa and Wisconisn, both 2-1, go at it in another Big Ten affair with ninth-ranked Iowa pitting its passing attack that leads the conference against a so-so Wisconsin pass defense.

Penn State (No. 10), with a 4-0 record including last week's 17-11 victory over favored Army, plays Boston University, which upset West Virginia 7-0 for its only victory.

The television game of the day is from East Lansing, Mich., where Notre Dame faces Michigan State. It is set for 1:30 p.m. EST over NBC-TV.

The Air Force (3-0) gets its first serious test against Oregon (4-0) with quarterback Rich Mayo's passing matched against the running of Willie West.

Other top games:

SOUTH: Tennessee vs. Alabama at Birmingham; Richmond at The Citadel; Army at Duke; George Washington at Furman; Mississippi State vs. Georgia at Atlanta; North Carolina at Maryland; Florida State at Memphis State; Florida at Vanderbilt; North Carolina St. at Wake Forest; Virginia at Virginia Tech; Pitt at West Virginia; VMI at William & Mary.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Banks Selected 'Player Of Year'

By FRED DOWN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ernie Banks, the Chicago Cubs' hard-hitting and slick-fielding shortstop, was named the National League's player of the year Friday by the United Press International.

It was the second straight year the 28-year-old slugger from Dallas, Tex., achieved the honor in the voting of a 24-man committee representing every city in the circuit.

The deceptively-powerful Banks received 12 votes compared to eight for Hank Aaron, the Milwaukee Braves' solid-socker who won his second national batting championship. Ed Mathews of the Braves received two votes and Wally Moon of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Willie McCovery of the San Francisco Giants got one each.

Banks, who joined the cubs in 1953, batted .304, hit 45 homers and led the majors with 143 runs batted in this year. He has hit 40 or more homers in four of the last five years and his seven-year total of 228 is surpassed in major league history by only one shortstop—Vern Stephens, who played a total of 15 years.

One of the most durable players of the modern era, Banks played in all 155 of the Cubs' games this year. He has missed only 18 games since the Cubs acquired him from the Kansas City Monarchs for $35,000 in 1953.

Right-handed all the way, the six-foot, 175-pounder set a major league record in 1958 by hitting five grand slam homers and also led the league in slugging percentage and homers. His 47 homers in 1958 are a major league mark for a shortstop.

Aaron, 25, enjoyed the best all-around season of his career in a vain effort to power the Braves to their third straight pennant. He connected for 39 homers, drove in 123 runs and won the batting title with a .355 mark. Aaron won his first batting title with a .328 figure in 1956.

Mathews, bouncing back from a poor 1958 campaign, hit .306, drove in 114 runs and won his second home run title when he hit No. 46 in the second playoff game with the Dodgers to snap a tie with Banks.

Moon, also rebounding from a disappointing 1958 season, batted .302, hit 19 homers and drove in 74 runs to be a key figure in the Dodgers' sensational rise from seventh to first place while McCovey, a gangling rookie first-baseman, hit .356 in 52 games and gave the San Francisco Giants a phenomenal lift when he joined them late in the season.

FIRST ROUND LEADERS

Haas, Millet Fire 66s In La. Open

BOGALUSA, La. (AP)—Honald Millet and Freddie Haas, both New Orleans pros, tied for the lead with four-under-par 66s after the first round of play Friday in the 54-hole Louisiana Open golf tournament.

Millet was out in 32 and back in 34 over the Bogalusa Country Club course, which was slow because of rain. Haas had two 33s.

Buddy Crovetto of New Orleans was alone at 67. Defending champion Jerry Stohland of Maplewood and Ralph Sicks of Lake Charles were tied at 69.

Millet, who set the course record of 60 on Thursday, teamed with James Stevenson and Robert Brock of Bogalusa and Ray Tremont to win the pro-am event with a low ball of 56. Second place at 57 went to pro Billy Brown and amateurs Eddie Price of New Orleans and Charles Richardson and Ben Causey, both of Bogalusa.

STILL UNBEATEN

Packers Winning, Nobody Notices

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Green Bay Packers are the only unbeaten team in the National Football League, and still nobody is taking them seriously.

The Packers, with a 3-0 mark, play the Los Angeles Rams (1-2) Sunday in Milwaukee and the oddsmakers have made the Rams a 2-point favorite in the Western Division headliner.

Meanwhile, the New York Giants are expected to settle a score with the Philadelphia Eagles in the Giants' opener in New York and take a more commanding position in the Eastern race.

Here is the Sunday schedule:

Los Angeles vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee. Philadelphia at New York. Baltimore at Chicago Bears. Chicago Cards at Cleveland. Pittsburgh at Washington. San Francisco at Detroit.

The Packers, who suffered a series of minor injuries in beating San Francisco last week, probably will need to be at their best against a Los Angeles team which has begun rolling behind the hard-running Ollie Matson.

The Baltimore Colts, tied with Sa Francisco at 2-1 for second place in the West, have most of their ace receivers back for Johnny Unitas in the game against the Bears (1-2). Baltimore is favored by a point although the Bears won their first meeting 26-21.

The Detroit Lions, led by Tobin Rote and Howard Cassady, are a 2½ point pick over the 49ers, whose scoring punch is centered in the passing of quarterback Y. A. Tittle and the kicking of Tommy Davis. The Lions looked good last week despite a 311-24 loss to the Colts.

The Giants, whose pride was ruffled by Philadelphia's 49-21 victory two weeks ago, will be out for revenge before a home audience. With Jim Patton, their defensive backfield star, back in action, the New Yorkers are 6½ point favorites. The Giants are tied with Philadelphia and Washington for the Eastern lead with 2-1 records.

The Cleveland Browns (1-2) are a 5½ point pick over the Chicago Cardinals (1-2). The Pittsburgh Steelers (1-2) and Washington Redskins are figured a toss-up.

Wilt Scores 41 In Warrior Win

ABINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Giant Wilt Chamberlain dumped in 41 points Friday night to lead the Philadelphia Warriors to a 113-105 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers in a National Basketball Assn. exhibition game.

Minneapolis led throughout the first two periods and held a 54-51 halftime advantage. Chamberlain scored 25 of his total in the second half. He was high in rebounds with 23.

Miami Rips Middies For 23-8 Triumph

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two long, slashing touchdown drives by Miami in the last quarter broke down a spirited Navy team Friday night as the Hurricanes beat the Middies 23-8 to spoil their first visit to Florida.

Little Fran Curci threw a 16-yard touchdown pass to Jack Herman and Bob Rosbaugh raced 17 yards for another score to break up a stirring duel before 51,694 fans.

It marked the first time since 1951 that Navy has lost three games in a row.

The Hurricanes, gaining easily against Navy, smashed to a 10-0 lead in the first half. But Navy hurried 70 yards to score in 10 plays after the start of the second half to make it a tight 10-8 game until Miami's last quarter outbreak.

With two minutes gone in the final period, the Hurricanes drove 69 yards and Curci, the slick 152-pound quarterback, nailed Herman with a pass in the end zone. Another drive for 74 yards sent Rosbaugh over for the final score.

Joe Bellino plunged a yard for Navy's only touchdown and Jim Maxfield passed to George Bezek for two extra points.

Miami's first period points were made on a two-yard touchdown plunge by Frank Bouffard and a 30-yard field goal by Al Dangel.

Tigers Emplane For Lexington

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Louisiana State's top-ranked tigers left by plane Friday for Lexington, Ky., to open their Southeastern Conference campaign against Kentucky.

Jefferson Falls To St. Aloysius, 14-7

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Unbeaten St. Aloysius preserved its record Friday by rallying to beat East Jefferson 14-7.

East Jefferson took an early lead when Claude Foreman went over from the 1 in the first period and Ronnie Redler converted.

St. Aloysius tied the score in the third period when Roy Weber picked up a fumble at the East Jefferson 38 and ran it over. Bill Krummel kicked the conversion.

SEC HEADLINERS

Bengals Seek 5th Victory; Tulane To Test Ole Miss

Kentucky Out To End Tiger Streak At 16

BATON ROUGE, La., — (Special) — Louisiana State carries its successful three-team system of substitution and college football's longest current winning streak to Lexington, Ky., for the Tigers' Southeastern Conference opener with Kentucky Saturday night.

The Bayou Bengals of Coach Paul Dietzel have won 16 straight games, four this season, employing three colorful platoons who usually outlast the opposition.

A hard-hitting 7-7 tie in the first quarter featured the LSU-Kentucky game last year, before the Tiger platoons, White Team, Go Team, and Chinese Bandits wore down the Wildcats for a 32-7 victory.

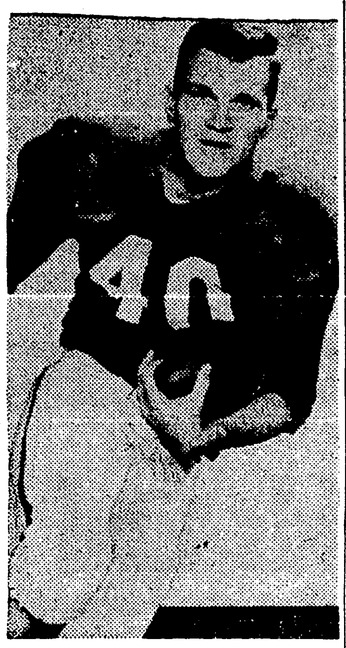
Saturday night's game at Stoll Field shows unbeaten LSU as the favorite, with Kentucky a determined underdog. The Wildcats are winless against three previous SEC powers, Georgia Tech, Ole Miss and Auburn, and will surely have upset plans laid for the top-ranked Bengals.

LSU's defensive record, presently the best in the conference, will be threatened as well as the Tigers' winning string. Kentucky has two capable passers in quarterbacks Jerry Eisaman and Lowell Hughes, and dangerous ball carriers in halfback Calvin "Thunder" Bird, and fullback Glenn Shaw.

The rigid Bengal defense has given up only an average of 66.5 yards rushing per game, and 68.5 yards passing in four games. And the Tigers haven't surrendered a touchdown since the Mississippi State game of last season.

With such a record, LSU defensive standouts are plentiful — guards Emile Fournet and Ed McCreedy; tackles Charles Strange and Mel Branch; end Mickey Mangham; linebackers Max Fugler and John Langan; and an alert pass defending secondary in halfbacks Billy Cannon and Johnny Robinson and quarterback Warren Rabb.

Cannon, also LSU's offensive leader, wrecked Kentucky in 1958 with a two touchdown, 108-yard running performance.



GREENIE FULLBACK — Fullback Connie Andrews is expected to be one of Tulane's big guns when the Greenies play Ole Miss at Oxford this afternoon.

Rugged Rebs Unscored Upon In Four Games

UNIVERSITY, Miss., (Special) —Unbeaten Mississippi and resurgent Tulane meet here Saturday with the stakes high for both teams.

The Green Wave invasion, its first since 1954, will feature the Rebels' Homecoming celebration.

The Rebel problem deals with recent Tulane victories, over previously - unbeaten Wake Forest and Detroit, both on a shutout basis. Those scores were 6 - 0 and 25-0.

Ole Miss exposes a victory string which dates back six games into 1958. Over that span the Rebs have yet to give up a touchdown. To protect any Southeastern conference championship illusions they may be harboring as well as a high national ranking, they can't afford to stumble here Saturday.

Scouting surveys indicate that Tulane carries solid potential, is well equipped, a dangerous football team. The Greenies made mistakes and lost to both Florida and Miami at the start. "They're winning now because they've been eliminating early-season mistakes," Cain reports.

Ole Miss scored its second SEC win of the capaign last Saturday night in Nashville with the 33-0 beating handed a good Vanderbilt team. Earlier, the Rebs downed Kentucky 16-0 in Lexington. They opened at 16-0 past Houston and between 'Tucky and Vandy, bumped Memphis State 43-0.

The unbeaten string includes 1958's season - ending victories over Mississippi State, by 21-o, and the 7-3 Gator Bowl conquest of Florida.

The Rebs drew no injuries of any consequence in downing the Commodores for the sixth-straight time and can count on Bobby Franklin's availability for Homecoming Saturday. The senior quarterback sat out both the Memphis and Vanderbilt games because of a leg injury.

Tulane was beaten in last season's battle in New Orleans, 19-8, with Ole Miss staging a second-half comeback to take the decision. In the two engagements staged here, the Rebs won a 34-7 game in 1954 and snapped a two - tilt Wave winning streak in 1951, 25-6. Since '51, Ole Miss has won seven of eight games. Tulane leads in overall series results, since 1893, 23-16. The Rebs hold a 9-7 margin in Southeastern conference totals.

DEPTH

No One-Man Team At Louisiana Tech

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Louisiana Tech will clash with arch-rival Northwestern State in Shreveport Oct. 24 and if the NSC Demons are looking for any one particular Bulldog back to stop in order to halt the Tech running game the Demons may have a tough job finding him.

Blessed with fairly good depth in the backfield this season, the Tech team has averaged 259 yards per game rushing in four contests and a total of 14 Techsters have gotten in on the ball toting chores.

Tech's first unit halfbacks and fullback are all averaging around six yards per carry and there are in all six Canine backs who have picked up five yards or more per try.

First string halfbacks J. W. Slack, Bossier City, and Paul Hynes, Sulphur, are averaging 6.3 and 6.2 yards in rushing and lead the team in total yardage on the ground. Co-captain Slack, who tops the Gulf States Conference scoring after four games with 21 points, has rolled for 275 yards in 43 carries while Hynes is close on his heels with 242 yard in 39 attempts.

When the Bulldogs need yardage, a plunge by first string fullback Max Rudd is a good way to get it. The 190 pound Minden junior has run for 116 yards this fall and has picked up 5.8 yards per carry.

Halfback David Williamson is the only other Techman who has piled up more than 100 yards in rushing. The speedy El Dorado, Ark., junior has stepped off 105 yards and a 4.3 per carry average.

Canine quarterback Taylor McNeel, Pineville junior who has started in all tilts this season, knows how to move the ball when he is not passing or handing off. He has averaged 4.3 yards in rushing besides completing seven of 24 passes good for 87 yards and one touchdown.

Other Bulldog ballcarriers who have an average of four yards or more include fullback Wayne Parker, Minden sophomore, with 41 yards and a 5.1 average, and halfbacks Andy Farless, Vivian sophomore, 53 yards and a 7.5 avearage, Jack Lestage Lake Charles sophomore, 53 yards and an even 4.0 per try, and George Rhea, sophomore of Minden who has averaged five per carry in the two times he had handled the pigskin.

With an open date this Saturday (Oct. 17), the Tech gridders are looking ahead to the Oct. 24 date and the important Gulf States Conference tussle with the Demons at the State Fair Stadium in Shreveport. Both teams will go into the contest undefeated in GSC action.

Tickets for the Tech-NSC tilt are now on sale at the ticket booth in Tech's Memorial Gymnasium. Tickets for the game will remain on sale until noon on Friday, Oct. 23.

Ankle Injury Sidelines Top Purdue Back

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Purdue suffered a blow to its Big Ten title hopes Friday when quarterback Bernie Allen sustained an ankle injury in a freak accident.

The mishap occurred while the Boilermakers were holding a light workout in preparation for their game against Ohio State here Saturday.

A Purdue spokesman said Allen, filling in for quarterback Ross Fichtner, stepped in a hole at Ohio Stadium. He was rushed to University Hospital where X rays showed there was no fracture.

Allen took over for the injured Fichtner last week against Wisconsin and fired three touchdown passes in Purdue's 21-0 win. He also booted three extra points.

The sixth-ranked Boilermakers arrived in town Friday to tangle with Ohio State, off to its poorest start in 13 seasons.

Coach Woody Hayes' squad has lost two of the first three, and hasn't scored a point in the last eight quarters. Purdue deadlocked its opener with UCLA, whipped Notre Dame and Wisconsin handily and leads the Big Ten in defense.

A year ago the teams battled to a 14-14 tie, tackle Jim Marshall scoring both Buckeye touchdowns —on a blocked punt and a pass interception.

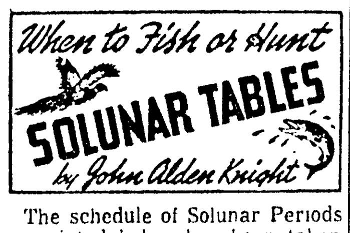
In its 14-13 win over Duke and subsequent non - scoring efforts against Southern Cal and Illinois, Ohio has been outpointed 39-14.

Hoping for a resounding upset, some 83,000 fans will fill the huge Buckeye horseshoe. Much of their optimism is caused by the absence of injured fullback Bob Jarus and quarterback Ross Fichtner from the Boilermakers.

New Attendance Mark On Way At Louisiana State

BATON ROUGE, La. (Special) — Louisiana State University's fabulous football fans have assured the 1959 Tigers of a new southern attendance record. This was effected yesterday when the last remaining tickets for the Mississippi State game were sold, assuring the Bengals of five sell-out crowds.

Athletic Department Officials, admitting that it was a pleasant yet perplexing problem, asked enthusiastic fans who have not secured tickets to refrain from sending checks or money orders, since they will have to be returned. Telephone calls for tickets are also advised against. There just isn't a seat left in Tiger Stadium for the remainder of the home schedule.



The schedule of Solunar Periods as printed below has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Jonesboro Sets Prep Bowl Game

By TOMMY AYRES
Staff Correspondent

JONESBORO, La. — The first annual Paper Bowl, matching two of the top high school football teams in Louisiana, will be played Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 26, at Jonesboro, it was announced today by the local Kiwanis Club, sponsors of the affair. The participating teams have not yet been selected, according to publicity chairman, Allen Earle.

"We are sending out invitations to several schools, to see who will be interested," said Earle. "We plan to obtain the two best teams available, and give north La. grid fans a real treat."

A bowl queen will be selected from one of represented schools by a committee from the Kiwanis. Ira Reeves, chairman of the proposed activities, said an announcement, naming the teams and queen, will be made in the near future.

The game is scheduled to be played in the new Caldwell-Peacock stadium at Jonesboro-Hodge High School. The recently completed concrete structure has a capacity of 2500 seats. Additional steel bleechers on the opposite side of the field accomodates 2500, and in all, over 5000 individuals can be seated for the tilt. Visiting teams will have access to the most modern facilities in the stadium dressing rooms, says school officials.

Proceeds from the game will go for the betterment of community activities in and around Jonesboro. Much of the money will be used to aid charity organizations, to send delegates to Boy's and Girl's State, and recreational improvements.

Michigan State had taken 15 straight non-conference football games before bowing to the Texas Aggies, 9-7, in its opener this season.

Mrs. McClendon Wins Highland Ladies' Throne

Mrs. Travis McClendon beat Mrs. Golda Copes, 1 up in 19 holes, to win the Ladies Club Golf Championship at Highland Park Country Club in West Monroe.

Mrs. McClendon succeeds Mrs. Claude Irby.

Mrs. Irby won the championship flight consolation, defeating Mrs. Juanita Holt, 2 up.

On her way to the finals, Mrs. McClendon beat Lucy Roy, 7 and 6, and Mrs. Bonnie Watkins, 1 up. Mrs. Copes downed Mrs. Blanche Watkins, 5 and 4 and Mrs. Louise Eaves, 2 up.

Ellen Dage won the championship of the first flight with a 2 up victory over Cynthia Feazel, and Lila Simpson beat Joyce Ann Wilson, 2 up, in the first flight consolation.

In the third flight, Daisy Creighton beat Sue Hanson, 2 up, for the championship and Dot Nolan topped Marie Norman, 2 up, in the consolation flight.

Winter Ball Out For World Series Hero

NEW YORK (AP)—There will be no winter ball this year for World Series hero Larry Sherry, now busy cleaning up dollars like he did White Sox.

"I hardly think I'll be playing any winter ball this year," said the icy - nerved, 24-year-old Los Angeles pitcher after picking up another fat check for a television appearance here.

"Last winter my brother Norm (Dodger bullpen catcher) and I played for Maracaibo. This time I'll be to busy with TV paydays. I like it and I won't have to travel a lot. I'll play practice ball in Los Angeles on Sundays."

Sherry, who won two Series games and saved two others in the 4-2 conquest of Chicago, had credited winter ball last year for his vast improvement.

"This week and next," said agent Frank Scott Friday, "Larry will make between $5,000 and $6,000. Before spring training he'll make between $15,000 and $20,000 which is just about what Bob Turley ad Lew Burdette, the heroes of the last two World Series, made."

That, of course, doesn't count the record $11,231.18 share Larry received for the series, and the sports car he won from a magazine after being named the Series' top performer.

Then, of course, Larry is in line for a fat raise over his estimated $8,000 salary for 1959.

Sherry came up to the Dodgers last July 4 after a so-so 6-7 record with St. Paul of the American Assn. He lost his first two games and then reeled off seven victories in a row, including a big playoff win over Milwaukee.

Braves Release Pafko, Lopata

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves Friday released a couple of aging veterans—outfielder Andy Pafko and catcher Stan Lopata—but Pafko was kept as a coach.

Pafko, who played with the Chicago Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers in addition to the Braves during 17 years in the National League, was signed as a coach although Milwaukee still has not named a manager to replace Fred Haney. Lopata, a league veteran of 12 years, was released outright.

Pafko, who will be 39 in February, hit .218 in 64 games this year. Lopata, who is 34, appeared in only 24 games and hit .106.

The Braves also bought infielder Ron Hunt from Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League. Hunt hit .289 with McCook in the class D Nebraska State League.

SEC HEADLINERS

Bengals Seek 5th Victory; Tulane To Test Ole Miss

Kentucky Out To End Tiger Streak At 16

BATON ROUGE, La., — (Special) — Louisiana State carries its successful three-team system of substitution and college football's longest current winning streak to Lexington, Ky., for the Tigers' Southeastern Conference opener with Kentucky Saturday night.

The Bayou Bengals of Coach Paul Dietzel have won 16 straight games, four this season, employing three colorful platoons who usually outlast the opposition.

A hard-hitting 7-7 tie in the first quarter featured the LSU-Kentucky game last year, before the Tiger platoons, White Team, Go Team, and Chinese Bandits wore down the Wildcats for a 32-7 victory.

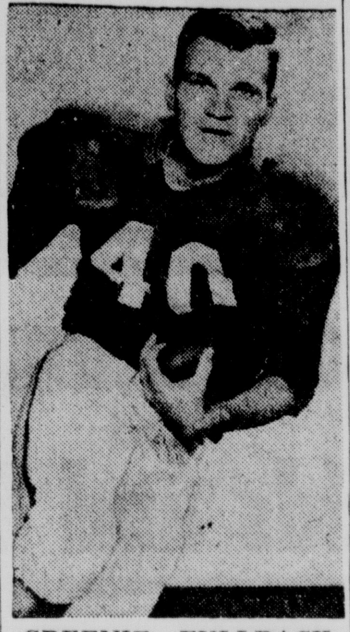
Saturday night's game at Stoll Field shows unbeaten LSU as the favorite, with Kentucky a determined underdog. The Wildcats are winless against three previous SEC powers, Georgia Tech, Ole Miss and Auburn, and will surely have upset plans laid for the top-ranked Bengals.

LSU's defensive record, presently the best in the conference, will be threatened as well as the Tigers' winning string. Kentucky has two capable passers in quarterbacks Jerry Eisaman and Lowell Hughes, and dangerous ball carriers in halfback Calvin "Thunder" Bird, and fullback Glenn Shaw.

The rigid Bengal defense has given up only an average of 66.5 yards rushing per game, and 68.5 yards passing in four games. And the Tigers haven't surrendered a touchdown since the Mississippi State game of last season.

With such a record, LSU defensive standouts are plentiful — guards Emile Fournet and Ed McCreedy; tackles Charles Strange and Mel Branch; end Mickey Mangham; linebackers Max Fugler and John Langan; and an alert pass defending secondary in halfbacks Billy Cannon and Johnny Robinson and quarterback Warren Rabb.

Cannon, also LSU's offensive leader, wrecked Kentucky in 1958 with a two touchdown, 108-yard running performance.



GREENIE FULLBACK — Fullback Connie Andrews is expected to be one of Tulane's big guns when the Greenies play Ole Miss at Oxford this afternoon.

Rugged Rebs Unscored Upon In Four Games

UNIVERSITY, Miss., (Special) —Unbeaten Mississippi and resurgent Tulane meet here Saturday with the stakes high for both teams.

The Green Wave invasion, its first since 1954, will feature the Rebels' Homecoming celebration.

The Rebel problem deals with recent Tulane victories, over previously - unbeaten Wake Forest and Detroit, both on a shutout basis. Those scores were 6 - 0 and 25-0.

Ole Miss exposes a victory string which dates back six games into 1958. Over that span the Rebs have yet to give up a touchdown. To protect any Southeastern conference championship illusions they may be harboring as well as a high national ranking, they can't afford to stumble here Saturday.

Scouting surveys indicate that Tulane carries solid potential, is well equipped, a dangerous football team. The Greenies made mistakes and lost to both Florida and Miami at the start. "They're winning now because they've been eliminating early-season mistakes," Cain reports.

Ole Miss scored its second SEC win of the capaign last Saturday night in Nashville with the 33-0 beating handed a good Vanderbilt team. Earlier, the Rebs downed Kentucky 16-0 in Lexington. They opened at 16-0 past Houston and between 'Tucky and Vandy, bumped Memphis State 43-0.

The unbeaten string includes 1958's season - ending victories over Mississippi State, by 21-o, and the 7-3 Gator Bowl conquest of Florida.

The Rebs drew no injuries of any consequence in downing the Commodores for the sixth-straight time and can count on Bobby Franklin's availability for Homecoming Saturday. The senior quarterback sat out both the Memphis and Vanderbilt games because of a leg injury.

Tulane was beaten in last season's battle in New Orleans, 19-8, with Ole Miss staging a second-half comeback to take the decision. In the two engagements staged here, the Rebs won a 34-7 game in 1954 and snapped a two - tilt Wave winning streak in 1951, 25-6. Since '51, Ole Miss has won seven of eight games. Tulane leads in overall series results, since 1893, 23-16. The Rebs hold a 9-7 margin in Southeastern conference totals.

Ankle Injury Sidelines Top Purdue Back

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Purdue suffered a blow to its Big Ten title hopes Friday when quarterback Bernie Allen sustained an ankle injury in a freak accident.

The mishap occurred while the Boilermakers were holding a light workout in preparation for their game against Ohio State here Saturday.

A Purdue spokesman said Allen, filling in for quarterback Ross Fichtner, stepped in a hole at Ohio Stadium. He was rushed to University Hospital where X rays showed there was no fracture.

Allen took over for the injured Fichtner last week against Wisconsin and fired three touchdown passes in Purdue's 21-0 win. He also booted three extra points.

The sixth-ranked Boilermakers arrived in town Friday to tangle with Ohio State, off to its poorest start in 13 seasons.

Coach Woody Hayes' squad has lost two of the first three, and hasn't scored a point in the last eight quarters. Purdue deadlocked its opener with UCLA, whipped Notre Dame and Wisconsin handily and leads the Big Ten in defense.

A year ago the teams battled to a 14-14 tie, tackle Jim Marshall scoring both Buckeye touchdowns —on a blocked punt and a pass interception.

In its 14-13 win over Duke and subsequent non - scoring efforts agaist Southern Cal and Illinois, Ohio has been outpointed 39-14.

Hoping for a resounding upset, some 83,000 fans will fill the huge Buckeye horseshoe. Much of their optimism is caused by the absence of injured fullback Bob Jarus and quarterback Ross Fichtner from the Boilermakers.

New Attendance Mark On Way At Louisiana State

BATON ROUGE, La. (Special) — Louisiana State University's fabulous football fans have assured the 1959 Tigers of a new southern attendance record. This was effected yesterday when the last remaining tickets for the Mississippi State game were sold, assuring the Bengals of five sellout crowds.

Athletic Department Officials, admitting that it was a pleasant yet perplexing problem, asked enthusiastic fans who have not secured tickets to refrain from sending checks or money orders, since they will have to be returned. Telephone calls for tickets are also advised against. There just isn't a seat left in Tiger Stadium for the remainder of the home schedule.

No One-Man Team At Louisiana Tech

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Louisiana Tech will clash with arch-rival Northwestern State in Shreveport Oct. 24 and if the NSC Demons are looking for any one particular Bulldog back to stop in order to halt the Tech running game the Demons may have a tough job finding him.

Blessed with fairly good depth in the backfield this season, the Tech team has averaged 259 yards per game rushing in four contests and a total of 14 Techsters have gotten in on the ball toting chores.

Tech's first unit halfbacks and fullback are all averaging around six yards per carry and there are in all six Canine backs who have picked up five yards or more per try.

First string halfbacks J. W. Slack, Bossier City, and Paul Hynes, Sulphur, are averaging 6.3 and 6.2 yards in rushing and lead the team in total yardage on the ground. Co-captain Slack, who tops the Gulf States Conference scoring after four games with 21 points, has rolled for 275 yards in 43 carries while Hynes is close on his heels with 242 yard in 39 attempts.

When the Bulldogs need yardage, a plunge by first string fullback Max Rudd is a good way to get it. The 190 pound Minden junior has run for 116 yards this fall and has picked up 5.8 yards per carry.

Halfback David Williamson is the only other Techman who has piled up more than 100 yards in rushing. The speedy El Dorado, Ark., junior has stepped off 105 yards and a 4.3 per carry average.

Canine quarterback Taylor McNeel, Pineville junior who has started in all tilts this season, knows how to move the ball when he is not passing or handing off. He has averaged 4.3 yards in rushing besides completing seven of 24 passes good for 87 yards and one touchdown.

Other Bulldog ballcarriers who have an average of four yards or more include fullback Wayne Parker, Minden sophomore, with 41 yards and a 5.1 average, and halfbacks Andy Farless, Vivian sophomore, 53 yards and a 7.5 avearage, Jack Lestage Lake Charles sophomore, 53 yards and an even 4.0 per try, and George Rhea, sophomore of Minden who has averaged five per carry in the two times he had handled the pigskin.

With an open date this Saturday (Oct. 17), the Tech gridders are looking ahead to the Oct. 24 date and the important Gulf States Conference tussle with the Demons at the State Fair Stadium in Shreveport. Both teams will go into the contest undefeated in GSC action.

Tickets for the Tech-NSC tilt are now on sale at the ticket booth in Tech's Memorial Gymnasium. Tickets for the game will remain on sale until noon on Friday, Oct. 23.

Tribe Plays McNeese In GSC Opener Here

'Pokes Try For First Loop Win

Northeast, reasonably hale and hearty for a change, ventures into Gulf States Conference activity for the first time tonight against McNeese, a club still looking for its first GSC win after two tries.

This ninth version of Louisiana's Cowboys-Indians war gets under way at 8 o'clock at Brown Stadium.

After four games with at least one, and usually more, regulars sidelined by injuries, Jack Rowan's Northeast Indians have only halfback Terry Reeves on the doubtful list. The Monroe speedster is nursing a bruised elbow. Farmerville's Levy Redden will probably start in Reeves' spot.

McNeese, on the other hand, has two linemen on the doubtful list, end Johnny Steed (shoulder injury) and guard Jimmy Stubbs (illness).

However, Les DeVall's Cowboys should have three previously injured players to be back in action, Lake Providence fullback Harold Thomas, center Lenny Kahn and end Lenny Jones. Kahn was the only one of the three to see action in McNeese's win over Tampa last weekend.

Successful in two starts against non-league opposition, McNeese has stumbled twice in GSC play, losing to Northwestern, 19-6, in the season opener, and to Louisiana Tech, 28-0, two weeks ago.

Outside the Gulf States circuit, the Cowboys have beaten Stephen F. Austin, 20-7, and Tampa, 27-14.

Northeast, after losing its first three games this year to extend a 1958-59 losing streak to six games, edged Arlington, 26-21, last Saturday.

The Indians opened the year with a 15-0 loss to Arkansas State, fell to Delta State, 14-13, and East Texas, 20-0, before topping Arlington.

Last year Northeast took its only victory in eight games with McNeese, a 29-14 triumph.

With quarterback Bob Randel back in form, Northeast pins its hopes for a successful GSC debut on a good passing attack and the running of workhouse fullback Smokey Stover.

Randel threw 10 times in the victory over Arlington and connected on six for 94 yards and one touchdown. Stover ran 12 times last week and picked up 51 yards and was never thrown for a loss.

Up front, Northeast is led by end Jerry Head, the GSC's "Lineman of the Week" for his performance against Arlington.

Head's companion at end, Pete Covington leads the club in tackles with 16 and assists with 13. Co-captain Alfred Feeney, a Woodside, New York, senior, is credited with 11 key blocks to lead the team. Tackle Delmas Thorne is second in individual tackles with 13 and has five assists.

Sophomore quarterbacks Don Breaux of Lake Charles and Nolan Viator of Sulphur and halfbacks Olen Clark, a senior from West Lake, and Ted Brevelle, Oakdale sophomore, have been McNeese's outstanding offensive performers.

Breaux leads the Cowboys in passing an total offense. He has completed seven of 16 throws for 127 yards and has netted another 93 yards in 24 rushing attempts.

Viator has completed four of 13 passes for 61 yards and has accounted for 85 yards on 25 rushes.

Clark leads the Cowpokes in five offensive departments. He has gained 184 yards in 32 rushes for a 5.75-yard average. Clark has hauled in five passes for 91 yards and has punted 15 times for a 37.4-yard average. He also paces the 'Pokes in scoring with 18 points and kickoff returns with 110 yards in six tries.

Although Brevelle has been used infrequently as a ball carrier, he has managed to net 100 yards. He has carried only 14 times. Brevelle is also a fine pass receiver and defensive back.

Steed, tackle Curt Leggett and Stubbs have been McNeese's most consistent linemen, along with Kahn.

A cross country run matching the 1958 GSC co-champions, Northeast and McNeese, and third-place Louisiana Tech will be staged at halftime.

Celts, Royals Meet In NBA Opener Today

BOSTON (AP) — The National Basketball Assn. opens its 14th season Saturday afternoon with a nationally televised (NBC) game between the Cincinnati Royals and the champion Boston Celtics.

There are many new faces in the league this year, headed by the famous Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, the two-time Kansas All-America who was obtained by the Philadelphia Warriors from the Harlem Globetrotters.

Other top former collegians making their NBA debuts will be Bailey Howell of Mississippi State with Detroit, Dick Barnett of Tennessee A&I with Syracuse, and Johnny Green of Michigan State with New York.

Saturday's opener begins at 4 p.m., EST.

A new rule, tested during the exhibition season, has been approved by the NBA Board of Governors and will be in effect starting with Saturday's opener, League President Maurice Podoloff announced in New York.

The rule is: After the offensive team has advanced the ball to the front court area, the defensive player is not permitted to place himself in the key for longer than three seconds with no apparent attempt to play his opponent.

The penalty for violation is a technical foul shot by the offensive team, which also retains possession of the ball out of bounds in a line where play was stopped.

The rule will limit a defensive player from clogging up the middle and will make him play his defensive man. It also will enable the offensive team to drive across the keyhole toward the basket without running into a stationary defensive player.

Dallas May Field 2 Pro Grid Teams

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Dallas Times Herald said Friday Dallas might have two pro football teams next season.

The newspaper quoted Bedford Wynne as saying he and Clint Murchison Jr., both men of wealth, have spoken to George Halas of the National Football League about placing a team in Dallas in 1960.

"We've talked to Halas but we don't know anything concrete as yet," Wynne said.

Lamar Hunt, founder of the new American League, said the possible expansion is the result of his new league's strength.

"It's the same old story," said Hunt an oil man. "There's not much doubt the National League wouldn't be talking about expansion if it weren't for the second league."

Demons All Even At Halfway Mark

NATCHITOCHES, La. (Special) — After an open date this weekend, the Northwestern State College Demons will head into the second half of their 1959-60 schedule all even in the won-lost column.

Next action for the Demons is on Oct. 24 against Louisiana Tech in a tilt which officially opens the 1959 Louisiana State Fair in Shreveport.

Of the first five Demon foes, only one was a Gulf States Conference opponent. That one was McNeese State and the Demons snared a 19-6 victory over the Cowboys.

The final half of the NSC slate finds four more GSC teams and one non-conference unit, Colorado School of Mines. Thus, Coach Jack Clayton and his staff know that it's play for keeps if they are to retain the championship status they've held the past two campaigns.

Team statistics at the halfway point of the season show the Demons with a slight total offense edge over their five opponents, 1,226 yards to 1,113 yards. NSC is down, 783 to 724, in rushing figures but has a 502 to 330 edge in passing yardage.

Quarterback Dale Hoffpauir is making a strong bid for his third straight GSC passing crown. The three-year veteran is hurling 45 per cent with 26 completions out of 57 attempts for 376 net yards. Close behind is sophomore quarterback Larry Crowe with a 42 per cent on seven completions of 17 attempts for 126 yards.

A pair of halfbacks, Troy Burch and Ralph Conrad, are staging a spirited drive for rushing honors. Burch currently leads with 183 yards on 29 carries for a 6.3 per game average. Conrad is close behind with 169 yards on 37 carries for a 33.8 per game average.

Conrad holds the edge in pass receiving with five catches for 157 yards and one touchdown. All-GSC end Billy Jack Booth has more catches, eight, but trails with 128 yardage. He also has hauled in one payoff aerial.

Hoffpauir holds the team total offense lead with 395 yards, only 19 of which has come rushing. His per game average is 79.0.

Ranking among the nation's leading punters in small colleges is freshman halfback Jim Griffin, who has booted four times for an average of 42.5 yards per boot. Jerry Lott, senior halback, has a 37.3 average for three kicks and holds down second place.

Top Women Netters Set For Pro Career

NEW YORK (AP)—Althea Gibson, the pride of Harlem, and Karol Fageros, Miami's gold panties girl, will chuck their amateur standing early next week to make a professional tennis tour of the world.

They will launch their head-to-head series Dec. 28 as a preliminary to the Harlem Globetrotters basketball show at Madison Square Garden, it was learned Friday.

Miss Gibson was not available for comment. Her attorney, Earl Zaidins, declined to deny or confirm the report. He said, "I'm sorry, I can't say anything at this time. I can only say that plans for Althea will make her very happy."

It's been an open secret for months that Miss Gibson, two time Wimbledon champion, planned to enter pro ranks. It was the format of her tour which hung in the balance.

During the U. S. National championships at Forest Hills in September, efforts were made to get a group of the world's leading women players under contract. These plans collapsed when some of the players—Darlene Hard, for one—proved a disappointment and others declined to make the move.

The newest venture calls for 12-week tour of leading American cities, plus a sweep through Europe.

Later, depending on how the show is received, the two girls may go into South America and even Australia, where tennis enjoys a touchdown boom.

Former LSU Back Nears Rushing Mark

DECORAH, Iowa (AP)—A knee injury as a Louisiana State freshman kept Brad Hustad from playing on a national championship team—but the towheaded fullback has no regrets.

He left LSU after the injury but later decided to give football another try—and Saturday the Luther College mainstay is almost a cinch to break the American college rushing record.

"Oh, I watch LSU on television and wonder what might have been when I see some of my old teammates who were laying out a year when I was there on the Chinese Bandit unit," Hustad said.

"But it's been swell here at Luther and I have no regrets about not playing with Louisiana State's team which won the national title last year."

Hustad has gained 3,421 yards rushing in 23 games and needs only 99 against Simpson in an Iowa Conference scrap to hit the 2-mile mark of 3,520 yards.

The record for three-year competitors is 3,519 yards, set in 1951-53 by Leo Lewis of Lincoln (Mo.) University.

The 190-pounder's best individual performance was against Upper Iowa in 1957 when he picked up 263 yards rushing.

He rolled up 1,401 yards that year to become the first sophomore ever to win the small college rushing championship.

He slipped a bit as a junior and missed the national title by four yards with 1,354, but was named on the Little All-America team.

This year he has gained 666 yards in five games and leads small college rushers.

Luther has lost only four games since Hustad joined the team. The school won the conference title in Hustad's sophomore year, was second with a 7-1-1 record last year, and is 3-2 this season.

Enemy defenses have been keyed to Hustad's plunges since his dazzling sophomore season but he has been held to less than 100 yards rushing in only four games.

17 UNBEATEN TEAMS

College Football's Elite Slated For Drastic Cut

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Major college football's elite-17 teams which are undefeated-is due for a drastic cut today with 10 of them facing each other in key battles across the nation.

The biggest pits two unbeaten Southwest Conference teams — third - ranked Texas and 12th rated Arkansas at Little Rock tonight. Other games featuring unbeatens finds Yale at Cornell, Holy Cross at Syracuse, Southern California at Washington and Air Force playing Oregon at Portland.

But Darrell Royal's Texas Longhorns, fresh from their 19-12 whipping of Oklahoma, are set to test their high-velocity offense against an Arkansas defense that has given only two touchdowns in matching Texas' 4-0 record.

However, Arkansas also must face a Texas defense that was unscored upon until Oklahoma tallied twice in the first period last week. A tremendous duel looms between Arkansas' Jim Mooty and Texas' Rene Ramirez, a pair of flashing halfbacks. Arkansas is also laying an eight game winning string on the line.

Southern Cal, ranked No. 7 in the current Associated Press survey will have its defensive giants in good shape for Washington, 4-0 and ranked 18th. The Trojans (3-0) had last weekend off helping tackle Dan Ficca and Mike McKeever recover from injuries. Washington must try and stop a USC offense that leads the Far West Five in total and rushing offense, then must try to move against a defense that is tops in all phases.

Syracuse (No. 8), the nation's top defensive team, will be out to revenge its only 1958 regular season loss when the Crusaders eked out a 14-13 win. The Orange also will face a pretty stout defense. But Holy Cross lost first string quarterback Dick O'Brien last week and must rely on reserves.

Louisiana State, top-ranked and getting stronger each week, travels to Kentucky to begin defense of its Southeastern Conference crowns. Coach Paul Dietzel's men have not allowed four opponents a touchdown, giving only two field goals in rolling up a 4-0 mark.

Georgia Tech (No. 4) has another toughie in Auburn, also a key SEC game. Tech edged Tennessee 14-7 last week while Auburn, after an opening season 3-0 loss to Tennessee, has rolled by its last two opponents.

Fifth-ranked Mississippi, with a 4 - 0 mark and unscored upon, plays SEC foe Tulane. Tulane has won its last two for a 2-2 mark.

Second-ranked Northwestern (3-0) goes to Michigan, a team it used as a springboard to fame last year with a stunning 55-24 upset. The Wildcats may be in trouble if newly - found quarterback Bob Eichoff isn't over a stiff right shoulder and halfback Ron Burton can't shake a weak ankle.

Unbeaten, but once-tied Purdue (No. 6) plays Ohio State, a shut-out victim in its last two games. The Boilermakers (2-0-1) don't figure to let up with their staunch defense that has given only one touchdown. Iowa and Wisconsin, both 2-1, go at it in another Big Ten affair with ninth-ranked Iowa pitting its passing attack that leads the conference against a so-so Wisconsin pass defense.

Penn State (No. 10), with a 4-0 record including last week's 17-11 victory over favored Army, plays Boston University, which upset West Virginia 7-0 for its only victory.

The television game of the day is from East Lansing, Mich., where Notre Dame faces Michigan State. It is set for 1:30 p.m. EST over NBC-TV.

The Air Force (3-0) gets its first serious test against Oregon (4-0) with quarterback Rich Mayo's passing matched against the running of Willie West.

Other top games:

SOUTH: Tennessee vs. Alabama at Birmingham; Richmond at The Citadel; Army at Duke; George Washington at Furman; Mississippi State vs. Georgia at Atlanta; North Carolina at Maryland; Florida State at Memphis State; Florida at Vanderbilt; North Carolina St. at Wake Forest; Virginia at Virginia Tech; Pitt at West Virginia; VMI at William & Mary.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Banks Selected 'Player Of Year'

By FRED DOWN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ernie Banks, the Chicago Cubs' hard-hitting and slick-fielding shortstop, was named the National League's player of the year Friday by the United Press International.

It was the second straight year the 28-year-old slugger from Dallas, Tex., achieved the honor in the voting of a 24-man committee representing every city in the circuit.

The deceptively-powerful Banks received 12 votes compared to eight for Hank Aaron, the Milwaukee Braves' solid-socker who won his second national batting championship. Ed Mathews of the Braves received two votes and Wally Moon of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Willie McCovery of the San Francisco Giants got one each.

Banks, who joined the cubs in 1953, batted .304, hit 45 homers and led the majors with 143 runs batted in this year. He has hit 40 or more homers in four of the last five years and his seven-year total of 228 is surpassed in major league history by only one shortstop—Vern Stephens, who played a total of 15 years.

One of the most durable players of the modern era, Banks played in all 155 of the Cubs' games this year. He has missed only 18 games since the Cubs acquired him from the Kansas City Monarchs for $35,000 in 1953.

Right-handed all the way, the six-foot, 175-pounder set a major league record in 1958 by hitting five grand slam homers and also led the league in slugging percentage and homers. His 47 homers in 1958 are a major league mark for a shortstop.

Aaron, 25, enjoyed the best all-around season of his career in a vain effort to power the Braves to their third straight pennant. He connected for 39 homers, drove in 123 runs and won the batting title with a .355 mark. Aaron won his first batting title with a .328 figure in 1956.

Mathews, bouncing back from a poor 1958 campaign, hit .306, drove in 114 runs and won his second home run title when he hit No. 46 in the second playoff game with the Dodgers to snap a tie with Banks.

Moon, also rebounding from a disappointing 1958 season, batted .302, hit 19 homers and drove in 74 runs to be a key figure in the Dodgers' sensational rise from seventh to first place while McCovey, a gangling rookie first-baseman, hit .356 in 52 games and gave the San Francisco Giants a phenomenal lift when he joined them late in the season.

BOGALUSA, La. (AP)—Honald Millet and Freddie Haas, both New Orleans pros, tied for the lead with four-under-par 66s after the first round of play Friday in the 54-hole Louisiana Open golf tournament.

STILL UNBEATEN

Packers Winning, Nobody Notices

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Green Bay Packers are the only unbeaten team in the National Football League, and still nobody is taking them seriously.

The Packers, with a 3-0 mark, play the Los Angeles Rams (1-2) Sunday in Milwaukee and the oddsmakers have made the Rams a 2-point favorite in the Western Division headliner.

Meanwhile, the New York Giants are expected to settle a score with the Philadelphia Eagles in the Giants' opener in New York and take a more commanding position in the Eastern race.

Here is the Sunday schedule: Los Angeles vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee. Philadelphia at New York. Baltimore at Chicago Bears. Chicago Cards at Cleveland. Pittsburgh at Washington. San Francisco at Detroit.

The Packers, who suffered a series of minor injuries in beating San Francisco last week, probably will need to be at their best against a Los Angeles team which has begun rolling behind the hard-running Ollie Matson.

The Baltimore Colts, tied with San Francisco at 2-1 for second place in the West, have most of their ace receivers back for Johnny Unitas in the game against the Bears (1-2). Baltimore is favored by a point although the Bears won their first meeting 26-21.

The Detroit Lions, led by Tobin Rote and Howard Cassady, are a 2½ point pick over the 49ers, whose scoring punch is centered in the passing of quarterback Y. A. Tittle and the kicking of Tommy Davis. The Lions looked good last week despite a 311-24 loss to the Colts.

The Giants, whose pride was ruffled by Philadelphia's 49-21 victory two weeks ago, will be out for revenge before a home audience. With Jim Patton, their defensive backfield star, back in action, the New Yorkers are 6½ point favorites. The Giants are tied with Philadelphia and Washington for the Eastern lead with 2-1 records.

The Cleveland Browns (1-2) are a 5½ point pick over the Chicago Cardinals (1-2). The Pittsburgh Steelers (1-2) and Washington Redskins are figured a toss-up.

Wilt Scores 41 In Warrior Win

ABINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Giant Wilt Chamberlain dumped in 41 points Friday night to lead the Philadelphia Warriors to a 113-105 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers in a National Basketball Assn. exhibition game.

Minneapolis led throughout the first two periods and held a 54-51 halftime advantage. Chamberlain scored 25 of his total in the second half. He was high in scoring with 23.

Miami Rips Middies For 23-8 Triumph

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two long, slashing touchdown drives by Miami in the last quarter broke down a spirited Navy team Friday night as the Hurricanes beat the Middies 23-8 to spoil their first visit to Florida.

Little Fran Curci threw a 16-yard touchdown pass to Jack Herman and Bob Rosbaugh raced 17 yards for another score to pick up a stirring duel before 51,694 fans.

It marked the first time since 1951 that Navy has lost three games in a row.

The Hurricanes, gaining easily against Navy, smashed to a 10-0 lead in the first half. But Navy hurried 70 yards to score in 10 plays after the start of the second half to make it a tight 10-8 game until Miami's last quarter outbreak.

With two minutes gone in the final period, the Hurricanes drove 69 yards and Curci, the slick 152-pound quarterback, nailed Herman with a pass in the end zone. Another drive for 74 yards sent Rosbaugh over for the final score.

Joe Bellino plunged a yard for Navy's only touchdown and Jim Maxfield passed to George Bezek for two extra points.

Miami's first period points were made on a two-yard touchdown plunge by Frank Bouffard and a 30-yard field goal by Al Dangel.

Tigers Emplane For Lexington

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Louisiana State's top-ranked tigers left by plane Friday for Lexington, Ky., to open their Southeastern Conference campaign against Kentucky.

Coach Paul Dietzel planned a workout on Stoll Field later in the day.

Jefferson Falls To St. Aloysius, 14-7

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Unbeaten St. Aloysius preserved its record Friday by rallying to beat East Jefferson 14-7.

East Jefferson took an early lead when Claude Foreman went over from the 1 in the first period and Ronnie Redler converted.

St. Aloysius tied the score in the third period when Roy Weber picked up a fumble at the East Jefferson 38 and ran it over. Bill Krummel kicked the conversion.

Tribe Plays McNeese In GSC Opener Here

'Pokes Try For First Loop Win

Northeast, reasonably hale and hearty for a change, ventures into Gulf States Conference activity for the first time tonight against McNeese, a club still looking for its first GSC win after two tries.

This ninth version of Louisiana's Cowboys-Indians war gets under way at 8 o'clock at Brown Stadium.

After four games with at least one, and usually more, regulars sidelined by injuries, Jack Rowan's Northeast Indians have only halfback Terry Reeves on the doubtful list. The Monroe speedster is nursing a bruised elbow. Farmerville's Levy Redden will probably start in Reeves' spot.

McNeese, on the other hand, has two linemen on the doubtful list, end Johnny Steed (shoulder injury) and guard Jimmy Stubbs (illness).

However, Les DeVall's Cowboys should have three previously injured players to be back in action, Lake Providence fullback Harold Thomas, center Lenny Kahn and end Lenny Jones. Kahn was the only one of the three to see action in McNeese's win over Tampa last weekend.

Successful in two starts against non-league opposition, McNeese has stumbled twice in GSC play, losing to Northwestern, 19-6, in the season opener, and to Luuisiana Tech, 28-0, two weeks ago.

Outside the Gulf States circuit, the Cowboys have beaten Stephen F. Austin, 20-7, and Tampa, 27-14.

Northeast, after losing its first three games this year to extend a 1958-59 losing streak to six game edged Arlington, 26-21, last Saturday.

The Indians opened the year with a 15-0 loss to Arkansas State, fell to Delta State, 14-13, and East Texas, 20-0, before topping Arlington.

Last year Northeast took its only victory in eight games with McNeese, a 29-14 triumph.

With quarterback Bob Randel back in form, Northeast pins its hopes for a successful GSC debut on a good passing attack and the running of workhouse fullback Smokey Stover.

Randel threw 10 times in the viltory over Arlington and connected on six for 94 yards and one touchdown. Stover ran 12 times last week and picked up 51 yards and was never thrown for a loss.

Up front, Northeast is led by end Jerry Head, the GSC's "Lineman of the Week" for his performance against Arlington.

Head's companion at end, Pete Covington leads the club in tackles with 16 and assists with 13. Co-captain Alfred Feeney, a Woodside, New York, senior, is credited with 11 key blocks to lead the team. Tackle Delmas Thorne is second in individual tackles with 13 and has five assists.

Sophomore quarterbacks Don Breaux of Lake Charles and Nolan Viator of Sulphur and halfbacks Olen Clark, a senior from West Lake, and Ted Brevelle, Oakdale sophomore, have been McNeese's outstanding offensive performers.

Breaux leads the Cowboys in passing an total offense. He has completed seven of 16 throws for 127 yards and has netted another 93 yards in 24 rushing attempts.

Viator has completed four of 13 passes for 61 yards and has accounted for 85 yards on 25 rushes.

Clark leads the Cowpokes in five offensive departments. He has gained 184 yards in 32 rushes for a 5.75-yard average. Clark has hauled in five passes for 91 yards and has punted 15 times for a 37.4-yard average. He also paces the 'Pokes in scoring with 18 points and kickoff returns with 110 yards in six tries.

Although Brevelle has been used infrequently as a ball carrier, he has managed to net 100 yards. He has carried only 14 times. Brevelle is also a fine pass receiver and defensive back.

Steed, tackle Curt Leggett and Stubbs have been McNeese's most consistent linemen, along with Kahn.

A cross country run matching the 1958 GSC co-champions, Northeast and McNeese, and third-place Louisiana Tech will be staged at halftime.

Celts, Royals Meet In NBA Opener Today

BOSTON (AP) — The National Basketball Assn. opens its 14th season Saturday afternoon with a nationally televised (NBC) game between the Cincinnati Royals and the champion Boston Celtics.

There are many new faces in the league this year, headed by the famous Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, the two-time Kansas All-America who was obtained by the Philadelphia Warriors from the Harlem Globetrotters.

Other top former collegians making their NBA debuts will be Bailey Howell of Mississippi State with Detroit, Dick Barnett of Tennessee A&I with Syracuse, and Johnny Green of Michigan State with New York.

Saturday's opener begins at 4 p.m., EST.

A new rule, tested during the exhibition season, has been approved by the NBA Board of Governors and will be in effect starting with Saturday's opener, League President Maurice Podoloff announced in New York.

The rule is: After the offensive team has advanced the ball to the front court area, the defensive player is not permitted to place himself in the key for longer than three seconds with no apparent attempt to play his opponent.

The penalty for violation is a technical foul shot by the offensive team, which also retains possession of the ball out of bounds in a line where play was stopped.

The rule will limit a defensive player from clogging up the middle and will make him play his defensive man. It also will enable the offensive team to drive across the keyhole toward the basket without running into a stationary defensive plazer.

Dallas May Field 2 Pro Grid Teams

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Dallas Times Herald said Friday Dallas might have two pro football teams next season.

The newspaper quoted Bedford Wynne as saying he and Clint Murchison Jr., both men of wealth, have spoken to George Halas of the National Football League about placing a team in Dallas in 1960.

"We've talked to Halas but we don't know anything concrete as yet," Wynne said.

Lamar Hunt, founder of the new American League, said the possible expansion is the result of his new league's strength.

"It's the same old story," said Hunt an oil man. "There's not much doubt the National League wouldn't be talking about expansion if it weren't for the second league."

MEET TECH OCT. 24

Demons All Even At Halfway Mark

NATCHITOCHES, La. (Special) — After an open date this weekend, the Northwestern State College Demons will head into the second half of their 1959-60 schedule all even in the won-lost columns.

Next action for the Demons is on Oct. 24 against Louisiana Tech in a tilt which officially opens the 1959 Louisiana State Fair in Shreveport.

Of the first five Demon foes, only one was a Gulf States Conference opponent. That one was McNeese State and the Demons snared a 19-6 victory over the Cowboys.

The final half of the NSC slate finds four more GSC teams and one non-conference unit, Colorado School of Mines. Thus, Coach Jack Clayton and his staff know that it's play for keeps if they are to retain the championship status they've held the past two campaigns.

Team statistics at the halfway point of the season show the Demons with a slight total offense edge over their five opponents, 1,226 yards to 1,113 yards. NSC is down, 783 to 724, in rushing figures but has a 502 to 330 edge in passing yardage.

Quarterback Dale Hoffpauir is making a strong bid for his third straight GSC passing crown. The three-year veteran is hurling 45 per cent with 26 completions out of 57 attempts for 376 net yards. Close behind is sophomore quarterback Larry Crowe with a 42 per cent on seven completions of 17 attempts for 126 yards.

A pair of halfbacks, Troy Burch and Ralph Conrad, are staging a spirited drive for rushing honors. Burch currently leads with 183 yards on 29 carries for a 36.6 per game average. Conrad is close behind with 169 yards on 37 carries for a 33.8 per game average.

Conrad holds the edge in pass receiving with five catches for 157 yards and one touchdown. All-GSC end Billy Jack Booth has more catches, eight, but trails with 128 yardage. He also has hauled in one payoff aerial.

Hoffpauir holds the team total offense lead with 395 yards, only 19 of which has come rushing. His per game average is 79.0.

Ranking among the nation's leading punters in small colleges is freshman halfback Jim Griffin, who has booted four times for an average of 42.5 yards per boot. Jerry Lott, senior halback, has a 37.3 average for three kicks and holds down second place.

Top Women Netters Set For Pro Career

NEW YORK (AP)—Althea Gibson, the pride of Harlem, and Karol Fageros, Miami's gold panties girl, will chuck their amateur standing early next week to make a professional tennis tour of the world.

They will launch their head-to-head series Dec. 28 as a preliminary to the Harlem Globetrotters basketball show at Madison Square Garden, it was learned Friday.

Miss Gibson was not available for comment. Her attorney, Earl Zaidins, declined to deny or confirm the report. He said, "I'm sorry, I can't say anything at this time. I can only say that plans for Althea will make her very happy."

It's been an open secret for months that Miss Gibson,two time Wimbledon champion, planned to enter pro ranks. It was the format of her tour which hung in the balance.

During the U. S. National championships at Forest Hills in September, efforts were made to get a group of the world's leading women players under contract. These plans collapsed when some of the players—Darlene Hard, for one—proved a disappointment and others declined to make the move.

The newest venture calls for 12-week tour of leading American cities, plus a sweep through Europe.

Later, depending on how the show is received, the two girls may go into South America and even Australia, where tennis enjoys a touchdown boom.

Former LSU Back Nears Rushing Mark

DECORAH, Iowa (AP)—A knee injury as a Louisiana State freshman kept Brad Hustad from playing on a national championship team—but the towheaded fullback has no regrets.

He left LSU after the injury but later decided to give football another try—and Saturday the Luther College mainstay is almost a cinch to break the American college rushing record.

"Oh, I watch LSU on television and wonder what might have been when I see some of my old teammates who were laying out a year when I was there on the Chinese Bandit unit," Hustad said.

"But it's been swell here at Luther and I have no regrets about not playing with Louisiana State's team which won the national title last year."

Hustad has gained 3,421 yards rushing in 23 games and needs only 99 against Simpson in an Iowa Conference scrap to hit the 2-mile mark of 3,520 yards.

The record for three-year competitors is 3,519 yards, set in 1951-53 by Leo Lewis of Lincoln (Mo.) University.

The 190-pounder's best individual performance was against Upper Iowa in 1957 when he picked up 263 yards rushing.

He rolled up 1,401 yards that year to become the first sophomore ever to win the small college rushing championship.

He slipped a bit as a junior and missed the national title by four yards with 1,354, but was named on the Little All-America team.

This year he has gained 666 yards in five games and leads small college rushers.

Luther has lost only four games since Hustad joined the team. The school won the conference title in Hustad's sophomore year, was second with a 7-1-1 record last year, and is 3-2 this season.

Enemy defenses have been keyed to Hustad's plunges since his dazzling sophomore season but he has been held to less than 100 yards rushing in only four games.

STILL UNBEATEN

Packers Winning, Nobody Notices

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Green Bay Packers are the only unbeaten team in the National Football League, and still nobody is taking them seriously.

The Packers, with a 3-0 mark, play the Los Angeles Rams (1-2) Sunday in Milwaukee and the oddsmakers have made the Rams a 2-point favorite in the Western Division headliner.

Meanwhile, the New York Giants are expected to settle a score with the Philadelphia Eagles in the Giants' opener in New York and take a more commanding position in the Eastern race.

Here is the Sunday schedule:

Los Angeles vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee. Philadelphia at New York. Baltimore at Chicago Bears. Chicago Cards at Cleveland. Pittsburgh at Washington. San Francisco at Detroit.

The Packers, who suffered a series of minor injuries in beating San Francisco last week, probably will need to be at their best against a Los Angeles team which has begun rolling behind the hard-running Ollie Matson.

The Baltimore Colts, tied with Sa Francisco at 2-1 for second place in the West, have most of their ace receivers back for Johnny Unitas in the game against the Bears (1-2). Baltimore is favored by a point although the Bears won their first meeting 26-21.

The Detroit Lions, led by Tobin Rote and Howard Cassady, are a 2½ point pick over the 49ers, whose scoring punch is centered in the passing of quarterback Y. A. Tittle and the kicking of Tommy Davis. The Lions looked good last week despite a 311-24 loss to the Colts.

The Giants, whose pride was ruffled by Philadelphia's 49-21 victory two weeks ago, will be out for revenge before a home audience. With Jim Patton, their defensive backfield star, back in action, the New Yorkers are 6½ point favorites. The Giants are tied with Philadelphia and Washington for the Eastern lead with 2-1 records.

The Cleveland Browns (1-2) are a 5½ point pick over the Chicago Cardinals (1-2). The Pittsburgh Steelers (1-2) and Washington Redskins are figured a toss-up.

17 UNBEATEN TEAMS

College Football's Elite Slated For Drastic Cut

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Major ocllege football's elite-17 teams which are undefeated-is due for a drastic cut today with 10 of them facing each other in key battles across the nation.

The biggest pits two unbeaten Southwest Conference teams — third - ranked Texas and 12th rated Arkansas at Little Rock tonight. Other games featuring unbeatens finds Yale at Cornell, Holy Cross at Syracuse, Southern California at Washington and Air Force playing Oregon at Portland.

But Darrell Royal's Texas Longhorns, fresh from their 19-12 whipping of Oklahoma, are set to test their high-velocity offense against an Arkansas defense that has given only two touchdowns in matching Texas' 4-0 record.

However, Arkansas also must face a Texas defense that was unscored upon until Oklahoma tallied twice in the first period last week. A tremendous duel looms between Arkansas' Jim Mooty and Texas' Rene Ramirez, a pair of flashing halfbacks. Arkansas is also laying an eight game winning string on the line.

Southern Cal, ranked No. 7 in the current Associated Press survey will have its defensive giants in good shape for Washington, 4-0 and ranked 18th. The Trojans (3-0) had last weekend off helping tackle Dan Ficca and Mike McKeeyer recover from injuries. Washington must try and stop a USC offense that leads the Far West Five in total and rushing offense, then must try to move against a defense that is tops in all phases.

Syracuse (No. 8), the nation's top defensive team, will be out to revenge its only 1958 regular season loss when the Crusaders eked out a 14-13 win. The Orange also will face a pretty stout defense. But Holy Cross lost first string quarterback Dick O'Brien last week and must rely on reserves.

Louisiana State, top-ranked and getting stronger each week, travels to Kentucky to begin defense of its Southeastern Conference crowns. Coach Paul Dietzel's men have not allowed four opponents a touchdown, giving only two field goals in rolling up a 4-0 mark.

Georgia Tech (No. 4) has another toughie in Auburn, also a key SEC game. Tech edged Tennessee 14-7 last week while Auburn, after an opening season 3-0 loss to Tennessee, has rolled by its last two opponents.

Fifth-ranked Mississippi, with a 4 - 0 mark and unscored upon, plays SEC foe Tulane. Tulane has won its last two for a 2-2 mark.

Second-ranked Northwestern (3-0) goes to Michigan, a team it used as a springboard to fame last year with a stunning 55-24 upset. The Wildcats may be in trouble if newly - found quarterback Bob Eichoff isn't over a stiff right shoulder and halfback Ron Burton can't shake a weak ankle.

Unbeaten, but once-tied Purdue (No. 6) plays Ohio State, a shutout victim in its last two games. The Boilermakers (2-0-1) don't figure to let up with their staunch defense that has given only one touchdown. Iowa and Wisconisn, both 2-1, go at it in another Big Ten affair with ninth-ranked Iowa pitting its passing attack that leads the conference against a so-so Wisconsin pass defense.

Penn State (No. 10), with a 4-0 record including last week's 17-11 victory over favored Army, plays Boston University, which upset West Virginia 7-0 for its only victory.

The television game of the day is from East Lansing, Mich., where Notre Dame faces Michigan State. It is set for 1:30 p.m. EST over NBC-TV.

The Air Force (3-0) gets its first serious test against Oregon (4-0) with quarterback Rich Mayo's passing matched against the running of Willie West.

Other top games:

SOUTH: Tennessee vs. Alabama at Birmingham; Richmond at The Citadel; Army at Duke; George Washington at Furman; Mississippi State vs. Georgia at Atlanta; North Carolina at Maryland; Florida State at Memphis State; Florida at Vanderbilt; North Carolina St. at Wake Forest; Virginia at Virginia Tech; Pitt at West Virginia; VMI at William & Mary.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Banks Selected 'Player Of Year'

By FRED DOWN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ernie Banks, the Chicago Cubs' hard-hitting and slick-fielding shortstop, was named the National League's player of the year Friday by the United Press International.

It was the second straight year the 28-year-old slugger from Dallas, Tex., achieved the honor in the voting of a 24-man committee representing every city in the circuit.

The deceptively-powerful Banks received 12 votes compared to eight for Hank Aaron, the Milwaukee Braves' solid-socker who won his second national batting championship. Ed Mathews of the Braves received two votes and Wally Moon of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Willie McCovery of the San Francisco Giants got one each.

Banks, who joined the cubs in 1953, batted .304, hit 45 homers and led the majors with 143 runs batted in this year. He has hit 40 or more homers in four of the last five years and his seven-year total of 228 is surpassed in major league history by only one shortstop—Vern Stephens, who played a total of 15 years.

One of the most durable players of the modern era, Banks played in all 155 of the Cubs' games this year. He has missed only 18 games since the Cubs acquired him from the Kansas City Monarchs for $35,000 in 1953.

Right-handed all the way, the six-foot, 175-pounder set a major league record in 1958 by hitting five grand slam homers and also led the league in slugging percentage and homers. His 47 homers in 1958 are a major league mark for a shortstop.

Aaron, 25, enjoyed the best all-around season of his career in a vain effort to power the Braves to their third straight pennant. He connected for 39 homers, drove in 123 runs and won the batting title with a .355 mark. Aaron won his first batting title with a .328 figure in 1956.

Mathews, bouncing back from a poor 1958 campaign, hit .306, drove in 114 runs and won his second home run title when he hit No. 46 in the second playoff game with the Dodgers to snap a tie with Banks.

Moon, also rebounding from a disappointing 1958 season, batted .302, hit 19 homers and drove in 74 runs to be a key figure in the Dodgers' sensational rise from seventh to first place while McCovey, a gangling rookie first-baseman, hit .356 in 52 games and gave the San Francisco Giants a phenomenal lift when he joined them late in the season.

Haas, Millet Fire 66s In La. Open

BOGALUSA, La. (AP)—Honald Millet and Freddie Haas, both New Orleans pros, tied for the lead with four-under-par 66s after the first round of play Friday in the 54-hole Louisiana Open golf tournament.

Millet was out in 32 and back in 34 over the Bogalusa Country Club course, which was slow because of rain. Haas had two 33s.

Buddy Crovetto of New Orleans was alone at 67. Defending champion Jerry Stohland of Maplewood and Ralph Sicks of Lake Charles were tied at 69.

Millet, who set the course record of 60 on Thursday, teamed with James Stevenson and Robert Brock of Bogalusa and Ray Tremont to win the pro-am event with a low ball of 56. Wilt Scores 41 In Warrior Win

ABINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Giant Wilt Chamberlain dumped in 41 points Friday night to lead the Philadelphia Warriors to a 113-105 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers in a National Basketball Assn. exhibition game.

Minneapolis led throughout the first two periods and held a 54-51 halftime advantage. Chamberlain scored 25 of his total in the second half. He was high in rebounds with 23.

Miami Rips Middies For 23-8 Triumph

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two long, slashing touchdown drives by Miami in the last quarter broke down a spirited Navy team Friday night as the Hurricanes beat the Middies 23-8 to spoil their first visit to Florida.

Little Fran Curci threw a 16-yard touchdown pass to Jack Herman and Bob Rosbaugh raced 17 yards for another score to break up a stirring duel before 51,694 fans.

It marked the first time since 1951 that Navy has lost three games in a row.

The Hurricanes, gaining easily against Navy, smashed to a 10-0 lead in the first half. But Navy hurried 70 yards to score in 10 plays after the start of the second half to make it a tight 10-8 game until Miami's last quarter outbreak.

With two minutes gone in the final period, the Hurricanes drove 69 yards and Curci, the slick 152-pound quarterback, nailed Herman with a pass in the end zone. Another drive for 74 yards sent Rosbaugh over for the final score.

Joe Bellino plunged a yard for Navy's only touchdown and Jim Maxfield passed to George Bezek for two extra points.

Miami's first period points were made on a two-yard touchdown plunge by Frank Bouffard and a 30-yard field goal by Al Dangel.

Tigers Emplane For Lexington

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Louisiana State's top-ranked tigers left by plane Friday for Lexington, Ky., to open their Southeastern Conference campaign against Kentucky.

Coach Paul Dietzel planned a workout on Stoll Field later in the day.

Jefferson Falls To St. Aloysius, 14-7

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Unbeaten St. Aloysius preserved its record Friday by rallying to beat East Jefferson 14-7.

East Jefferson took an early lead when Claude Foreman went over from the 1 in the first period and Ronnie Redler converted.

St. Aloysius tied the score in the third period when Roy Weber picked up a fumble at the East Jefferson 38 and ran it over. Bill Krummel kicked the conversion.

SEC HEADLINERS

Bengals Seek 5th Victory; Tulane To Test Ole Miss

Kentucky Out To End Tiger Streak At 16

BATON ROUGE, La., — (Special) — Louisiana State carries its successful three-team system of substitution and college football's longest current winning streak to Lexington, Ky., for the Tigers' Southeastern Conference opener with Kentucky Saturday night.

The Bayou Bengals of Coach Paul Dietzel have won 16 straight games, four this season, employing three colorful platoons who usually outlast the opposition.

A hard-hitting 7-7 tie in the first quarter featured the LSU-Kentucky game last year, before the Tiger platoons, White Team, Go Team, and Chinese Bandits wore down the Wildcats for a 32-7 victory.

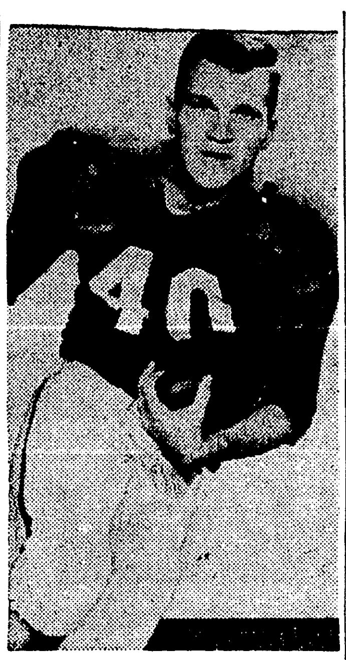
Saturday night's game at Stoll Field shows unbeaten LSU as the favorite, with Kentucky a determined underdog. The Wildcats are winless against three previous SEC powers, Georgia Tech, Ole Miss and Auburn, and will surely have upset plans laid for the top-ranked Bengals.

LSU's defensive record, presently the best in the conference, will be threatened as well as the Tigers' winning string. Kentucky has two capable passers in quarterbacks Jerry Eisaman and Lowell Hughes, and dangerous ball carriers in halfback Calvin "Thunder" Bird, and fullback Glenn Shaw.

The rigid Bengal defense has given up only an average of 66.5 yards rushing per game, and 68.5 yards passing in four games. And the Tigers haven't surrendered a touchdown since the Mississippi State game of last season.

With such a record, LSU defensive standouts are plentiful — guards Emile Fournet and Ed McCreedy; tackles Charles Strange and Mel Branch; end Mickey Mangham; linebackers Max Fugler and John Langan; and an alert pass defending secondary in halfbacks Billy Cannon and Johnny Robinson and quarterback Warren Rabb.

Cannon, also LSU's offensive leader, wrecked Kentucky in 1958 with a two touchdown, 108-yard running performance.



GREENIE FULLBACK — Fullback Connie Andrews is expected to be one of Tulane's big guns when the Greenies play Ole Miss at Oxford this afternoon.

Rugged Rebs Unscored Upon In Four Games

UNIVERSITY, Miss., (Special) —Unbeaten Mississippi and resurgent Tulane meet here Saturday with the stakes high for both teams.

The Green Wave invasion, its first since 1954, will feature the Rebels' Homecoming celebration.

The Rebel problem deals with recent Tulane victories, over previously - unbeaten Wake Forest and Detroit, both on a shutout basis. Those scores were 6 - 0 and 25-0.

Ole Miss exposes a victory string which dates back six games into 1958. Over that span the Rebs have yet to give up a touchdown. To protect any Southeastern conference championship illusions they may be harboring as well as a high national ranking, they can't afford to stumble here Saturday.

Scouting surveys indicate that Tulane carries solid potential, is well equipped, a dangerous football team. The Greenies made mistakes and lost to both Florida and Miami at the start. "They're winning now because they've been eliminating early-season mistakes," Cain reports.

Ole Miss scored its second SEC win of the capaign last Saturday night in Nashville with the 33-0 beating handed a good Vanderbilt team. Earlier, the Rebs downed Kentucky 16-0 in Lexington. They opened at 16-0 past Houston and between 'Tucky and Vandy, bumped Memphis State 43-0.

The unbeaten string includes 1958's season - ending victories over Mississippi State, by 21-o, and the 7-3 Gator Bowl conquest of Florida.

The Rebs drew no injuries of any consequence in downing the Commodores for the sixth-straight time and can count on Bobby Franklin's availability for Homecoming Saturday. The senior quarterback sat out both the Memphis and Vanderbilt games because of a leg injury.

Tulane was beaten in last season's battle in New Orleans, 19-8, with Ole Miss staging a second-half comeback to take the decision. In the two engagements staged here, the Rebs won a 34-7 game in 1954 and snapped a two - tilt Wave winning streak in 1951, 25-6. Since '51, Ole Miss has won seven of eight games. Tulane leads in overall series results, since 1893, 23-16. The Rebs hold a 9-7 margin in Southeastern conference totals.

DEPTH

No One-Man Team At Louisiana Tech

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Louisiana Tech will clash with arch-rival Northwestern State in Shreveport Oct. 24 and if the NSC Demons are looking for any one particular Bulldog back to stop in order to halt the Tech running game the Demons may have a tough job finding him.

Blessed with fairly good depth in the backfield this season, the Tech team has averaged 259 yards per game rushing in four contests and a total of 14 Techsters have gotten in on the ball toting chores.

Tech's first unit halfbacks and fullback are all averaging around six yards per carry and there are in all six Canine backs who have picked up five yards or more per try.

First string halfbacks J. W. Slack, Bossier City, and Paul Hynes, Sulphur, are averaging 6.3 and 6.2 yards in rushing and lead the team in total yardage on the ground. Co-captain Slack, who tops the Gulf States Conference scoring after four games with 21 points, has rolled for 275 yards in 43 carries while Hynes is close on his heels with 242 yard in 39 attempts.

When the Bulldogs need yardage, a plunge by first string fullback Max Rudd is a good way to get it. The 190 pound Minden junior has run for 116 yards this fall and has picked up 5.8 yards per carry.

Halfback David Williamson is the only other Techman who has piled up more than 100 yards in rushing. The speedy El Dorado, Ark., junior has stepped off 105 yards and a 4.3 per carry average.

Canine quarterback Taylor McNeel, Pineville junior who has started in all tilts this season, knows how to move the ball when he is not passing or handing off. He has averaged 4.3 yards in rushing besides completing seven of 24 passes good for 87 yards and one touchdown.

Other Bulldog ballcarriers who have an average of four yards or more include fullback Wayne Parker, Minden sophomore, with 41 yards and a 5.1 average, and halfbacks Andy Farless, Vivian sophomore, 53 yards and a 7.5 avearage, Jack Lestage Lake Charles sophomore, 53 yards and an even 4.0 per try, and George Rhea, sophomore of Minden who has averaged five per carry in the two times he had handled the pigskin.

With an open date this Saturday (Oct. 17), the Tech gridders are looking ahead to the Oct. 24 date and the important Gulf States Conference tussle with the Demons at the State Fair Stadium in Shreveport. Both teams will go into the contest undefeated in GSC action.

Tickets for the Tech-NSC tilt are now on sale at the ticket booth in Tech's Memorial Gymnasium. Tickets for the game will remain on sale until noon on Friday, Oct. 23.

Ankle Injury Sidelines Top Purdue Back

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Purdue suffered a blow to its Big Ten title hopes Friday when quarterback Bernie Allen sustained an ankle injury in a freak accident.

The mishap occurred while the Boilermakers were holding a light workout in preparation for their game against Ohio State here Saturday.

A Purdue spokesman said Allen, filling in for quarterback Ross Fichtner, stepped in a hole at Ohio Stadium. He was rushed to University Hospital where X rays showed there was no fracture.

Allen took over for the injured Fichtner last week against Wisconsin and fired three touchdown passes in Purdue's 21-0 win. He also booted three extra points.

The sixth-ranked Boilermakers arrived in town Friday to tangle with Ohio State, off to its poorest start in 13 seasons.

Coach Woody Hayes' squad has lost two of the first three, and hasn't scored a point in the last eight quarters. Purdue deadlocked its opener with UCLA, whipped Notre Dame and Wisconsin handily and leads the Big Ten in defense.

A year ago the teams battled to a 14-14 tie, tackle Jim Marshall scoring both Buckeye touchdowns —on a blocked punt and a pass interception.

In its 14-13 win over Duke and subsequent non - scoring efforts agaist Southern Cal and Illinois, Ohio has been outpointed 39-14.

Hoping for a resounding upset, some 83,000 fans will fill the huge Buckeye horseshoe. Much of their optimism is caused by the absence of injured fullback Bob Jarus and quarterback Ross Fichtner from the Boilermakers.

New Attendance Mark On Way At Louisiana State

BATON ROUGE, La. (Special) — Louisiana State University's fabulous football fans have assured the 1959 Tigers of a new southern attendance record. This was effected yesterday when the last remaining tickets for the Mississippi State game were sold, assuring the Bengals of five sell-out crowds.

Athletic Department Officials, admitting that it was a pleasant yet perplexing problem, asked enthusiastic fans who have not secured tickets to refrain from sending checks or money orders, since they will have to be returned. Telephone calls for tickets are also advised against. There just isn't a seat left in Tiger Stadium for the remainder of the home schedule.

Winter Ball Out For World Series Hero

NEW YORK (AP)—There will be no winter ball this year for World Series hero Larry Sherry, now busy cleaning up dollars like he did White Sox.

"I hardly think I'll be playing any winter ball this year," said the icy - nerved, 24-year-old Los Angeles pitcher after picking up another fat check for a television appearance here.

"Last winter my brother Norm (Dodger bullpen catcher) and I played for Maracaibo. This time I'll be to busy with TV paydays. I like it and I won't have to travel a lot. I'll play practice ball in Los Angeles on Sundays."

Sherry, who won two Series games and saved two others in the 4-2 conquest of Chicago, had credited winter ball last year for his vast improvement.

"This week and next," said agent Frank Scott Friday. "Larry will make between $5,000 and $6,000. Before spring training he'll make between $15,000 and $20,000 which is just about what Bob Turley ad Lew Burdette, the heroes of the last two World Series, made."

That, of course, doesn't count the record $11,231.18 share Larry received for the series, and the sports car he won from a magazine after being named the Series' top performer.

Then, of course, Larry is in line for a fat raise over his estimated $8,000 salary for 1959.

Sherry came up to the Dodgers last July 4 after a so-so 6-7 record with St. Paul of the American Assn. He lost his first two games and then reeled off seven victories in a row, including a big playoff win over Milwaukee.

Braves Release Pafko, Lopata

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves Friday released a couple of aging veterans—outfielder Andy Pafko and catcher Stan Lopata—but Pafko was kept as a coach.

Pafko, who played with the Chicago Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers in addition to the Braves during 17 years in the National League, was signed as a coach although Milwaukee still has not named a manager to replace Fred Haney. Lopata, a league veteran of 12 years, was released outright.

Pafko, who will be 39 in February, hit .218 in 64 games this year. Lopata, who is 34, appeared in only 24 games and hit .106.

The Braves also bought infielder Ron Hunt from Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League. Hunt hit .289 with McCook in the class D Nebraska State League.

SEC HEADLINERS

Bengals Seek 5th Victory; Tulane To Test Ole Miss

Kentucky Out To End Tiger Streak At 16

BATON ROUGE, La., — (Special) — Louisiana State carries its successful three-team system of substitution and college football's longest current winning streak to Lexington, Ky., for the Tigers' Southeastern Conference opener with Kentucky Saturday night.

The Bayou Bengals of Coach Paul Dietzel have won 16 straight games, four this season, employing three colorful platoons who usually outlast the opposition.

A hard-hitting 7-7 tie in the first quarter featured the LSU-Kentucky game last year, before the Tiger platoons, White Team, Go Team, and Chinese Bandits wore down the Wildcats for a 32-7 victory.

Saturday night's game at Stoll Field shows unbeaten LSU as the favorite, with Kentucky a determined underdog. The Wildcats are winless against three previous SEC powers, Georgia Tech, Ole Miss and Auburn, and will surely have upset plans laid for the top-ranked Bengals.

LSU's defensive record, presently the best in the conference, will be threatened as well as the Tigers' winning string. Kentucky has two capable passers in quarterbacks Jerry Eisaman and Lowell Hughes, and dangerous ball carriers in halfback Calvin "Thunder" Bird, and fullback Glenn Shaw.

The rigid Bengal defense has given up only an average of 66.5 yards rushing per game, and 68.5 yards passing in four games. And the Tigers haven't surrendered a touchdown since the Mississippi State game of last season.

With such a record, LSU defensive standouts are plentiful — guards Emile Fournet and Ed McCreedy; tackles Charles Strange and Mel Branch; end Mickey Mangham; linebackers Max Fugler and John Langan; and an alert pass defending secondary in halfbacks Billy Cannon and Johnny Robinson and quarterback Warren Rabb.

Cannon, also LSU's offensive leader, wrecked Kentucky in 1958 with a two touchdown, 108-yard running performance.

GREENIE FULLBACK — Fullback Connie Andrews is expected to be one of Tulane's big guns when the Greenies play Ole Miss at Oxford this afternoon.

Rugged Rebs Unscored Upon In Four Games

UNIVERSITY, Miss., (Special) —Unbeaten Mississippi and resurgent Tulane meet here Saturday with the stakes high for both teams.

The Green Wave invasion, its first since 1954, will feature the Rebels' Homecoming celebration.

The Rebel problem deals with recent Tulane victories, over previously - unbeaten Wake Forest and Detroit, both on a shutout basis. Those scores were 6 - 0 and 25-0.

Ole Miss exposes a victory string which dates back six games into 1958. Over that span the Rebs have yet to give up a touchdown. To protect any Southeastern conference championship illusions they may be harboring as well as a high national ranking, they can't afford to stumble here Saturday.

Scouting surveys indicate that Tulane carries solid potential, is well equipped, a dangerous football team. The Greenies made mistakes and lost to both Florida and Miami at the start. "They're winning now because they've been eliminating early-season mistakes," Cain reports.

Ole Miss scored its second SEC win of the capaign last Saturday night in Nashville with the 33-0 beating handed a good Vanderbilt team. Earlier, the Rebs downed Kentucky 16-0 in Lexington. They opened at 16-0 past Houston and between 'Tucky and Vandy, bumped Memphis State 43-0.

The unbeaten string includes 1958's season - ending victories over Mississippi State, by 21-o, and the 7-3 Gator Bowl conquest of Florida.

The Rebs drew no injuries of any consequence in downing the Commodores for the sixth-straight time and can count on Bobby Franklin's availability for Homecoming Saturday. The senior quarterback sat out both the Memphis and Vanderbilt games because of a leg injury.

Tulane was beaten in last season's battle in New Orleans, 19-8, with Ole Miss staging a second-half comeback to take the decision. In the two engagements staged here, the Rebs won a 34-7 game in 1954 and snapped a two - tilt Wave winning streak in 1951, 25-6. Since '51, Ole Miss has won seven of eight games. Tulane leads in overall series results, since 1893, 23-16. The Rebs hold a 9-7 margin in Southeastern conference totals.

Ankle Injury Sidelines Top Purdue Back

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Purdue suffered a blow to its Big Ten title hopes Friday when quarterback Bernie Allen sustained an ankle injury in a freak accident.

The mishap occurred while the Boilermakers were holding a light workout in preparation for their game against Ohio State here Saturday.

A Purdue spokesman said Allen, filling in for quarterback Ross Fichtner, stepped in a hole at Ohio Stadium. He was rushed to University Hospital where X rays showed there was no fracture.

Allen took over for the injured Fichtner last week against Wisconsin and fired three touchdown passes in Purdue's 21-0 win. He also booted three extra points.

The sixth-ranked Boilermakers arrived in town Friday to tangle with Ohio State, off to its poorest start in 13 seasons.

Coach Woody Hayes' squad has lost two of the first three, and hasn't scored a point in the last eight quarters. Purdue deadlocked its opener with UCLA, whipped Notre Dame and Wisconsin handily and leads the Big Ten in defense.

A year ago the teams battled to a 14-14 tie, tackle Jim Marshall scoring both Buckeye touchdowns —on a blocked punt and a pass interception.

In its 14-13 win over Duke and subsequent non - scoring efforts against Southern Cal and Illinois, Ohio has been outpointed 39-14.

Hoping for a resounding upset, some 83,000 fans will fill the huge Buckeye horseshoe. Much of their optimism is caused by the absence of injured fullback Bob Jarus and quarterback Ross Fichtner from the Boilermakers.

New Attendance Mark On Way At Louisiana State

BATON ROUGE, La. (Special) — Louisiana State University's fabulous football fans have assured the 1959 Tigers of a new southern attendance record. This was effected yesterday when the last remaining tickets for the Mississippi State game were sold, assuring the Bengals of five sell-out crowds.

Athletic Department Officials, admitting that it was a pleasant yet perplexing problem, asked enthusiastic fans who have not secured tickets to refrain from sending checks or money orders, since they will have to be returned. Telephone calls for tickets are also advised against. There just isn't a seat left in Tiger Stadium for the remainder of the home schedule.

No One-Man Team At Louisiana Tech

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Louisiana Tech will clash with arch-rival Northwestern State in Shreveport Oct. 24 and if the NSC Demons are looking for any one particular Bulldog back to stop in order to halt the Tech running game the Demons may have a tough job finding him.

Blessed with fairly good depth in the backfield this season, the Tech team has averaged 259 yards per game rushing in four contests and a total of 14 Techsters have gotten in on the ball toting chores.

Tech's first unit halfbacks and fullback are all averaging around six yards per carry and there are in all six Canine backs who have picked up five yards or more per try.

First string halfbacks J. W. Slack, Bossier City, and Paul Hynes, Sulphur, are averaging 6.3 and 6.2 yards in rushing and lead the team in total yardage on the ground. Co-captain Slack, who tops the Gulf States Conference scoring after four games with 21 points, has rolled for 275 yards in 43 carries while Hynes is close on his heels with 242 yard in 39 attempts.

When the Bulldogs need yardage, a plunge by first string fullback Max Rudd is a good way to get it. The 190 pound Minden junior has run for 116 yards this fall and has picked up 5.8 yards per carry.

Halfback David Williamson is the only other Techman who has piled up more than 100 yards in rushing. The speedy El Dorado, Ark., junior has stepped off 105 yards and a 4.3 per carry average.

Canine quarterback Taylor McNeel, Pineville junior who has started in all tilts this season, knows how to move the ball when he is not passing or handing off. He has averaged 4.3 yards in rushing besides completing seven of 24 passes good for 87 yards and one touchdown.

Other Bulldog ballcarriers who have an average of four yards or more include fullback Wayne Parker, Minden sophomore, with 41 yards and a 5.1 average, and halfbacks Andy Farless, Vivian sophomore, 53 yards and a 7.5 avearage, Jack Lestage Lake Charles sophomore, 53 yards and an even 4.0 per try, and George Rhea, sophomore of Minden who has averaged five per carry in the two times he had handled the pigskin.

With an open date this Saturday (Oct. 17), the Tech gridders are looking ahead to the Oct. 24 date and the important Gulf States Conference tussle with the Demons at the State Fair Stadium in Shreveport. Both teams will go into the contest undefeated in GSC action.

Tickets for the Tech-NSC tilt are now on sale at the ticket booth in Tech's Memorial Gymnasium. Tickets for the game will remain on sale until noon on Friday, Oct. 23.

Winter Ball Out For World Series Hero

NEW YORK (AP)—There will be no winter ball this year for World Series hero Larry Sherry, now busy cleaning up dollars like he did White Sox.

"I hardly think I'll be playing any winter ball this year," said the icy - nerved, 24-year-old Los Angeles pitcher after picking up another fat check for a television appearance here.

"Last winter my brother Norm (Dodger bullpen catcher) and I played for Maracaibo. This time I'll be to busy with TV paydays. I like it and I won't have to travel a lot. I'll play practice ball in Los Angeles on Sundays."

Sherry, who won two Series games and saved two others in the 4-2 conquest of Chicago, had credited winter ball last year for his vast improvement.

Panhellenic Council Entertains At Tea

The Student Center on the campus of Northeast Louisiana State College was the scene of a tea on Wednesday from 4 until 6 p.m. Entertaining was the Panhellenic Council, and guests were women students interested in being 'rushed' by two national social sororities, Alpha Omicron Pi and Phi Mu.

Tables were placed in the entrance hall where the guests registered for "rush week" as they entered. In the receiving line were Miss Frances Baldwin, advisor to Panhellenic, Mrs. Jerry Webster, alumna advisor to Alpha Omicron Pi, Mrs. Louis M. Bravo, alumna advisor to Phi Mu, and officers of the Panhellenic Council, who are Miss Armande McHenry, president; Miss Kaki Walker, vice - president; Miss Esta Ford, secretary; and Miss Barbara Elliott, treasurer.

The serving table in the main lounge was centered with an arrangement of white stock and pink carnations in a white Grecian bowl. Representatives of the two sororities served punch from a silver bowl to alumnae and students who were present.

"Rush week" activities for both sororities in the Panhellenic Council will begin next week.

Thompson - Ford Vows Said In Home Ceremony

A wedding of quiet simplicity was that of Miss Marilyn Ford, daughter of Mrs. Tommy J. Ford and the late Mr. Ford, and Benjamin Derwood Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Thompson of West Monroe.

The ceremony was performed in the home of Mrs. Berry W. Monk, sister of the bride, at 7:30 in the evening on October 3. Rev. Alton Smith of Quitman officiated before an altar holding burning white candles.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Arnold Jones sang 'The Lord's Prayer'.

Given in marriage by her brother, J. Ford of Pine Bluff, Arkansas, the bride wore a dress of white taffeta appliqued with white flowers, featuring a sweetheart neckling and long, tight fitting sleeves that ended in points over the hands. Her veil of illusion was caught with orange blossoms and formed a short train. She carried a bouquet of white split carnations.

The young couple will make their home in West Monroe.

Teen-Agers With Little Brothers Are Mad At Ann

. . . . By ANN LANDES

Dear Ann Landers: Even if you can't put this letter in the paper, I wish you'd let D.M.F. know that she isn't the only one who has had a nervous breakdown and is having trouble being accepted by family and friends.

When I lost my 28-year-old son suddenly I went completely to pieces. For almost two years I was institutionalized. When I returned home, my sisters and brothers, in - laws and friends treated me like a freak, called me "half there" and made me feel as if I didn't belong out among people.

If society would only accept the fact that mental illness is curable and those who have suffered a breakdown of the mental machinery must have the kindness and understanding of those around them. No one shuns a cured tuberculosis of cancer patient. Why should a person who has suffered an illness of the mind be treated differently?

Please give these people encouragement to go on. Ann. They need it desperatly—G.E.W. (52-years-old).

Dear G.E.W.: A letter from "a member of the lodge" is always more effective. Thank you for writing.

And a verbal laurel wreath to all who are winning the difficult uphill fight against mental illness. This is the most heroic of battles and there are no medals—only scars.

Dear Ann: My daughter is 28, has been married almost a year and is 4 months pregnant. She is a school teacher and married to an unemployed professional man. He can get a good job any time but claims there's a recession on. He has traveled half way across the country (on borrowed money) to find a job. He returned, said "things were bad there, too," and is still unemployed.

Their trouble started on the honeymoon. He left her every night in a second rate hotel while he went out "for coffee". She was alone a good bit of the time. He said he wanted to take her on "a fabulous honeymoon" but she wound up bailing them out of the hotels and paying for most of their meals.

In short he is a lazy bum and she is struggling to keep a roof over both their heads. She can't work much longer in her condition but we don't want to insist that she come home. What shall we do?—WORRIED MOM

Dear Mom: Don't do anything. It's her lazy bum, her life and her decision.

Simply let your daughter know she can always have bed and board with you if things get intolerable. But make no effort to persuade her to leave her husband.

Dear Ann: I am sure mad at you for siding with that little brother who got his older sister in trouble because she tapped him lightly on the head. He screamed bloody murder and her father came in and the girl caught heck when all she did was just barely touch him.

I think this was just rotton of you. It is very plain that YOU never had a little brother. I have two and they are both brats. Every teenage girl who has a younger brother hates you.—ANTI-ANN LANDERS

Dear Anti: You are right—I never had a younger brother. But a lot of teenagers who have younger brothers wrote to tell me they hate me, too. Have you kids got a union or what?

To learn the booby - traps of teenage drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teenage Drinking," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope).

LT. GOVERNOR — William E. Huie has been named Lt. Gov. of the Missouri - Arkansas district of Kiwanis International. The area includes clubs at Crossett, Pine Bluff, McGehee, Monticello and Warren. He is past president of the Crossett Club and will assume the new Kiwanis position Jan. 1.

President Pays Honor To News Boys And Girls

In connection with National Newspaper Week, Eisenhower issued this statement:

"Each year it is a pleasure to salute you. This year I must raise my salute higher than before in order to encompass you all. I understand you have enlarged your members by 100,000 since the last count.

"Your present total of 700,000 represents a powerful force. In your work you strengthen two of our most cherished traditions the freedom of the American press, and the opportunities of American citizenship.

"With your help, our newspapers are swiftly distributed to the homes and working places of our people. With your earnings and experience, you are better able to prepare yourselves for careers of your choice.

"I am delighted to wish you well."

PURCHASES INTEREST

NEW YORK (UPI)—Banca Nazionale Del Lavoro, one of Italy's largest commercial banks, has purchased an interest in the national investment firm of Transoceanic Development Corp., Ltd. of Canada, it was announced Friday by the bank's New York representatives.

Let Children Eat Alone To Avoid Cross Father

It should be easy to see that when there is a noticeable lack of harmony at the dinner table not only the child's immediate appetite, but his whole feeling about food, will be affected. If a child swallows every mouthful of food with a sensation of distaste — because of fear or tension—then what appeal can there be to food?

Mrs. P. says that she feels a previous question about this subject related to her family. "In fact I think my mother-in-law wrote the letter as I know she hates to come here for a meal.

"The truth is that my husband and I disagree at about every meal. My husband wants to know, 'How come I always have to correct the children?'

"They are three and four years of age. They sit on pillows at the table so they will be level with it. They have to keep one arm on the table. I was taught not to put arms on the table so I can't get used to letting them do this.

"They are always watching their father because every now and then he takes a crack at them for something wrong. Many times it is because they are watching him and the food falls off their forks.

"The 3-year-old gets criticized continually for not holding her fork right, but she manages to get through first without touching her hands to her food.

"If they drop crumbs this causes trouble. I think nervousness makes them clumsy as occasionally they knock over their milk. I can't remember the last time I enjoyed this suppr meal. I am afraid to take them visiting because I wouldn't want a demonstration in public."

You do not seem to be the parents described as the mother was talking about her daughter and husband — not her daughter-in-law. You seem to be filled with the same fear of the father as are the childrn. What a way to eat a meal.

Do let the children have their meals before you sit down. Wait on them in the kitchen while you are preparing the meal for you and your husband. Libral use of foods made for children will make this easier than if you tried to cook the same meal for both — though this could be managed, too.

In a very short time they can, without pressure, learn the necessary table manners. Now let them — and you, enjoy what they eat without the oppressive presence of this very cross father.

If you would like to hav our leaflt "Good Manners" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your rqust for laflet No. 46 to Myrtl Meyr Eldred in car of this newspaper.

Jury Frees Housewife Of Two Charges

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—An all-male jury Friday night freed Mrs. Kathryn Anderson, 30-year-old blonde housewife, of two charges of armed robbery.

The jury was out 1 hour and 50 minutes.

When the verdict was read, the mother of three, put her left hand to her forehead, obviously fighting back tears of relief, and then burst into tears as she stood up to take congratulations from friends and relatives.

If convicted on both counts, Mrs. Anderson, wife of a Birmingham suburb last year. City Federal Savings and Loan Assn. was robbed of $1,663 by a gunweilding woman on Feb. 28, 1958, and Jefferson Federal Savings and Loan Assn., was robbed of $1,311 on May 22, 1958.

Doctor Defines Difference Between Terms

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Dr. Martin H. Hoffman of Detroit, Mich., president-elect of the Central Neuropsychiatric Assn., said Friday there is a clear difference between the psychotic and the neurotic.

"A psychotic," he explained, "believes that two and two are five. A neurotic believes that two and two are four—but he worries about it."

Dr. Martin was in New Orleans for the opening of the association convention that brought authorities in related fields from throughout the central United States.

Dr. Hamilton Ford of Galveston, Tex., president of the association, and Dr. Martin agreed that parents and school teachers maybe the key to correcting the nation's expensive narcotics problem which hospitalizes thousands of persons a year.

A large majority of narcotics addicts "have basic weaknesses in their personality structure" that were present before narcotics became a problem, they said.

Proper shaping of the personality of a child by parents and teachers would virtually eliminate the narcotics problem, they added.

Electronic Marvels Are No Problem For Mother

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The great big beautiful shining new world we live in, loaded with modern innovations, has been made possible by women. It's true, girls. That's what a man says, and he means it.

"Women come to terms with new devices at once. Man complains that every step in the world of automation is putting him out of business," says Sol Cornberg, industrial designer specializing in television.

"Man makes one concession — he makes it possible for his wife to buy the new steam iron or pop-up toaster, but in his heart he wishes we could start all over again, maybe washing clothes with well water."

The wonderful thing about new gadgets is that a woman can use them well — relays, switches, timing devices. "She pushes a button, says 'work' and doesn't quarrel with it."

Cornberg sees the day in the not-too-distant future when woman will run her household from a central television receiver that is in the basement of the house. There will be a large screen on a wall in very room and she can turn it on at whim, or leave a picture on that she admires to dress up a room.

"Closed circuit television may permit us all to have a different painting in every room. We may have available to us a Picasso for a contemporary living room, a Renoir or a Dufy for the sun room, famous bird prints for the den, and change them to suit our various moods from time to time," Cornberg explains.

People who live in dingy basement apartments or attics can elect a painting of the Alps or an Irish pastoral scene to perk up their dreary outlook. Better than that, the wall screen will eliminate the ugly duckling of furniture, the television set, Cornberg says. He sees this guided television as solving many problems in the home and school.

"Besides the fact that a woman can see her children wherever they're playing in the house or outdoors, even at the swimming pool, she will be able to tune in on many of her special interests —a department store sale or a display of homemaking," he says.

Cornberg has designed a "communications disciplines system" (audio and vision) for the new Columbia University Law School that will enable many more pupils to take advantage of the very best in teaching.

"If a famous judge shows up at the law school no one will need to march to the auditorium to hear him. Or if he wishes to talk from his study, they can all hear it. Proceedings can be brought from federal, state and municipal courts while the events are in progress, straight to the classroom. A law student may see how a potential client is apprehended and arraigned," Cornberg explains.

This same procedure works for architects and other students. It is particularly helpful where there is not money or time to build new schools. He says:

"If we have a great instructor in physics in this country, why shouldn't every student in physics get the benefit of his teaching with closed circuit television? This would not dismiss regular teachers who could monitor classes, answer questions, grade papers and the like. One teacher has so many students, anyway, perhaps 60, that he does not really have personal contact with their learning processes. He is mainly a disciplinarian."

Cornberg spent eight years in a Cleveland orphanage, graduating at 16 to the East Technical High School there, where he went through a remarkable training in all forms of technical learning. Later he worked in the theater, and television at $75 a week, an income he parlayed into $27,500 six years later. Two years ago he went out to sell his major interest, guided television.

Teen-Agers With Little Brothers Are Mad At Ann

By ANN LANDES

Dear Ann Landers: Even if you can't put this letter in the paper, I wish you'd let D.M.F. know that she isn't the only one who has had a nervous breakdown and is having trouble being accepted by family and friends.

When I lost my 28-year-old son suddenly I went completely to pieces. For almost two years I was institutionalized. When I returned home, my sisters and brothers, in - laws and friends treated me like a freak, called me "half there" and made me feel as if I didn't belong out among people.

If society would only accept the fact that mental illness is curable and those who have suffered a breakdown of the mental machinery must have the kindness and understanding of those around them. No one shuns a cured tuberculosis of cancer patient. Why should a person who has suffered an illness of the mind be treated differently?

Please give these people encouragement to go on, Ann. They need it desperatly—G.E.W. (52-years-old).

Dear G.E.W.: A letter from "a member of the lodge" is always more effective. Thank you for writing.

And a verbal laurel wreath to all who are winning the difficult uphill fight against mental illness. This is the most heroic of battles and there are no medals—only scars.

Dear Ann: My daughter is 28, has been married almost a year and is 4 months pregnant. She is a school teacher and married to an unemployed professional man. He can get a good job any time but claims there's a recession on. He has traveled half way across the country (on borrowed money) to find a job. He returned, said "things were bad there, too," and is still unemployed.

Their trouble started on the honeymoon. He left her every night in a second rate hotel while he went out "for coffee". She was alone a good bit of the time. He said he wanted to take her on "a fabulous honeymoon" but she wound up bailing them out of the hotels and paying for most of their meals.

In short he is a lazy bum and she is struggling to keep a roof over both their heads. She can't work much longer in her condition but we don't want to insist that she come home. What shall we do?—WORRIED MOM

Dear Mom: Don't do anything. It's her lazy bum, her life and her decision.

Simply let your daughter know she can always have bed and board with you if things get intolerable. But make no effort to persuade her to leave her husband.

Dear Ann: I am sure mad at you for siding with that little brother who got his older sister in trouble because she tapped him lightly on the head. He screamed bloody murder and her father came in and the girl caught heck when all she did was just barely touch him.

I think this was just rotton of you. It is very plain that YOU never had a little brother. I have two and they are both brats. Every teenage girl who has a younger brother hates you.—ANTI-ANN LANDERS

Dear Anti: You are right—I never had a younger brother. But a lot of teenagers who have younger brothers wrote to tell me they hate me, too. Have you kids got a union or what?

To learn the booby - traps of teenage drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teenage Drinking," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope).

President Pays Honor To News Boys And Girls

"Each year it is a pleasure to salute you. This year I must raise my salute higher than before in order to encompass you all. I understand you have enlarged your members by 100,000 since the last count.

"Your present total of 700,000 represents a powerful force. In your work you strengthen two of our most cherished traditions the freedom of the American press, and the opportunities of American citizenship.

"With your help, our newspapers are swiftly distributed to the homes and working places of our people. With your earnings and experience, you are better able to prepare yourselves for careers of your choice.

"I am delighted to wish you well."

PURCHASES INTEREST

NEW YORK (UPI)—Banca Nazionale Del Lavoro, one of Italy's largest commercial banks, has purchased an interest in the national investment firm of Transoceanic Development Corp., Ltd. of Canada, it was announced Friday by the bank's New York representatives.

Let Children Eat Alone To Avoid Cross Father

It should be easy to see that when there is a noticeable lack of harmony at the dinner table not only the child's immediate appetite, but his whole feeling about food, will be affected. If a child swallows every mouthful of food with a sensation of distaste — because of fear or tension—then what appeal can there be to food?

Mrs. P. says that she feels a previous question about this subject related to her family. "In fact I think my mother-in-law wrote the letter as I know she hates to come here for a meal.

"The truth is that my husband and I disagree at about every meal. My husband wants to know, 'How come I always have to correct the children?'

"They are three and four years of age. They sit on pillows at the table so they will be level with it. They have to keep one arm on the table. I was taught not to put arms on the table so I can't get used to letting them do this.

"They are always watching their father because every now and then he takes a crack at them for something wrong. Many times it is because they are watching him and the food falls off their forks.

"If they drop crumbs this causes trouble. I think nervousness makes them clumsy as occasionally they knock over their milk. I can't remember the last time I enjoyed this suppr meal. I am afraid to take them visiting because I wouldn't want a demonstration in public."

You do not seem to be the parents described as the mother was talking about her daughter and husband — not her daughter-in-law. You seem to be filled with the same fear of the father as are the childrn. What a way to eat a meal.

Do let the children have their meals before you sit down. Wait on them in the kitchen while you are preparing the meal for you and your husband. Libral use of foods made for children will make this easier than if you tried to cook the same meal for both — though this could be managed, too.

In a very short time they can, without pressure, learn the necessary table manners. Now let them — and you, enjoy what they eat without the oppressive presence of this very cross father.

If you would like to hav our leaflt "Good Manners" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your rqust for laflet No. 46 to Myrtl Meyr Eldred in car of this newspaper.

CLOTHES Make Your Man

By Harry Juster

DEAR MR. JUSTER: I like the continental style suit my husband got. It's sharp looking. But now he wants to get a derby as he feels this will top off his outfit (no pun intended). I personally don't like derbies. If you'd write about other styles, perhaps I could persuade him to forget the derby.

Mrs. R.A.

Why not a derby, if he likes? I think you'll change your mind after getting used to seeing him in it. As for other styles, I like the narrow brim, about 1 3-4-inch, welt edge and lower crown that's worn with a center crease, not pinched in at front. This style, for the derby, has a continental flair. Now let him use his head to make a choice.

* * *

DEAR MR. JUSTER: Did you ever get so attached to something that you hate to discard it? That's what happened with a favorite Shetland sport coat of mine. The trouble now is it's started to go at the elbows. Isn't there some way of repairing it that's not too expensive?

George C.

Get yourself a pipe if you haven't got one because I'm going to suggest turning it into a smart country coat. Pick up two suede elbow patches. You can get these in a shade to match or contrast the color of your coat. Have a tailor sew them on and you'll probably form an even greater attachment that should last a long time.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: My mother is constantly quoting you when she criticizes the way I dress. I'm in my second year of high school. Would you please tell me just what's wrong with my wearing jeans to school?

Sophomore

Nothing, other than you'll find, as you get older, that forming the habit of dressing appropriately is a worthwhile one. I'm not advocating overdressing. Nor do I predict that it will improve your grades, but wearing a neat pair of slacks to school is much more in order than jeans. As a matter of fact, many communities have recognized the value to students of giving attention to their clothes and have put jeans on the "out" list.

DEAR MR. JUSTER : I've gotten some pretty good clothes pointers from your column, but one thing puzzles me. Occasionally, you refer to some fabrics as worsteds and others as wool. I always thought worsted was wool. Now I'm confused and would like to know the difference.

J.L.

Both worsted and wool fabrics are made of wool. The difference? The wool in worsted fabrics is carded and combed. This means the short fibers are combed out and only long fibers remain. After weaving the cloth is smooth and firm. Wool fabrics aren't combed and contain both short and long fibers. The result is a soft touch with a variety of texture. Hope, now, you're not more confused!

TIP FOR THE DAY

Don't Be Stuffy

The stuffiness we're referring to is the kind that causes unsightly pocket bulges. Cramming your pockets with an over-abundance of pens, pencils, paper cards and other paraphernalia mars the appearance of an attractive outfit. Your clothes were not designed to serve as a filing cabinet. Don't distort them.

What style shirt with Continental suit? Harry Juster gives the answer next week.

3 Brothers Save Earnings For College

Three West Monroe brothers are using their earnings from News-Star— World routes to pay for school expenses and save for expected expenses at college. All three have had newspaper routes since early in 1957.

Wayne, Ray and Robert Earl Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Parker, 714 North Third street, West Monroe, disagree on one subject — whose customers are the most cooperative — but definitely agree that handling the sale of newspapers is a profitable and rewarding experience.

Wayne, a 12th - grade sudent at West Monroe High School, plans to become a writer. At present he is anticipating a two year hitch in the U. S. Navy and will then go to business college. His hobbies are model airplane building, reading and swimming.

Wayne's route is from Haynes to Clayton and from North Fourth to Cypress streets.

Ray is in the 10th grade at West Monroe High and plans to attend Northeast Louisiana State College. His hobbies are hunting, fishing, camping, swiming and "almost anything out of doors."

His route is from the Wellerman road to the Arkansas road, and from Jersey street to Warren Drive.

The third brother, Robert Earl, is also a 10th grade student at West Monroe High. He plans to be an engineer after completing Louisiana Tech in Ruston. He is active in high school football and likes as hobbies, fishing and swimming.

Robert Earl's route is from the Arkansas Road to the Tupawek Bridge and from North 12th street to Lomaland Drive.

Import Study Set By Group

WASHINGTON UPI) — Chairman Harold D. Cooley announced Friday that the House Agriculture Committee will conduct an on-the-spot study of why Western Europe has cut imports of U.S. farm products while buying more from Soviet bloc countries.

The North Carolina Democrat said the study will be undertaken by a three-man team consisting of Rep. Carl Albert (D-Okla.) Dr. Walter W. Wilcox, senior agriculture economist of the Library of Congress, and committee counsel John J. Heinburger.

The three will visit Britain, West Germany, The Netherlands, Italy and Belgium and attend the conference of the United Nations' Food and Agriculture Organization at Rome, Nov. 2-5.

Cooley noted U.S. agriculture exports last year dropped 653 million dollars, below the 1957 level. At the same time, he said, the five countries to be visited increased their farm imports from Communist countries and signed or extended trading agreements with the Soviet bloc calling for importation of farm products.

PRINCE VISITS IKE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The crown prince of Ethiopia, Asfawossem Haile Selassie, visited President Eisenhower at the White House Friday to convey greetings from his father, the emperor. The prince, who arrived from Boston Thursday, said he was "very happy to have been able to meet the President." He is on a U.S. tour which will take him to the west coast and back before he returns home Nov. 1.

CHESSMAN CASE

Counsel Trying For Court Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Counsel for Caryl Chessman flew to Washington from a California clemency hearing Friday in a new attempt to get a Supreme Court hearing for the condemned lovers lane marauder.

Chessman is due to die in San Quentin's gas chamber next Friday unless:

1. Gov. Edmund G. Brown grants a plea to commute the death sentence to life imprisonment on the basis of a three-hour hearing in Sacramento Thursday.

2. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas grants a petition filed Friday for more time to prepare a new appeal.

"I'm going to make a ruling one way or another and then I'm through," Brown said at the close of Thursday's hearing.

George T. Davis, Chessman's San Francisco attorney, left the hearing room and boarded an airplane for Washington. Friday he petitioned Justice Douglas for a stay of execution to enable him to file a new appeal. There was no hint as to when Douglas would act.

Davis also asked that the time for filing the appeal, which under the usual rules would run out on Nov. 3, be extended until Nov. 18.

Davis said the new appeal would renew the argument that Chessman's constitutional rights were violated when his conviction was upheld on the basis of what he contends is a faulty record of the original trial.

At his trial in 1948 Chessman was pictured as a lovers lane prowler who preyed on young couples in parked cars, robbing the men and violating the girls. Despite his protestations of innocence, he was convicted of kidnaping, attempted rape, sex perversion, robbery and car theft. He was sentenced to death on two counts of kidnaping with bodily harm.

The court reporter at the trial died before he could finish transcribing all of his shorthand notes, and Chessman has based his long legal battle largely on the fact that the trial record was finished by another man, who was related by marriage to the prosecutor.

Once before, in 1957, the Supreme Court ordered that Chessman's case be reviewed by the Los Angeles trial court. After a lengthy hearing, Chessman lost.

Friday's petition was the 10th time motions and other applications have been presented to the Supreme Court in the case.

During his 11½ years in the death house, Chessman, now 38, has written three books. These have drawn attention to his case throughout the world.

Thursday night the Uruguayan House of Representatives in Montevideo voted an appeal to U.S. authorities to commute Chessman's sentence.

Water Service Stoppage Set

Water supply for a section of the northside of Monroe will be cut off Sunday beginning at 7 a. m., French L. Smith, manager of the Monroe Utilities Commission, has announced. The water is being cut off to allow crews to lower the existing water mains.

Smith listed the area which will be affected as East of North Eighth street from Hilton to Roselawn. The area is bounded on the east side by the drainage canal.

Portions of K, Downey Lane, Rochelle and Glenmar avenues are to be affected.

The water will remain off until the work is completed, Smith said.

The work was originally slated to be done Tuesday night, but the heavy deluge of rain necessitated the postponement.

TO BOOST FORCE

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stromberg-Carlson Division of General Dynamics Corp. announced plans to boost its work force by 350 to 450 workers, effective Oct. 29, for increased production of its line of Hi-Fi and stereo component consoles.

Raid Staged On Brothels Of Deadwood

DEADWOOD, S.D. (UPI) —The brothels of Deadwood, which have been running wide open since the days of Wild Bill Hickok and General Custer, were closed Friday— at least for a little while.

A raiding party led by Pernell Donohue, the attorney general of South Dakota, sneaked into town Thursday night and invaded four alleged houses of prostitution located smack on the town's main street.

Deadwood residents, who generally take a tolerant view of commercial vice, said some of the houses had been running in one form or another since the days when Wild Bill Hickok held court in the local saloons and Gen. George Armstrong Custer roamed the Black Hills fighting Indians.

Donohue planned his raid in the state Capitol at Pierre, 200 miles away. He wanted it to coincide with pay day at Ellsworth Air Force Base, located near Deadwood.

Twenty state and county police, accompanied by United Press International correspondent Wes Pippert, rendezvoused at Spearfish, S.D., close by Deadwood. They split into four groups and made uninvited appearances at four Deadwood establishments — The Pines, The Annex, Cozy and Shasta's.

Eighteen women, most of them motherly types in their 40's and 50's but including a few in their 20's, were rounded up. So were the men found in the establishments or who arrived while the raids were in progress.

Police said most of the clients were young men and some were from the air base. They were released.

The women were charged with prostitution and released on $25 bonds. Police expected them all to be far out of Deadwood by sundown.

CLOTHES Make Your Man

By Harry Juster

DEAR MR. JUSTER: I like the continental style suit my husband got. It's sharp looking. But now he wants to get a derby as he feels this will top off his outfit (no pun intended). I personally don't like derbies. If you'd write about other styles, perhaps I could persuade him to forget the derby.

Mrs. R.A.

Why not a derby, if he likes? I think you'll change your mind after getting used to seeing him in it. As for other styles, I like the narrow brim, about 1 3-4-inch, welt edge and lower crown that's worn with a center crease, not pinched in at front. This style, for the derby, has a continental flair. Now let him use his head to make a choice.

* * *

DEAR MR. JUSTER: Did you ever get so attached to something that you hate to discard it? That's what happened with a favorite Shetland sport coat of mine. The trouble now is it's started to go at the elbows. Isn't there some way of repairing it that's not too expensive?

George C.

Get yourself a pipe if you haven't got one because I'm going to suggest turning it into a smart country coat. Pick up two suede elbow patches. You can get these in a shade to match or contrast the color of your coat. Have a tailor sew them on and you'll probably form an even greater attachment that should last a long time.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: My mother is constantly quoting you when she criticizes the way I dress. I'm in my second year of high school. Would you please tell me just what's wrong with my wearing jeans to school?

Sophomore

Nothing, other than you'll find, as you get older, that forming the habit of dressing appropriately is a worthwhile one. I'm not advocating overdressing. Nor do I predict that it will improve your grades, but wearing a neat pair of slacks to school is much more in order than jeans. Both worsted and wool fabrics are made of wool. The difference? The wool in worsted fabrics is carded and combed. This means the short fibers are combed out and only long fibers remain. After weaving the cloth is smooth and firm. Wool fabrics aren't combed and contain both short and long fibers. The result is a soft touch with a variety of texture. Hope, now, you're not more confused!

CHESSMAN CASE

Counsel Trying For Court Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Counsel for Caryl Chessman flew to Washington from a California clemency hearing Friday in a new attempt to get a Supreme Court hearing for the condemned lovers lane marauder.

Chessman is due to die in San Quentin's gas chamber next Friday unless:

1. Gov. Edmund G. Brown grants a plea to commute the death sentence to life imprisonment on the basis of a three-hour hearing in Sacramento Thursday.

2. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas grants a petition filed Friday for more time to prepare a new appeal.

"I'm going to make a ruling one way or another and then I'm through," Brown said at the close of Thursday's hearing.

George T. Davis, Chessman's San Francisco attorney, left the hearing room and boarded an airplane for Washington. Friday he petitioned Justice Douglas for a stay of execution to enable him to file a new appeal. There was no hint as to when Douglas would act.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

FIREPROOF HALLOWEEN COSTUMES

A flimsy Halloween costume may be a firetrap. Children enjoy running through the neighborhood playing "trick or treat" and their pleasure should not be denied. Flashlights are safer than jack - o - lanterns with candles. Dress them in clothes that will not go up in flames if touched by a careless smoker or spark from a bonfire.

A simple formula for flameproofing ordinary fabrics consists of: 1 gallon warm water, 9 ounces borax, and 4 ounces boric acid powder. Spray with bug sprayer or immerse (preferable.)

Many tots are so excited on Halloween they run across streets and highways without looking to the right or left. They should be cautioned. Adults driving on Halloween night must be on the lookout because small fry are difficult to spot, especially when wearing dark clothing and masks.

Those disguised as ghosts have the advantage, provided their vision is not obscured by the tiny holes in Mom's sheets. Light colored costumes are best and those decorated with reflector tape are more easily seen by motorists. Make - up is a good substitute for masks. A mixture of cold cream, vegetable dye, mascara, or rouge makes a good witch's brew. Pre - schoolers enjoy Halloween too, but they should not be allowed to roam except under the watchful eye of a parent.

What to do with the loot is another problem. Some people give children anything — a trick instead of a treat. Stale candy and cookies are used by some, whereas, others give jellybeans, nuts, and pieces of chocolate. The wise and friendly homemaker prepares for Halloween and buys a bag or two of small candies such as old - fashioned school stores kept in stock. These are distributed on a tray or doled out with a spoon.

Small children are not greedy and are easily satisfied. What they like may not be the best choice for older children but this is no time to be choosy. Many retreat gracefully, knowing they have outgrown Halloween begging and antics.

Tomorrow: Diseases that favor men or women.

HAIR KINKING

Mrs. L. writes: My 10 year old son's hair is starting to kink. His father had the same trouble and now he is bald. I have tried various salves and lotions but the boy's hair has not improved. Can anything be done or must this condition be blamed on heredity?

REPLY

Heredity is rearing its ugly head. Kinking is not necessarily a forerunner of baldness but it may be so in your family, if it is following an established pattern.

EFFERVESCENCE

J. M. writes: I drink a bottle of beer every night before going to bed. In the morning when I open the refrigerator a shock goes through my system. Do you think this is caused by the gas from the beer?

REPLY

I assume this is static electricity. If not, the refrigerator has a short or you have had more than one can of beer.

DRUGS FOR ALCOHOLISM

J. M. writes: Are any drugs effective in combating alcoholism?

REPLY

Yes. Antabuse was first used about 16 years ago. The medicine is swallowed every morning and the alcoholic knows that he will become violently ill if he takes a drink that day. Ten years later Temposil was introduced. It has the same effect as antabuse but there are fewer side reactions.

Burglar Leaves Loot, Own Coat

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Mrs. J.D. Bullock of Columbia, S.C., frightened a burglar away when she entered her room at the Henry Grady Hotel.

Lafayette Welcoming Kennedy

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—Bright, French-cajun smiles, a long red carpet, and an airplane flying "Welcome Jack Kennedy" overhead, welcomed Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) when he arrived here yesterday.

With Kennedy were his wife, Jacqueline; former Govs. Jimmie Davis and James A. Noe; and Chief Justice John B. Fournet.

A large airport crowd greeted Kennedy as he stepped off the plane for a speech at the Park Bourne Country Club on the second phase of his two-day tour of Louisiana.

Kennedy still fixed January as the month he would indicate his presidential intentions, but to questions he said:

"In my opinion, any candidate who does run should enter some of the primaries."

Former Gov. Davis said, "I am here as a courtesy to one of our U.S. Senators." Noe, who stepped off the plane with Kennedy and Davis, said, "I'm off the stump and here trying to unite the Democratic party and to honor a fine young senator and his lovely, charming wife."

Also accompanying the Kennedy party were Alexandria Mayor George W. Bowdon, candidate for lieutenant governor on the ticket of New Orleans Mayor deLesseps Morrison; and Paul Tate of Mamou, candidate for state insurance commissioner on the gubernatorial slate of William J. Dodd and president of the Young Democrats of Louisiana.

Another in the party, Victor Busie of Shreveport, Louisiana AFL-CIO leader, commented, "I think part of Sen. Kennedy's greatness is that he has done so much to expose Jamez Hoffa."

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

FIREPROOF HALLOWEEN COSTUMES

A flimsy Halloween costume may be a firetrap. Children enjoy running through the neighborhood playing "trick or treat" and their pleasure should not be denied. Flashlights are safer than jack - o - lanterns with candles. Dress them in clothes that will not go up in flames if touched by a careless smoker or spark from a bonfire.

A simple formula for flameproofing ordinary fabrics consists of: 1 gallon warm water, 9 ounces borax, and 4 ounces boric acid powder. Spray with bug sprayer or immerse (preferable.)

Many tots are so excited on Halloween they run across streets and highways without looking to the right or left. They should be cautioned. Adults driving on Halloween night must be on the lookout because small fry are difficult to spot, especially when wearing dark clothing and masks.

Those disguised as ghosts have the advantage, provided their vision is not obscured by the tiny holes in Mom's sheets. Light colored costumes are best and those decorated with reflector tape are more easily seen by motorists. Make - up is a good substitute for masks. A mixture of cold cream, vegetable dye, mascara, or rouge makes a good witch's brew. Pre - schoolers enjoy Halloween too, but they should not be allowed to roam except under the watchful eye of a parent.

What to do with the loot is another problem. Some people give children anything — a trick instead of a treat. Stale candy and cookies are used by some, whereas, others give jellybeans, nuts, and pieces of chocolate. The wise and friendly homemaker prepares for Halloween and buys a bag or two of small candies such as old - fashioned school stores kept in stock. These are distributed on a tray or doled out with a spoon.

Small children are not greedy and are easily satisfied. What they like may not be the best choice for older children but this is no time to be choosy. Many retreat gracefully, knowing they have outgrown Halloween begging and antics.

Tomorrow: Diseases that favor men or women.

HAIR KINKING

Mrs. L. writes: My 10 year old son's hair is starting to kink. His father had the same trouble and now he is bald. I have tried various salves and lotions but the boy's hair has not improved. Can anything be done or must this condition be blamed on heredity?

REPLY

Heredity is rearing its ugly head. Kinking is not necessarily a forerunner of baldness but it may be so in your family, if it is following an established pattern.

EFFERVESCENCE

J. M. writes: I drink a bottle of beer every night before going to bed. In the morning when I open the refrigerator a shock goes through my system. Do you think this is caused by the gas from the beer?

REPLY

I assume this is static electricity. If not, the refrigerator has a short or you have had more than one can of beer.

DRUGS FOR ALCOHOLISM

J. M. writes: Are any drugs effective in combating alcoholism?

REPLY

Yes. Antabuse was first used about 16 years ago. The medicine is swallowed every morning and the alcoholic knows that he will become violently ill if he takes a drink that day. Ten years later Temposil was introduced. It has the same effect as antabuse but there are fewer side reactions.

Attorney Says Charges At Group Heavy

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — An attorney for four members of "the Platters," a rock 'n roll singing group, said Friday morals charges against the four men were exaggerated out of proportion.

Defense attorney Edgar Shott accused the prosecution of using a "shotgun technique" in the case. He cited a remark by municipal Judge Gilbert Bettman that cases like this occurred in police court every day "but these men can sing a little better."

The four Negroes and their four 19-year-old girl companions, three of them white, were arrested in a downtown hotel Aug. 10. The girls were charged with prostitution, and the Platters with lewdness, assignation and aiding and abetting prostitution.

The four male members of the Platters are: David Lynch Jr., 30, El Centro, Calif.; Herbert M. Reed, 31, Los Angeles; Tony Williams, 31, Hollywood; and Ervin Robi, 26, El Centro.

A female singer with the Platters was not involved in the case.

The judge did not indicate when a decision would be forthcoming.

Cathy Crosby Breakdown Told By Mother

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Cathy Crosby, 20, daughter of bandleader Bob and niece of crooner Bing, is in a hospital suffering from a mental breakdown, her mother disclosed Friday.

June Crosby called reporters to the office of her lawyer to quash what she said were "a deluge of unfounded rumors."

At the time she moved out of the family home and has not returned since.

Mrs. Crosby said, however, that the romance, "the only serious one the girl has ever had," has been over for a year.

"Cathy and her father have become reconciled and although she dates several boys there is no serious romance involved in her breakdown," Mrs. Crosby said.

The mother said there were "certain physical effects that caused Cathy to see a doctor two weeks ago." She did not amplify, but indicated that they were headaches.

Men Float Into Town On Inner Tubes

MEMPHIS (AP)—Jack L. New, 32, and John Haskell, 26, floated into town Friday on truck tire inner tubes. "We're on our way to New Orleans," they said.

The two men said they started the trip a month ago in Evansville, Ind., and have been averaging 35 to 40 miles a day on the Mississippi River current.

Dressed in foul weather gear, each of them sits in a tube with his arms resting on the sides, the better to hold a paddle with. Their bottoms are protected by a canvas sheet stretched beneath the tube.

Lashed alongside of each is a separate rubber tube raft to carry fishing gear and camping supplies. They travel only by day, sleep on the river bank at night.

The two maintenance men from Florida Southern College at Lakeland said the trip was to toughen them for a voyage around the world in a 60-foot sailboat.

Neither of them has made the trip that way. Both are airplane pilots.

Attorney Says Charges At Group Heavy

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — An attorney for four members of "the Platters," a rock 'n roll singing group, said Friday morals charges against the four men were exaggerated out of proportion.

Defense attorney Edgar Shott accused the prosecution of using a "shotgun technique" in the case. He cited a remark by municipal Judge Gilbert Bettman that cases like this occurred in police court every day "but these men can sing a little better."

The four Negroes and their four 19-year-old girl companions, three of them white, were arrested in a downtown hotel Aug. 10. The girls were charged with prostitution, and the Platters with lewdness, assignation and aiding and abetting prostitution.

The four male members of the Platters are: David Lynch Jr., 30, El Centro, Calif.; Herbert . Reed, 31, Los Angeles; Tony Williams, 31, Hollywood; and Ervin Robi, 26, El Centro.

A female singer with the Platters was not involved in the case.

The judge did not indicate when a decision would be forthcoming.

Cathy Crosby Breakdown Told By Mother

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Cathy Crosby, 20, daughter of bandleader Bob and niece of crooner Bing, is in a hospital suffering from a mental breakdown, her mother disclosed Friday.

June Crosby called reporters to the office of her lawyer to quash what she said were "a deluge of unfounded rumors."

Cathy had a widely publicized feud with her father, two years ago over her romance with Dino Castelli, 32, maitre d' at a Sunset Strip restaurant.

At the time she moved out of the family home and has not returned since.

Mrs. Crosby said, however, that the romance, "the only serious one the girl has ever had," has been over for a year.

"Cathy and her father have become reconciled and although she dates several boys there is no serious romance involved in her breakdown," Mrs. Crosby said.

The mother said there were "certain physical effects that caused Cathy to see a doctor two weeks ago." She did not amplify, but indicated that they were headaches.

Stock Mart Has Boost

NEW YORK (UPI)—Signs of a negotiated settlement of the long steel strike gave the stock market one of its best days in weeks.

The advance restored nearly $2,500,000,000 to market values.

Trading expanded to 2,760,000 shares, highest since Sept. 30, and compared with 2,190,000 shares Thursday.

Buoyancy came into the market on word that union and management negotiators were discussing a scaled-down union wage offer designed to break the impasse before the Monday deadline for government action. It was their first meeting since the steel talks collapsed on Oct. 6. Another session has been scheduled for Saturday.

Th market broadened somewhat as 1,191 issues crossed the tape, against 1,172 Thursday. Of these 6,599 advanced, 285 declined and 211 held unchanged. New 1959 highs were set by 22 issues, while 16 touched new lows.

Studebaker-Packard was the most active issue trade with 106,100 shares. Following were Alleghany Corp., Studebaker-Packard (when issued), Thiokol and American Motors.

Steel issues staged one of their best performances in some time. Demand for this group brought gains of 5½ in Simmonds, more than 3 in Carpenter and Jones & Laughlin, and 2⅞ in Lukens.

The rails, which rely on steel shipments to bolster their freight operations, firmed on the steel news. New York Central and Great Northern jumped a point or better. Baltimore & Ohio and Union Pacific firmed.

IBM was a heavy gainer in the electronics with a rise of more than 6. Ampex rose 4¾. Texas Instruments more than 3 and Motorola more than 2.

Soybeans, Corn Suffer Losses

CHICAGO (AP) — Covering by nervous shorts advanced wheat futures on the Board of Trade Friday. Soybeans and corn suffered additional losses on continued favorable weather for harvesting.

Demand for wheat, slow at the opening, increased later as an export house commenced taking offerings midway through the session. Traders short on the bread grain became nervous and started covering action which advanced prices for the nearby December and March deliveries up a cent or more.

Reports that the Commodity Credit Corporation had sold 680,000 bushels of red wheat at Atlantic ports the last two days along with another report that CCC stocks were becoming smaller, also tended to strengthen the bread grain.

At the close wheat was ⅜ to 1¼ higher, December $1.79¾-⅞ corn unchanged to ½ lower, December $1.08⅛; oats ⅛ to ⅝ higher, December 73¾; rye ¾ to 1¼ higher, December $1.34¾-⅞, and soybeans 1 to 1⅜ lower, November $2.12½-¾.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures closed 55 cents to $1.05 a bale higher Friday. The market turned firm toward the close to make new highs for the day.

Buying came through mills, commission houses and from New Orleans. Strength in the cotton textile market and reports from the South that demand continues good for medium and lower grades of cotton helped the rise in futures.

Although the harvest is approaching its peak hedge selling in futures was light. Traders attributed this to an immediate demand for types of spot cotton being bought by mills and dealers.

Other types, traders added, appear to be going mainly to the CCC under the government buying program.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

United Press International

PROSPECTS BRIGHTEN

Prospects for a voluntary settlement to the nation's most costly steel strike brightened Friday. Union and management negotiators huddled to discuss a scaled-down union wage offer designed to break the impasse before the Monday deadline for government action. The new development came as the government ordered fast dwindling steel supplies channeled to the nation's missile and atomic defense programs.

GOVERNMENT SUES

The government filed a civil anti-trust suit against General Motors Corp., charging that the auto makers' 1953 acquisition of Euclid Machinery Co. tends to create a monopoly in the billion dollar heavy earth-moving equipment industry. GM Chairman Frederick G. Donner fired back that it was "difficult to understand the position of the attorney general."

PRODUCTION SLOWS

Steel shortages slowed assembly lines of 1960 model car production for the first time and boosted layoffs at General Motors to the 60,000 mark or 20 per cent of GM's total employment. Ward's Automotive Reports said at least nine of Chevrolet division's 13 assembly plants are expected to close next week.

INDUSTRY SNAPS BACK

The auto industry, which in September, suffered one of its worst sales months in recent years, snapped back with its finest sales record since 1955 in the first ten days of this month on the strength of the new model cars, according to Ward's Automotive Reports.

Cuban Laws Linked To U.S. Interest

HAVANA (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal and Foreign Minister Raul Roa conferred Friday for the third time in two weeks, apparently on effects of Cuba's agrarian reform laws on American interests.

Details were not announced, but it seemed likely they discussed a U.S. State Department note delivered here Monday about payment for seized American-owned property.

A Washington spokesman Thursday denied reports that the note contained threats. Thursday night Prime Minister Fidel Castro told a television audience his Ministry of State had not received any note from the State Department.

Castro warned that if the United States acts against Cuba's sugar sales, "we will take the necessary countermeasures."

Washington State Department sources declined to comment on Castro's declaration.

There had been unconfirmed reports in Havana that the State Department note mentioned the possibility of the U.S. Congress revising the sugar quota law which gives Cuba the lion's share of the U.S. sugar market.

Under this law Cuba has been getting a guaranteed market for half or more of its sugar crop at the U.S. domestic price. This ranges considerably above the world price at which Cuba must sell the rest of its sugar, the island's economic mainstay. The 1959 basic Cuban quota in the United States in three million tons.

U.S. domestic producers and sugar men of other Latin-American nations have argued that Cuba's share of the U.S. market is too big, especially in view of attacks on the United States by the Castro regime.

Land Baron's Death Gets Ruling Again

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — The death of millionaire land baron Myford Irvine — for the second time—was declared a suicide Friday.

Dist. Atty. Kenneth Williams said eight pathologists agreed, after examining Irvine's body, that he committed suicide by shooting himself three times.

The ruling climaxed a new investigation of the shooting which took place last January in the basement of the 58-year-old millionaire's home. Some members of the family questioned the original verdict of suicide. They contended that it would have been impossible for Irvine to have shot himself twice in the abdomen with a shotgun and once in the brain with a .22-caliber pistol. Detectives said he apparently fired the shotgun first, then loaded and fired the pistol.

Williams said his investigators are continuing to probe various facets of the case and expect to complete their work within a week. They have found nothing, he added, to indicate Irvine was murdered.

Williams said the pathologists arrived at a "common verdict" after a seven-hour examination of the body, exhumed by court order. The casket was out of its crypt 12 hours.

Irvine was one of California's biggest landowners. He was worth close to 100 million dollars. He headed the family owned 90,000-acre Irvine Ranch which covers one-sixth of rich Orange County.

Stock Mart Has Boost

NEW YORK (UPI)—Signs of a negotiated settlement of the long steel strike gave the stock market one of its best days in weeks.

Steels, electronics and motors led the market higher although virtually all sections of the list benefitted as traders bid prices up from the opening bell.

The advance restored nearly $2,500,000,000 to market values.

Trading expanded to 2,760,000 shares, highest since Sept. 30, and compared with 2,190,000 shares Thursday.

Buoyancy came into the market on word that union and management negotiators were discussing a scaled-down union wage offer designed to break the impasse befor the Monday deadline for government action. It was their first meeting since the steel talks collapsed on Oct. 6. Another session has been scheduled for Saturday.

Th market broadened somewhat as 1,191 issues crossed the tape, against 1,172 Thursday. Of these 6,599 advanced, 285 declined and 211 held unchanged. New 1959 highs were set by 22 issues, while 16 touched new lows.

Studebaker-Packard was the most active issue trade with 106,100 shares. Following were Alleghany Corp., Studebaker-Packard (when issued), Thiokol and American Motors.

Steel issues staged one of their best performances in some time. Demand for this group brought gains of 5½ in Simmonds, more than 3 in Carpenter and Jones & Laughlin, and 2⅞ in Lukens.

The rails, which rely on steel shipments to bolster their freight operations, firmed on the steel news. New York Central and Great Northern jumped a point or better. Baltimore & Ohio and Union Pacific firmed.

IBM was a heavy gainer in the electronics with a rise of more than 6. Ampex rose 4¾, Texas Instruments more than 3 and Motorola more than 2.

Soybeans, Corn Suffer Losses

CHICAGO (AP) — Covering by nervous shorts advanced wheat futures on the Board of Trade Friday. Soybeans and corn suffered additional losses on continued favorable weather for harvesting.

Demand for wheat, slow at the opening, increased later as an export house commenced taking offerings midway through the session. Traders short on the bread grain became nervous and started covering action which advanced prices for the nearby December and March deliveries up a cent or more.

Reports that the Commodity Credit Corporation had sold 680,000 bushels of red wheat at Atlantic ports the last two days along with another report that CCC stocks were becoming smaller, also tended to strengthen the bread grain.

At the close wheat was ⅜ to 1¼ higher, December $1.79¾-⅞ corn unchanged to ½ lower, December $1.08⅛; oats ⅛ to ⅝ higher, December 73¾; rye ¾ to 1¼ higher, December $1.34¾-⅞, and soybeans 1 to 1⅜ lower, November $2.12½-¾

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures closed 55 cents to $1.05 a bale higher Friday. The market turned firm toward the close to make new highs for the day.

Buying came through mills, commission houses and from New Orleans. Strength in the cotton textile market and reports from the South that demand continues good for medium and lower grades of cotton helped the rise in futures.

Although the harvest is approaching its peak hedge selling in futures was light. Traders attributed this to an immediate demand for types of spot cotton being bought by mills and dealers.

Other types, traders added, appear to be going mainly to the CCC under the government buying program.

PROSPECTS BRIGHTEN

Prospects for a voluntary settlement to the nation's most costly steel strike brightened Friday. Union and management negotiators huddled to discuss a scaled-down union wage offer designed to break the impasse before the Monday deadline for government action. The new development came as the government ordered fast dwindling steel supplies channeled to the nation's missile and atomic defense programs.

GOVERNMENT SUES

The government filed a civil anti-trust suit against General Motors Corp., charging that the auto makers' 1953 acquisition of Euclid Machinery Co. tends to create a monopoly in the billion dollar heavy earth-moving equipment industry. GM Chairman Frederick G. Donner fired back that it was "difficult to understand the position of the attorney general."

PRODUCTION SLOWS

Steel shortages slowed assembly lines of 1960 model car production for the first time and boosted layoffs at General Motors to the 60,000 mark or 20 per cent of GM's total employment. Ward's Automotive Reports said at least nine of Chevrolet division's 13 assembly plants are expected to close next week.

INDUSTRY SNAPS BACK

The auto industry, which in September, suffered one of its worst sales months in recent years, snapped back with its finest sales record since 1955 in the first ten days of this month on the strength of the new model cars, according to Ward's Automotive Reports.

Cuban Laws Linked To U.S. Interest

HAVANA (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal and Foreign Minister Raul Roa conferred Friday for the third time in two weeks, apparently on effects of Cuba's agrarian reform laws on American interests.

Details were not announced, but it seemed likely they discussed a U.S. State Department note delivered here Monday about payment for seized American-owned property.

A Washington spokesman Thursday denied reports that the note contained threats. Thursday night Prime Minister Fidel Castro told a television audience his Ministry of State had not received any note from the State Department.

Castro warned that if the United States acts against Cuba's sugar sales, "we will take the necessary countermeasures."

Washington State Department sources declined to comment on Castro's declaration.

There had been unconfirmed reports in Havana that the State Department note mentioned the possibility of the U.S. Congress revising the sugar quota law which gives Cuba the lion's share of the U.S. sugar market.

Under this law Cuba has been getting a guaranteed market for half or more of its sugar crop at the U.S. domestic price. This ranges considerably above the world price at which Cuba must sell the rest of its sugar, the island's economic mainstay. The 1959 basic Cuban quota in the United States in three million tons.

U.S. domestic producers and sugar men of other Latin-American nations have argued that Cuba's share of the U.S. market is too big, especially in view of attacks on the United States by the Castro regime.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stauffer-Temescal Co., affiliate of Stauffer Chemical Co. and Aerojet-General Corp., subsidiary of General Tire & Rubber Co. announced they have gone into a joint project to devel applications of tantalum and tungsten metal alloys for rockets

Land Baron's Death Gets Ruling Again

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — The death of millionaire land baron Myford Irvine — for the second time—was declared a suicide Friday.

Dist. Atty. Kenneth Williams said eight pathologists agreed, after examining Irvine's body, that he committed suicide by shooting himself three times.

The ruling climaxed a new investigation of the shooting which took place last January in the basement of the 58-year-old millionaire's home. Some members of the family questioned the original verdict of suicide. They contended that it would have been impossible for Irvine to have shot himself twice in the abdomen with a shotgun and once in the brain with a .22-caliber pistol. Detectives said he apparently fired the shotgun first, then loaded and fired the pistol.

Williams said his investigators are continuing to probe various facets of the case and expect to complete their work within a week. They have found nothing, he added, to indicate Irvine was murdered.

Williams said the pathologists arrived at a "common verdict" after a seven-hour examination of the body, exhumed by court order. The casket was out of its crypt 12 hours.

Irvine was one of California's biggest landowners. He was worth close to 100 million dollars. He headed the family owned 90,000-acre Irvine Ranch which covers one-sixth of rich Orange County.

Butcher Hog Prices Advance

CHICAGO (AP) — Prices for butcher hogs advanced as much as 15 cents a hundred pounds and sows sold steady to mostly 25 cents up on the Chicago market Friday.

Mixed No. 2 and 3 and mixed 1 to 3 grade butchers scaling 190-230 pounds sold from $13 to $13.25. A few No. 1s around 200 pounds brought $13.50, the top. Mixed 2s and 3s from 230 - 290 pounds brought $12.75 to $13.10 and a few selected lots of 2 scaling 240-260 pounds sold for $13.15. Mixed grade 1 to 3 sows scaling 300-425 pounds brought $11.25 to $12.25.

There was not enough slaughter steers or heifers among the 700 head of cattle to test prices. Other classes were fully steady.

A few lots of good slaughter sold from $24.50 to $26 and a few utility and standard brought $18 to $22.50. Utility and commercial cows brought $14.25 to $18.

Prices for slaughter lambs and ewes held steady. The bulk of good and choice 80 - 100 pound wooled lambs sold for $21, with a few choice and prime selling up to $22.

Bridegroom Causes Wildcat Strike At Factory

LONDON (AP) — Fifteen-hundred factory workers staged a wildcat strike here Friday — just because a young bridegroom wanted to spend the nights at home with his wife.

The trouble started when Tom Stevenson, 30, returned from his honeymoon and reported to work at a steel pressing factory in suburban Acton.

When single, Stevenson had been a night shift worker. Now his wife Eileen wanted him to change to days at work, nights at home.

The factory management agreed. And Stevenson started working daylight hours in the welding workshop.

But the other day shift men there didn't like it. They share out their aggregate bonus earnings and an extra man sharing in the pool would mean less money all around, they claimed.

Local union officials called a strike of all 1,000 day shift men at the factory and the maintenance men too.

They tried to get the night men out on strike but failed.

Bridegroom Causes Wildcat Strike At Factory

LONDON (AP) — Fifteen-hundred factory workers staged a wildcat strike here Friday — just because a young bridegroom wanted to spend the nights at home with his wife.

The trouble started when Tom Stevenson, 30, returned from his honeymoon and reported to work at a steel pressing factory in suburban Acton.

When single, Stevenson had been a night shift worker. Now his wife Eileen wanted him to change to days at work, nights at home.

The factory management agreed. And Stevenson started working daylight hours in the welding workshop.

But the other day shift men there didn't like it. They share out their aggregate bonus earnings and an extra man sharing in the pool would mean less money all around, they claimed.

Local union officials called a strike of all 1,000 day shift men at the factory and the maintenance men too.

They tried to get the night men out on strike but failed.

OF POLITICAL REPORTING

Solon Says Demos May Plan Judging

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) said Friday night that Democrats may be preparing to use a new congressional subcommittee to make the federal government a judge of impartial political news reporting.

Warning that next year the air "will be blue with political charges and counter - charges," Scott suggested to a group of Pennsylvania weekly newspaper publishers that 1960 be observed as "watch your Congress year."

Scott said a Democratic-sponsored subcommittee on freedom of information was created in the closing days of the congressional session. Scott said he was appointed to serve on it with two Democrats.

"This has been described as a 'watchdog' committee over radio and television," Scott said. He quoted one of the Democratic members as saying "there has been a long-standing feeling of lots of people that the handling of news hasn't been as impartial as it ought to be."

"This statement has an ominous ring," the senator told the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association.

"It raises the whole question of whether the federal government can be the judge of whether or not news is being handled impartially," he said.

Scott said while he would reserve judgment on the subcommittee's intentions, he was wary because 1960 is an election year and the Democrats "were the ones who dreamed up this 'watchdog.' "

"I have a feeling in my Republican bones that the Democrats feel it is only fair that since they have a two-to-one majority in Congress, they are entitled to two-to-one coverage in the news," Scott said.

He said "it is this type of activity" he hoped editors would watch for next year, when "issues will be obfuscated and candidates will be built up and torn down."

"The burden will be upon you to report the news, edit it and comment on it to help your readers make decisions that must affect the lives of every person in the nation," he said.

Bergman, Children Fly Home

Miss Bergman got an Italian court order to force the film director to surrender the children to her until their marital affairs are settled. But Rossellini tried to block it less than an hour before plane time with a warning to Italian police not to issue his son, Robertino, a passport.

Despite Rossellini's move, Italian officials permitted all three children to board the plane with Miss Bergman, and it took off without incident.

Miss Bergman told reporters at the airport that she plans "to keep the children for the whole winter as agreed" and will send them to an Italian school in Paris. She lives near Paris with her third husband, Swedish producer Lars Schmidt.

Under the agreement that followed the breakup of their marriage last year, Miss Bergman and Rossellini were to alternate in caring for the children. But Rossellini refused to return them as scheduled Aug. 25 because he said he feared they would not get a Roman Catholic education in Miss Bergman's Protestant household.

Archbishop Discusses Delinquency

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—J. Francis Cardinal McIntyre, Catholic archbishop of Los Angeles, charged yesterday the American progressive educational system is the basic cause of juvenile delinquency.

The system, he said, paves the way for Communism and at the same time has removed patriotism, philosophy and the natural law of right and wrong from the country.

The Cardinal was in New Orleans for the Holy Name Society convention.

"Modern education is fast developing in the youth of our time an incapacity to acknowledge and practice the positive life that flows from the observance of the natural and the divine law," he said.

"The primary source of respect and authority comes from God. By removing teaching of God from our public school systems over the nation we are removing all reason for authority and respect," the Cardinal added.

He criticized the National Education Assn. as an organization of strength fighting to keep teaching of the existence of God out of school and unconsciously is also fighting to enslave our whole nation.

"The NEA has 70,000 paid members all dominated by progressive education without God and that association is the greatest liability in Congress," he charged.

The Rev. Gilbert Graham of Chicago told convention delegates the most critical problems facing the Catholic Church today is the lack of priests, brothers and sisters.

Father Graham, vocations director of the Dominican order, said many youths miss their vocation because parents do not prepare them.

Barnett Talks To Miss. Group On Business

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — Gov.-elect Ross Barnett told the Mississippi Manufacturers Assn. Friday reciprocal agreements with Alabama and Louisiana are needed to put Mississippi's seafood business back on a firm footing.

Committing himself to help the coast, Barnett said Biloxi should be the shrimp and oyster capital of the world.

He promised to help in getting state aid for the port of Gulfport, saying "We can have a great seaport at Gulfport."

Mississippians have the opportunity to make great economic stride in the next four years, he added. He said he would like to see facilities in the state to refine the oil produced in the state, mills to process the two billion bales of cotton produced annually, and the idle acres of land in the state put in to raising timber.

Barnett said because of the tax structure of the state, many industries are locating in neighboring states. He called for a reduction in state income taxes to make the competitive with other southern states and to eventually abolish them.

He said he was strong for the right-to-work law, even though he had "a high regard for labor unions and what they have contributed to the state's social and economic welfare.

Policeman Wounds Wife, Kills Self

BOSTON (AP) — A Boston policeman shot and killed himself and wounded his wife and her lawyer Friday after a courthouse row in which the wife was awarded $50 weekly support.

Patrolman George Allen died at a hospital a few hours after the shooting. His wife, Mary, and her lawyer, Joseph Oteri, 28, son-in-law of Fire Chief Leo Driscoll, were taken to the same hospital.

A hospital spokesman said the condition of Mrs. Allen was critical. She suffered head wounds. Oteri's condition was not critical, although he apparently was shot three times.

Court attaches said Allen became enraged and argued loudly when Judge Robert Gardner Wilson Jr. ordered the $50-a-week temporary support. Mrs. Allen sought a separation.

Allen contended he was unable to pay the $50 out of his weekly $83 salary. A court officer finally ordered him from the courtroom.

Authorities Take Attacker Of Premier

BAGHDAD, Iraq (UPI)—Iraqi authorities were reported Friday to have captured the attacker who shot and wounded Premier Abdel Karim Kassem in Baghdad last week.

The report in the newspaper Al Bilad gave no indication whether the persons arrested were the same as those involved in Thursday's announcement by the government that a second plot against Kassem's life had been uncovered.

Al Bilad said "large quantities of weapons" had been found in the homes of "some of the plotters" and in other places in the city, but gave no further details.

Another newspaper, Al Akbar, urged the government to complain to the United Nations "against the United Arab Republic rulers before they perpetrate further plots."
